BITS and PIECES

ASSHOLE OF THE MONTH

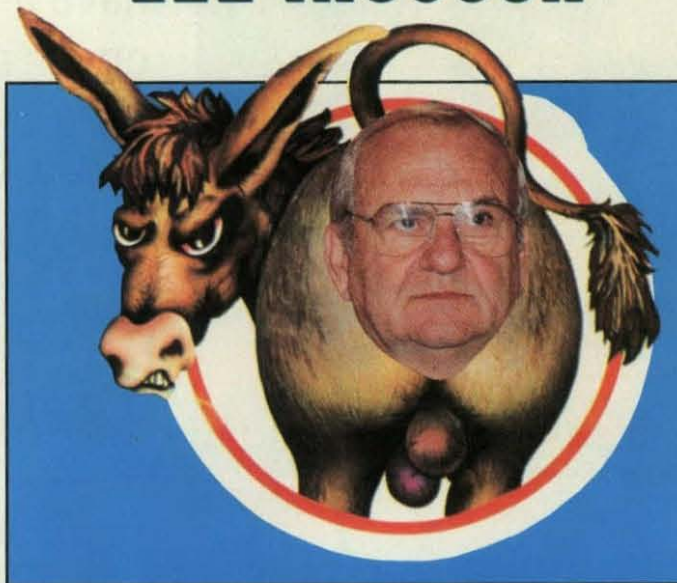

LEE IACocca

Being in the toilet is a very unenviable position, but more and more of us are expected to get used to it. The United States auto industry, for one, is hunkered down in the commode, which puts thousands of formerly hardworking Americans up against the porcelain and threatens millions more. And what's that coming over the rim? The cushy ass of Lee Iacocca, HUSTLER Magazine's Asshole of the Month for May 1992, settling down to seal out any breeze of hope and raining a thundering monsoon of shit into the upturned faces treading water below.

Lee Iacocca, 67-year-old chairman of Chrysler Corporation and former president of Ford Motor Company, enjoys being the man in the scat-bird seat. "If it works," he says, "give me the credit. If it doesn't, I'll take the rap."

Half true to his word, Iacocca is credited with being the "father of the Mustang," one of Ford's most successful models. He is less often hailed as the "mother who gave us the Ford Pinto," the largest-selling, four-wheeled gasoline bomb in history.

In the fallout of the Pinto blowup, Iacocca was shit-canned by Henry Ford II, but Chrysler—in the spirit of making nothing but mistakes at the time—picked up his option. Lee parlayed his post at Chrysler into a spot in the national limelight. He wooed the media in 1980 by cutting his own annual salary to one dollar per year. Lost in the fine print were a $1.5-million bonus Chrysler paid before Lee started work and a huge number of stock options.

With the help of a $1.2-billion loan from the U.S. government and the laying off of 56,000 employees, Iacocca's company turned a profit in the early '80s. Iacocca took home more than credit for what worked: He banked an estimated $46 million in a four-year period, became a TV celebrity, wrote a book about himself and, for one delirious moment, was even thought of as a candidate for President of the United States.

But Chrysler is again a losing venture, falling up to $1 billion shy of breaking even in 1991. "Yeah, I made a hundred-million-dollar mistake here and there," admits chairman Lee. "I mean, who cares? It's like petty cash." Perhaps to Iacocca a nine-figure fuckup is penny ante, but then in 1990 alone, with his car empire in a definite sag, Mr. Responsibility was paid $4.268 mill.

Iacocca has a plan for rebounding in 1992: "We've got to get the old Chrysler guy who for good reason departed—maybe we shipped him some crap—to come back."

Crap is a familiar theme in Iacocca's rhetoric. "We shipped a lot of crap in 1980," he admitted in a 1990 interview. "By 1985, it was much better." But not, to hear Lee tell it, much better for very long.

If cars were all the crap Iacocca shipped, he'd be only half a turd. Unfortunately, his mouth is a major manure distributor. Iacocca's solution for the U.S. economy? "We have to start living within our means," preaches Lee, an easy answer for a man who can afford to buy himself a $200,000 Italian sports car. The source of the American auto industry's dismal outlook? Crap aside, Iacocca points the finger at Japan.

"You've got to remind them to play fair," whines Iacocca. "We don't have access to their markets." Iacocca has yet to craft a sound bite that explains why a Tokyo Joe would want to buy a Chrysler, a car that many patriotically motivated Americans pass by.

If Iacocca's company wants fair play, they can start by being fair to the American car buyer, whose alternatives have too often been "Chrysler crap" or rice-burner tin.

The choice is even more difficult with cars such as Chrysler's Laser, an American car that is 70% Japanese. Iacocca thinks the U.S. government should do something about getting that percentage down. Perhaps the government should also step in and bail out companies, such as Chrysler, that increasingly seek Japanese money to stay afloat.

According to England's Economist newspaper, two-thirds of Mitsubishi Motors Corporation's U.S.-import quota goes directly to Chrysler, which sells the cars as if they were its own. Chrysler's stateside ventures with Mitsubishi have allowed the Japanese firm to forego the trouble of developing extensive distribution or servicing networks.

Iacocca is the best Yankee friend these Nipponese ever had. If Japan is a virus, then Iacocca is more than an Asshole. He's a disease carrier, infecting us all.

FARTS IN THE WIND

Orrin Hatch: The Utah Republican's prissy moralism has come back to bite him on the piles. Hatch was shrill and self-righteous when calling to crucify political foes linked to the BCCI banking debacle. Now, Orrin has been tied to the scam with letters he wrote to regulators on the behalf of BCCI weasels, letters signed: Yours Truly, Orrin Hatch—Asshole. Nick Navarro: As sheriff of Broward County, Florida, Nick Navarro has busted 2 Live Crew for talking dirty, taken Geraldo Rivera on a dope bust, set up a crack-cocaine laboratory at the county courthouse and generally wiped his ass on the Constitution. Screw publisher Al Goldstein ran against Navarro in an election for the sheriff's office. Our contribution to the campaign is one Asshole vote. Ariel Sharon: As Israeli Defense Minister, Sharon took Time magazine to court for reporting his role in the massacre of two Palestinian refugee camps in the early '80s. This was equivalent to Hitler suing for defamation of character. Sharon's first documented butcher job was the murdering of 70 villagers in 1953. His excuse: "I implemented orders that I got." Today, while Arabs and Israelis get nowhere in peace talks, Housing Minister Sharon is pushing 4,000 Israeli housing units into Jerusalem's Arab sector. They've taken him out of the military, but he's still a warring Asshole.

This week's cunttestant, Trixie, puts her pussy on the line against Gladiators Muff and Diver, who have a firm hold on the competition.

America's Gladi

Muff Maze:

Trixie will have just 60 seconds, and her sense of smell, to seek the Gladiator's furry fumes at the end of the labyrinth. Beware of the confusing cuntcoctions along the way.

Cunt & Peck

rewards the cuntestant who puts all her eggs in one basket. Trixie can use only her lovely butt cheeks to transport the chick embryos across a barnyard of perturbed peckers.

Uh-oh! Trixie spins away from Muff, only to bump beak-first into Diver, who splatters yolk on Trixie's nice, clean crack.

Leaping Labia:

More dangerous than a frat party. Trixie tries to avoid the rainbow blasts from the Gladiators' splooge guns, using nothing but her pussy for protection.

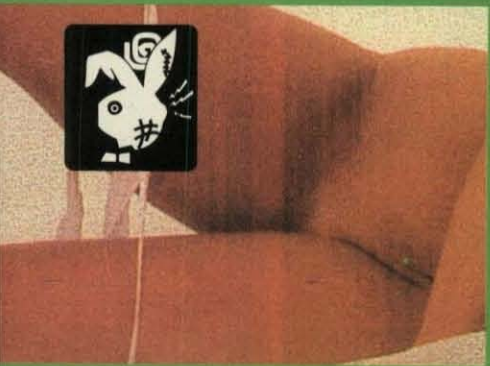

Trixie has survived the competition and now advances to the next round. But will she recover from the sight of next week's guest Gladiator?

A Tale of Two Beavers

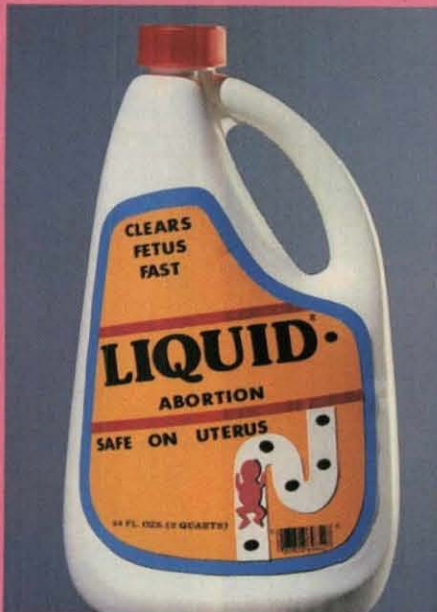

Bucky

the Beaver makes his triumphant return, to put the bunny in its place. On the left is an excerpt from a supposedly "nude" pictorial in the January 1992 issue of Playboy. The pussy has been completely censored, leaving this poor lass anatomically incorrect. On the right, a Honey from HUSTLER'S January issue appears in all her pink and pristine form. Which magazine delivers honest-to-goodness gash for your hard-earned cash?

The proof is in the Beaver.

BITCHIN' BITCHES

I'm writing to say I love HUSTLER and all the sexy bitches you show off. I've read HUSTLER for many years and have a big collection of your excellent mag.

I hate the feminist movement. I enjoy seeing super-sexy women strut their stuff. I'm writing to comment on the letter by R. S. of Salt Lake City, Utah ("Tongue Teaser," Feedback, January '92). Listen, Mr. R. S., maybe the sexy Jeanna Fine was just teasing the squares that watch Donahue when she badmouthed the porn industry. I agree with the guys at HUSTLER: It doesn't matter what any porn star says, as long as she loves to fuck and show off her body. The picture of Jeanna Fine playing with her pussy by her centerfold shot is an excellent example of the only behavior of hers I give a shit about (Jeanna Fine: Feeling Fine, November '91). Also, the Sybil and Roxanne pictorial (Sybil and Roxanne: Rub Up, January '92) comes to dick—I mean, mind....

Like I said, I really hate feminists and love HUSTLER and all the sexy bitches that show themselves in sexy, lewd and bitchlike ways. It's very important to me that the feminist movement is destroyed. In closing, let me just say keep up the great magazine that HUSTLER is and always will be, and give me more super-sexy bodies!

—D. F.

Muskegon, Michigan

CONSPIRACY THEORY

Why is it that I've never, ever seen Christy Canyon and Ebony Ayes appear together in a video or magazine? And why is it that Christy or Ebony never appear with the very biggest studs? Every time I see Dick Rambone in a book or video, he's humping some skinny, flat-chested gal, never a real woman like Canyon or Ayes. Ebony all too often appears with a guy who's hung like a mouse instead of a horse. Why can't the adult-entertainment industry get its shit together and have the real men appear with the real women and put on a real show instead of the travesties that are all too typical?

—A. B.

Springfield, Massachusetts

Apparently, A. B., you've simply scratched the surface of a massive international cover-up concerning Christy, Ebony, Dick and the entire porn industry. HUSTLER would like to help you out, but unfortunately we're in it just as deep. Maybe one day the truth can be told. You'd better lay low until then.

CROTCH CENTRAL

Hats off to HUSTLER! Sybil and Roxanne are the sexiest pair of latex-laden lovelies to crank a load of goo out of my serotal page-turner (Sybil and Roxanne: Rub Up, January '92). They are without a doubt the sexiest females I have ever laid eyes on. How about showing them again—only this time, let's see some bare-feet action! Keep up the good work.

P. S. Are Hot Letters real?

—B. J.

Tacoma, Washington

Hot Letters are bonafide epistolary carnality sent to HUSTLER by readers not afraid to sacrifice social mores for sexual rewards. If you've got a sexy tale to relate, send it in. Photos appreciated, but not required.

FEET FIRST

In November 1991's Feedback section, I noticed comment from Toronto, Ontario ("Out on a Limb," Feedback, November '91). I add my opinion to L. B.'s suggestion that HUSTLER show more bare feet in the future. Bare feet are what I look for when I buy a men's magazine. It seems silly when HUSTLER shows beautiful girls near swimming pools with high-heeled shoes or wearing stockings and boots, or lying on beds wearing spike heels. The beauty of a woman, in my opinion, starts with her feet.

ly top-rate. A reader who follows the Stroker's Guide can't go wrong. I must admit, I've strayed on occasion, lured by a box cover or the star power thereon, and have been royally upset over the waste of time and money. Thanks for bringing the genius of Buttman to my attention. He's truly the King. Keep giving us pictures of the newest porn pussies pounding the mattresses! And, HUSTLER, keep those all-American Beavers in Beaver Hunt coming! —E. Z.
Brooklyn, New York

I would like some information on how to find several videos that have been written about in HUSTLER's Erotic Entertainment section. The 1991 Holiday Issue had a piece about Gang Bang Girl #1, which I haven't found for sale or rent. I've also been unable to find either the Buttman or Dirty Debutante series. If you could send me some info on a video distributor or mail-order outlet that carries any or all of these, I'd appreciate it. Thanks. —A. S.
Knoxville, Indiana

According to HUSTLER EROTIC VIDEO GUIDE, Gang Bang Girl #1 has yet to find a distributor. The Buttman series is available from Evil Angel Video, 12229 Montague Street, Arleta, CA 91331, and the Dirty Debutante series from 4 Play, 10314 Norris Avenue, Arleta, CA 91331. Subscribe to the GUIDE and save yourself the hassle. Write our subscriptions department.

PEE SOLUTION

About the guy who claims to have discovered a surefire cure for the prevalent problem of pee dripping on a man's leg after urinating—how does he expect to change the male urethra ("Thomas A. Edison, Junior," Feedback, January '92)? Apparently this guy has never heard the old adage: "If you shake it three times, you're playing with it; but no matter how many times you shake it, the last drop always runs down your leg!" —R. R.
Hyannis, Massachusetts

WISH LIST

I've got a problem! HUSTLER Magazine's too tame for my tastes. I want to see 18" super-stud Long Dong Silver appear with Christy Canyon in an interracial tit-fucking set. Let's see Christy looking like she just had the shit fucked out of her by that foot and a half of hanging, dark meat. —M. T.
Hartford, Connecticut

I love HUSTLER, but I do have one suggestion. Could you possibly present older models in a ball-tingling situation? I'm very much attracted to sophisticated, older career women. I find them much more sensible and desirable than their younger counterparts. Please consider this! With older models, HUSTLER would be just about perfect. —A. V.
Los Angeles, California

I'm in prison and read HUSTLER avidly. I'm writing to ask if you would print a luscious blonde doing hard time with her equally luscious, redheaded cellie. I'm sure there are many inmates who'd crack a nut over it. —Moose
Mt. Sterling, Illinois

I'd love to see a squatting woman, legs spread, taking a healthy piss. I love it when a girl gets naked, squats over my face and shoots. I love to see piss coming out of a pussy, and it tastes good too. Please print such a picture. Maybe my girlfriend will get the hint. —G. C.
Diboll, Texas

I'd love to be pictured in HUSTLER fulfilling my lifelong dream with a hermaphrodite, one of the beautiful she-he babes of nature's creation. I don't care who knows either! I know for a fact that I could satisfy a hermaphrodite as much as she-he could me. —J. M.

Oklahoma City, Oklahoma

HUSTLER's my favorite, always was, always will be—but I'm missing two things. I love seeing naked women smoking cigarettes. Why don't you photograph a few of 'em now and then? I also like girls with tattoos. I'd appreciate a feature of both of these in a future issue. Call it Bad Girls. —K. A.
Hamburg, Pennsylvania

Everyone gets their wish at HUSTLER! Stay tuned for an arousing, future set featuring super-hung, black 50-year-olds pissing on smoking, tattooed hermaphrodites in prison!

Fear and hypocrisy have repressed sexual awareness, leading to the ignorance that spreads disease and creates violence, in addition to hindering our natural enjoyment of sex. This series opens the door to current sexual knowledge and expression, and improved love-making.

CAN'T BEAT BEATING: MASTURBATION COMES OUT SWINGING

BY DR. STROKE

Certain African tribes discouraged it by sewing shut a girl's vaginal lips or cutting out her clitoris, or inserting a wooden or ivory pin in the pierced penis of a boy. Witch hunters in the Middle Ages considered it proof of witchcraft, which could be cured only by flames at the stake. Western abhorrence to its practice in the Victorian era saw development of complicated restraining straps, sandpaper gloves and devices more typically associated with the barbaric restraints of London's notorious Bedlam insane asylum. Nineteenth-century, American dietary reformer Sylvester Graham touted the graham cracker as an organic means of lessening the nation's temptation for it. Makers of breakfast cereals advertised ordinary corn flakes the same.

Scientific researchers found it a thing to be studied, not scorned. Alfred Kinsey's landmark sex-practice studies in the 1940s and '50s declared it the second-most-important source of sexual gratification in the life of the average American male, after vaginal intercourse. It's the sexual activity most reliably leading to orgasm for women, according to Kinsey, and a regular and frequent activity in the lives of 92% of single males and 62% of single females.

What is it? Masturbation, of course. Otherwise known as choking the chicken, fondling the flounder, milking the monster, jerking the joint, gripping the groin, pounding the pud, yanking the crank, slamming the ham, whacking the weasel, lubing the tube, beating the boa, squeezing the cheese, pulling the plumbing, straining the vein, wringing the wad, misusing the membrane, flicking the dick and greasing the piece. Not to mention quality time spent with Mother Thumb and her four daughters.

Of course, all such childish terms are simply proof of Americans' inability to come to grips with this efficient and entirely convenient means of gratifying every man's foremost concern come Saturday night: getting his rocks off. Hand-humping has traditionally suffered from a reputation as the last resort of the orgasm. But these days, with a raging scourge of life-threatening diseases coursing through an undetermined number of bar-going circulatory systems, there's more risk than reward in plumbing strange fuckholes to satisfy a pathetic and strangely vital need to feel loved and belong. It's time to reassess the benefits of mankind's timeless, built-in means of self-help.

Thankfully for the legions of potential finger-fuckers too knucklebound to make it manually, Dr. Stroke, author of the onanist's handbook Everything You Ever Wanted to Know About Wanking but Were Embarrassed to Admit You Wanted to Know (Pointer Publishing Inc.), is putting to rest the pressing doubts and concerns that linger about this much-maligned practice.

Can too much masturbation kill a healthy man's desire for any greased tunnel other than the one created by his own fist?

Yes. The simple fact is that an undulating, slick, snug fleshtube that immediately responds to the slightest directional command brings more penises closer to orgasm and keeps them there longer than any hole with a mind of its own. Of course, any kind of sexual gratification can become psychologically addictive. Keep in mind that a sex addict accustomed to getting his fix at a singles bar risks the libido-shrinking nightmare of striking out. Masturbators, on the other hand, find that a willing date is always within easy reach.

Will masturbation make a person blind?

Blind is perhaps too strong a word. The fact that masturbators squint more than guys who bone chicks can be attributed to porn photographers' inability to grasp the focus functions of increasingly sophisticated, Japanese camera technology.

CHEEKS 5: THE ULTIMATE BUTT

Half Erect. Directed by Brandy Alexandre; starring Brandy Alexandre, Holly Ryder, Jenna Wells, Hillary Winters, Ashlyn Gere, Steve Drake, Rocco Siffredi, Randy West and Brad Everwood. Videocassette: Coast to Coast.

When Brandy Alexandre got the chance to direct her first feature solo (John Stagliano codirected De Blond and Blowing in Style), she knew there had to be some cop-fucking. "I'm a cop whore," she says. "It's the uniform, blue or dark black. Nazi motorcycle boots are the hottest thing in the world." For Cheeks 5, Alexandre cast herself as a bride late for her wedding who is pulled over by a cycle cop, played by an actual California police officer, who also happens to be Alexandre's married boyfriend. Weird camera angles and sunglasses keep his identity secret. As they fuck on his motorcycle, the cop hands her a billy club, and she pumps the baton in and out of her pussy and asshole. "I can handle anal when it's an object," she says, "but with a guy I worry about having an accident. I've heard too many horror stories." In another kind of horror story, Coast to Coast, on the advice of their attorneys, will cut the billy-club scene from the domestic release. The cop handing the baton to Alexandre might be interpreted as force. A hard-driving butt-fucking of Alexandre, however, will stay in. Plenty of facial cum-shots, an Alexandre trademark. ("Sometimes I like to get real close, and it hits my teeth and makes the neatest sound.") Ashlyn Gere ends a snarling pool-table fuck with a tongue full of Rocco Siffredi, and Hillary Winters gags on Steve Drake's load, spitting it out in a panic. There are a few minor glitches, no shot of Holly Ryder's huge clit chief among them, but overall not a bad directorial debut.

—Mal O'Ree

Alexandre is a cop whore.

Beaver: Morgan scares up some strokes.

Sexliners fails to stroke sexual vital signs.

Aja humps a Hunchback.

BEAVER RIDGE

One-Quarter Erect. Directed by Eric Edwards; starring Nina Hartley, K. C. Williams, Randy West, Britt Morgan, Mike Horner and Tom Thomas. Videocassette: VCA.

Eric Edwards directs videos the same way he acted in them—laid-back, with an occasional burst of carnality. This halfhearted effort about a ghost town called Pussycat Raunch is an example of his snoozy style. The best action is Randy West and K. C. Williams teaming up in the back of a motor home for a moist moving violation, with West dropping his load on her toes. Britt Morgan and Mike Horner, as a couple of the town's resident spooks, scare up some strokes with their spiritual slam. The rest is standard sexing that doesn't give gonads a ghost of a chance. —Sam Lowry

SEXLINERS

One-Quarter Erect. Directed by Jack Stephen; starring Raven, Raven Richards, Joey Silvera, Tom Byron, Amanda Stone, Marilyn Rose, Alicyn Sterling and Greg Rome. Videocassette: Cinderella.

By inventing a device that stimulates a woman's dormant lust genes, Joey Silvera is a doctor with a cock ready to roar. He and assistant Tom Byron tax the machine when Alicyn Sterling becomes a patient. Their three-way registers a healthy hard-beat, with Sterling getting a double dose of dick dew on her face. Silvera's three-pussy parlay with Raven Richards, Marilyn Rose and Amanda Stone features hearty humping, but the other crams direly need a testosterone transfusion. Most of Sexliners' operations fail to stimulate a stroker's sexual vital signs. —S. L.

HUNCHBACK OF NOTRE DAME

Half Erect. Directed by Paul Norman; starring Aja, Buck Adams, K. C. Williams, Kim Katain, Elyssa Jarrea, Ron Jeremy and Jonathon Morgan. Videocassette: Video Team.

With everything deformed but his dick, Buck Adams is Paul Norman's Hunchback of Notre Dame. Aja, as Esmerelda, nearly sucks Jonathon Morgan's balls through his cock before her cunt devours his cum in a scene guaranteeing spew in the audience in place of any missing on the screen. The movie's real beast is Jeremy; fat and hairy, he slobbers on two craven slits before stuffing his schlong into them. The sluts seem to enjoy it, but by the time he spurts on their stomachs, they're the only ones. Finally, Aja declares her love for the hideous "Modo" (Adams, not Jeremy) and rubs her snatch along his deformed spine. —Stepan Felchit

Half Erect. Directed by Eathen Mars; starring Paula Price, Eric Price, Heather Hart, Natasha, Stefani, Don Fernando, Jake Steed and Scott Tazer. Videocassette: Coast to Coast.

Built around an in-joke that casts Eric Price as Ed North, a slow-talking porn agent, Derrier is meant as a spoof of World Modeling honcho Jim South, the industry's main conduit of cunt. The attitude is smug and conceited, but the tape doesn't waste time. Paula Price pounces on Eric's meat in the opening seconds. While the title invites images of butt-burrowing, only the shit chute of Natasha gets galvanized, first in a DP with Jake Steed and Don Fernando, then in a closing cornholing, with Fernando and Scott Tazer taking turns racking her rump. Derrier is worth a slap or two. —S. L.

Derrier: Taking turns in Natasha's rump.

ADVENTURES OF MIKKI FINN

Half Erect. Directed by Jack Remy; starring K. C. Williams, Peter North, Ashlyn Gere, Jon Dough, P. J. Sparxx, Joey Silvera, Porsche Lynn, Britt Morgan and Rocco Siffredi. Videocassette: Caballero. Shot on film.

With her green eyes, natural tan and muscular but soft body, K. C. Williams can make cocks cream without moving—and that's how she's done it in most of her movies. This time out, as a wide-eyed country girl trying to break into the music business, Williams is one superior slut—first with a solo clit-wank and then with a face-sitting, cock-hopping hump with Jon Dough. Hard-rock slut Ashlyn Gere can't sing, but she squeals nicely when treated to rhythmic thrusts of stiff microphones. P. J. Sparxx squirms like a stuck bug on Rocco Siffredi's Italian timber. Sparxx shows great smut potential when she snarls, "You dirty bastard, lick my ass." Britt Morgan is her cum-eating self, taking thick volleys from Peter North. Veteran director Jack Remy is a master of the tease; the payoff is put on hold until Part 2.

—Switch Bulger

Finn: Williams is aptly named.

WHEN SEX WAS DIRTY

No HUSTLER Rating. Videocassette: Filmco Releasing.

When Sex Was Dirty stars the social-security set, screwing back when movies were black, white and silent. Blurry scenes show that sluts were still sluts, and dicks were hard and ready to drill them. While silicone tits and double-penetrated asses are absent among these porn pioneers, whips, chains and public fucking abound. The social risks these players took give their fucking an unrehearsed heat that today's San Fernando Valley veterans never duplicate. Historical coo clips are great for people too proper to watch ordinary spurting events. Just don't imagine that it might be Grandma.

—S. F.

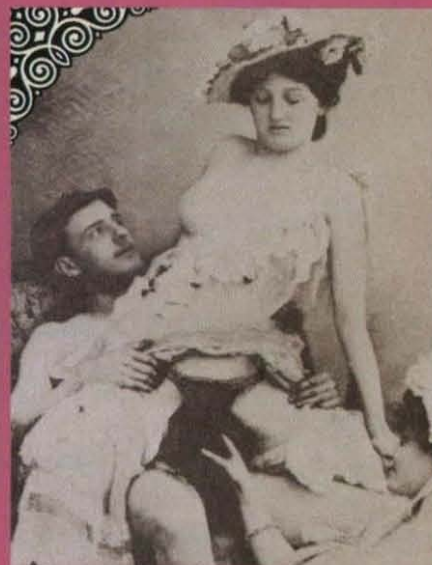

BODY TRIPLE

One-Quarter Erect. Directed by Charlie Putce; starring Holly Daze, Scarlett La Rue, Penny Lane, Arcie Miller, Sean Michaels, Tony Montana, Mick E. Pop and Eric Price. Videocassette: VCA.

A rich motherfucker dies, leaving his wife and servants to fight over his $200-million estate. His will stipulates that each of them must pick a playing card; whoever matches up with the highest poker hand gets the money. The only ace is Holly Daze. A blond slot with a sheen of sleaze from head to toe of her soft, white body, Daze has found her true calling as a cock-crazed video slut. She gets on top and screams for Tony Montana to pinch her nipples, "hard!" He cranks her nubs up to the ceiling. She could handle mousetraps. Scarlett La Rue stays in the game with a slobbery blowjob on Eric Price's joker, but the rest of the players can't match Daze's raise.

—M. O.

Get off on Dirty sex with Grandma.

ANAL NATION 2

Big-boned blonde Kelly Blue arrived from Australia as a Down Under version of the girl next door, with the seeming naivete of a country girl. If Anal Nation 2 is any indication, Blue has transformed herself into a mass of hair extensions, huge, fake tits and slutty lingerie, with a strutting-groupie attitude. She's ripe for a load of stroke juice, but director William Black mutes all the action with an easy-listening soundtrack, exchanging the moans and groans of sex for a new-wave orchestra. It would have helped had Black cast real butt girls. Aside from Bianca, none of these like it in the ass, and Blue doesn't even bend over.

—M. O.

Daze likes her Body pinched.

Tales: Viper gets stuffed.

TIT TALES 3

Half Erect. Directed by Loretta Sterling; starring Trinity Loren, Jamie Leigh, Leanna Foxxx, Jeannie Pepper, Charisma, Saki (a/k/a Satina), Kassi Nova, Viper, Rod Garetto, Tom Chapman and Joey Silvera. Videocassette: Filmco.

Trinity Loren, Jamie Leigh and Leanna Foxxx keep their tongues, twats and tits busy while introducing the five loops that make up this third installment of Loretta Sterling's Tit Tales series. The opener features Jeannie Pepper applying clothespins to Charisma's nipples and cunt lips, then dripping hot candle wax onto Charisma's silicone-fortified chest. In the finale, Viper crams four fingers into Saki's hot box, while Kassi Nova sticks a finger in Saki's butt and drools all over Viper's twat. Viper stuffs two, then three dildos into her own gaping hole and almost takes Saki's humongous tit in her twat as well before shoving a fourth dildo up her shitter. The heterosexual stuff is tame by comparison: Saki gets a mouthful from Garetto, Silvera dumps a load on Foxxx's surgical enhancements, and Chapman fucks Loren's all-natural titties.

—Augie Michaels

FUCK CENSORSHIP

From the street it looks like migrant farm workers demonstrating for better field conditions, except for the words on the placards: "There's Nothing Immoral About This Body," "Save the Bill of Rights," "XXX Out Censorship." Interspersed among the pickets are women of questionable character in tight clothes...and Ron Jeremy! The site is the sidewalk in front of the Federal Building in West Los Angeles, and the nearly 900 picketers, mostly warehouse and office workers bused in from Porn Valley by the adult industry's major manufacturers, are protesting the government's assault on pornography and freedom of expression. Stars on hand included Nina Hartley, Aja, Christy Canyon, Taylor Wane, Hyapatia Lee and Madison, looking every bit a '60s hippie chick. Organized by the Adult Video Association and the Free Speech Legal Defense Fund, the idea was to get on the evening news and increase public awareness of the dangers of censorship. The immediate reaction of passersby was "spectacular," according to Gloria Leonard, who spearheaded the protest. "We're going to do this kind of thing more often," Leonard promises. "The government is going to learn that the public wants what we offer." The FSLDF, incidentally, is considering running Leonard as a candidate for President to generate publicity for the free-speech cause.

The Girls of Silicone Valley

(Filmco Video) crosses the line from foolish to ghoulish. Up to this point, Loretta Sterling's video assaults upon attractive sexuality have ranged from the sublime to the asinine, veering often to the inane. Fat ladies have been Sterling's mainstay, augmented with sex-change grotesqueries and Ron Jeremy.

With one slice of the surgeon's knife, Silicone Valley severs its ties to Loretta's past silliness. Valley features six sex scenes, divided among a trio of genetically flat-chested strumpets. Each of the three appears in two clips: one a no-tit boff, the other a contrasting, surgically inflated fuck. The sex is sleazy, wet and anal, but nothing special.

The gimmick of Silicone Valley is the surgery itself. Snuck in toward the end of the tape is an unflinching look at scalpel-wielding medicos cutting open a nipple as if coring a blood-filled apple. As if this patently disturbing visual were not harrowing enough, Jerry Butler babbles on the soundtrack, interviewing a 20-year-old smut starlet on the high points of her own plastic surgeries.

The doctors take an instrument that resembles a dainty toilet plunger and shove it down through the nipple hole into the interior mammary with much the same motion and ferocity that an angry plumber uses when clearing a particularly foul, clogged commode. Despite the claims of progress made by medical science, it is a brutish, crude operation. Flesh seeps out of the incision like stuffing from a cracked car seat. Indeed, the typical Tijuana upholsterer shows more finesse than this tit enhancer.

The truly nauseating aspect of this filmed operation, and the Food and Drug Administration's recent consideration of banning silicone implants as being dangerous to life and boob alike, is that nothing will deter a stream of 19- and 20-year-old, level-chested lovelies from plunking down two grand (or less!) to have their breasts pumped up and set like twin bowling balls.

BLOW OUT

One-Quarter Erect. Directed by Hy Lancewood; starring Leanna Foxxx, Charisma, Rustie Rhodes, Sonja, Leilani, Daphne, Susie, Shawna, Ron Jeremy, Cal Jammer and Tom Chapman. Videocassette: Video Exclusives.

This smorgasbord of sex starts with big-busted Charisma getting her beaver trimmed and then stuffed, but it's all downhill from there. Other treats include Rustie Rhodes (with an ugly ring in her nose) swallowing sausage, Foxxx wearing watermelon-sized artificial boobs that look like they should have a Goodyear logo on the sides, and six girls roasting Jeremy's wienie. Unfortunately, whoever catered this party left out an essential ingredient: heat! —A. M.

Blow: Stamp Goodyear on these babies.

A LITTLE IRRESISTIBLE

One-Quarter Erect. Directed by Henri Pachard; starring Napoleon, Debi Diamond, Melanie Moore, Raven, Buck Adams, Alicyn Sterling, Marc Wallace and Holly Ryder. Videocassette: Zane.

Give Napoleon credit. He's a midget, but he's got a bigger cock than Jerry Butler, comes more than Randy West and is better-looking than Ron Jeremy. Here he plays a record mogul named Sir, who's about to steal some talent away from Buck Adams, an egotistical producer. While most of the fucking is fairly flaccid, the Marc Wallace/Melanie Moore meeting of cock, cunt and crapper is a priapic pleasure. The Adams/Debi Diamond bar-top balling and Napoleon's rut of Raven never fully ignite, making this tape more than a little Irresistible. —S. L.

Napoleon is more than a little Irresistible.

AMERICAN BUTTMAN IN LONDON

Half Erect. Directed by John Stagliano; starring Misty McCaine, Carla Jane, Louisa Armani, Carrie Jones, Louise Drysden, Sarah Walker, Rocco Siffredi, Simon Santana, Bob Harrison and Linzi. Videocassette: Evil Angel.

Outside, a full moon looms in the dark night. Inside, Buttmán is jerking off to British skin magazines. He has hundreds of them in a huge box. "They care about butts," Buttmán says, out of breath. "I gotta go to England." And so he goes, taking in the view of fine British bums from Soho to Piccadilly. These babes aren't the world's prettiest, but when they bend over and show off their knickers, it's time for punters to start wanking. These trappy tarts have great butts, most of them sport tremendous boobies, and a couple are pure guttersnipes. The best moment is when two giggling gins pull down Rocco Siffredi's pants in a stairwell. A mixture of awe and foreboding in their eyes, they pull back the waistband of his shorts to look inside. Scenes like this make it a fun trip, with lots of laughter and friendly fucking, but director John Stagliano's disdain for editing ruins the vacation.

—M. O.

gy. Medical researchers have found that readers of Playboy and Penthouse squint most of all, ultimately losing sight of any reason to masturbate. Readers of HUSTLER Magazine, however, often exhibit an ophthalmological phenomenon Dr. Stroke calls "eyes bugging out of their heads." The condition quickly leads to a prodigious display of projectile ejaculate.

What about hair growing on the palms?

The origins of this peculiar myth no doubt lie in the fact that a perambulating fist dripping with grease is a natural magnet for untethered pubic hairs.

Does beating off make a person crazy?

Often a productive session of masturbation leads a practitioner to consider himself or herself insane to have ever spent the time and trouble landing a live one. Consider testimony from Jane F., a 20-year-old secretary from Hermosa Beach, California. She states: "One night, without a magazine or any significant mental picture, I achieved, with the aid of an electronically enhanced, banana-shaped dildo, an orgasm so intense that a sizzling puddle of pussy juice leaked through a quarter-inch, rubber mattress protector and ruined my brand-new Sears queen. No man in my experience ever managed to satisfy me as thoroughly. With half the time and effort of pumping cock, I reached the acme of female sexuality."

Some might find it tragic that Jane, who is a mind-blowing knockout with an hourglass figure, legs that could straddle Manhattan and red hair to die for, has removed herself from one-on-one encounters with the men of her choice. But the intrepid masturbator doesn't give a hoot how Jane gets off. He's content to flog his dick through his pants at the mere sight of her—glimpsed, perhaps, through high-power binoculars.

Can a jar of lubricant be considered a significant other?

The empty jar of lubricant with which one has spent a month or two of good times is never easy to discard. A masturbator should be urged, however, not to grow fond of his collection of empties. Make a clean break and be done with it.

Is it hygienic to eat with the same hand one uses to masturbate?

Eating in bed is never considered hygienic. Besides, you'll need your other hand to turn the pages.

Does a guy need to be taught to masturbate, or can he just pick it up?

The demonstrated ignorance of masturbation techniques has long been considered a sign of mental retardation. Dr. Stroke urges anyone who draws a blank figuring out how to jack himself to refrain from operating any kind of machinery, for society's sake.

Is it socially acceptable to brag about Saturday night's jerk session at the office Monday morning?

Certainly! Nothing will help bring masturbation out of the black hole of America's collective imagination better than public reminiscences the morning after. Computer expert John Thompson relates the first time he shared shank-shaking shenanigans at the office water cooler: "I was more proud than nervous," he admits. "Naturally, the guys I work with reacted at first with disgust. The women of the office stomped off before I could get it all out. But a couple of associates hung around. They told me afterward how grateful they were to hear my tale of solitary sensuality. They didn't have to feel like freaks anymore. Now we make it a point to meet each other every week or so, just to compare notes and introduce each other to our latest flames. That is, the ones we can unfold without tearing the paper."

Will masturbating make my cock any bigger?

It can't make it any smaller, that's for sure.

Will masturbating make me a fag?

Not if you're a fag to begin with.

Does the fact that a man is circumcised interfere with a good jerking off?

Sex researchers William Masters and Virginia Johnson say there is no difference between the sensitivity of circumcised and uncircumcised penises. Fuck them. With the loss of the foreskin, the male loses a natural gliding mechanism that makes extraneous lubrication obsolete. With a foreskin, it's possible for the erectile body of the shaft to move back and forth within the loose outer skin. Circumcision causes a tightening of the outer skin of the penis. This has an effect on masturbation in more ways than one. The natural mucous membrane of the uncircumcised male is a natural fucktube. With it, a masturbator is able to complete his mission without touching the glans. Also, the head of an uncircumcised penis collects smegma. Dick cheese, in a tight squeeze, works just dandy as a Vaseline substitute.

What if one chooses to fuck inanimate objects instead of one's fist? Is this healthy masturbation, or an unforgivable violation of nature?

In Philip Roth's novel Portnoy's Complaint, the title character furtively fucks a fresh piece of raw liver. The author, and most of America, appeared to consider it the debased act of a sexual pervert. Dr. Stroke has never tried to fuck liver. He attests, however, that a greased fist is about as good as it gets—although the memory of a certain romantic experience with a bowl of warm chocolate pudding will forever haunt his dreams.

I'm a confirmed masturbator. As I grow older, will arthritis mean the end of my sex life?

Unfortunately, yes. So give all you can to the Arthritis Foundation. Maybe there will be a cure in our lifetime. Until then, Dr. Stroke's advice is to keep beating like there's no tomorrow. 🍆

THREWAY ON THE FREEWAY

I'm a traveling salesman; so I rack up a lot of miles on the road. I've never been married. Heck, I've never even had a steady girl. Life on the road is just too commanding, but it does give me plenty of time to fantasize.

Last week I had just begun the monthly Chicago to Springfield run, driving down the I-55, when a black Camaro with the prettiest pair of females pulled alongside me. I first noticed the auto's passenger. Her long, blond hair waved like a sex banner in the warm, spring air. Her sculpted features must've been of Swiss origin, and her loose tank top flapped open occasionally to reveal the profile of stout tits. The driver was a robust brunette with dark, brooding features. The two mesmerized me. I forced myself to look back to the road, even though staring at these two beauties seemed worth the risk of an accident.

I kept the pedal to the floor of my Tracer, just to keep up. I dreamed about what it would be like to fuck these two goddesses. I looked over. The brunette driver stared at me with a smile. Her thick, pink tongue slid across pearly white teeth. She poked at her passenger, and the gorgeous blonde also smiled, grabbing her healthy chest through the light-pink material. She laughed with her head swayed back and flirtily pulled her top aside to flash her tanned right breast. A nipple stared at me like a magician's hypnotic eye.

I nearly rear-ended a semi, swerving to the left and then back in front of it, just to drive again alongside my fantasy babes. The blonde tried to speak, but the wind drowned her out; so she motioned for me to follow them off the freeway, ironically at the exit to Romeoville.

I followed their car to a side street under the freeway. Traffic roared overhead. I parked and walked to the window.

"Hi," the brunette smiled. "You look like you could use a jump."

"I've been driving all day," I said, wiping my eyes as if in a dream.

"Get in," cooed the blonde. I climbed into the backseat. No more words were exchanged. The two nymphs undid my belt and slid the slacks down my legs. With each of their mouths perched on either side of my cock, their lips met, like a bun surrounding an all-beef dog. Together, and in one motion, they moved their mouths up and down my shaft, keeping their lips pressed together and flicking their tongues as they went.

The thought alone of what they were doing almost made me blow, but it was too soon. I was determined to make this feeling last. The blonde pulled her miniskirt up and diddled her naturally furry bush. Her head bobbed up through the open sunroof as she lowered her twat onto my swollen cock. Her pussy muscles tensed with every downward thrust, as if her cunt was a hand, holding onto my dick for dear life.

The brunette moved to the front of the car and unscrewed the knob of the stick shift. She positioned herself on top of the instrument and slowly buried the cold, steel pole inside herself. She reached around to tweak the tiny, pointed nipples of the blonde, and now each of their heads poked up and down through the sunroof, like pistons in an auto's engine. Leaning back between the front bucket seats, with my feet perched upon the dashboard, I relaxed and let the thought of these two beauties do the work. I closed my eyes and heard truck horns blare, the drivers obviously envious.

A trickle of juice rolled down my shaft. The blonde moaned and squeezed my balls with her free hand. Her pussy clenched my cock like a firm handshake. She then stuck her tongue down my throat and pulled herself up and off me. The brunette climbed off the stick shift and onto my own. The rhythm of her ribbed inner-twat maintained the same pace on my cock as the other had set. The blonde positioned her bright-pink gash over my face and started grinding. Arching her back, she pressed her mouth against the brunette's. They parted, and a stream of saliva clung like semen to their lips. The saliva trickled out of the blonde's mouth and onto my wrinkled shirt.

I grabbed the brunette's pear-like hips and pulled her off of me, while bringing the blonde's mouth to my crotch. I sat up. The first stream of semen exploded past her face and onto the dashboard, as the two girls lapped like Spaniels on my balls. Stream after stream flushed the front of the car, smearing the steering wheel and obscuring the odometer. Droplets careened off the rear-view mirror and onto a Madonna cassette tape that jutted out below. I closed my eyes in ecstasy.

I heard another honk and looked to my right. A driver of a semi looked down upon me and blew his horn, flashing a toothless smile. I suddenly realized that I was still on I-55. I looked to my left. The two babes in the black Camaro laughed and pointed at the mess I'd made in my car. I slowed down, hoping they would pass so that I could get my dick back in my pants.

I slowed my speed and wiped thick, white chunks of semen from the steering wheel. The girls fully faded from my sight. I wiped some sperm off the dash and lit a cigarette. The drive to Springfield was more relaxed from that point forward, as it always is. The life of a salesman needs its little highway perks, and those two beauti-

BAKERY FUN

Earlier this summer I took a job at a local bakery to help buy a new set of riding crops that had been stolen from my dad's stables. The bakery manager put me on late shifts. I wouldn't have had it any other way.

Her name was Annabelle, and she was a Southern girl right off the steps of Tara. She was at least ten years older than me and wore a frilly, lace dress that silhouetted her firm, petite body. Her sandy-brown hair cascaded over her shoulders onto a hat that hung 'round her neck. She had the softest-looking mouth, framing a set of lips that parted like the Red Sea when she spoke.

"A dozen jelly doughnuts, please," she said in that smooth-as-silk, Southern style.

The new batch wasn't quite ready, and I offered her a free soda while she waited. I told her a couple jokes to pass the time, and after one in particular that concerned a pygmy and an umbrella, she laughed so hard that soda spewed out of her nose, staining her lovely white dress.

I apologized and led her to the back room to wash out the stain. She dabbed at the stain, which had conveniently settled directly over an already attentive nipple, and as the vat of jelly bubbled nearby, she held out her kerchief and said liltingly, "Would you be so kind as to blot this for me?"

I took the cloth and blotted at the outline of her melon-sized breasts. What began as a blot grew into a caress, which evolved into a full-fledged grope. I slid my hand underneath her lace petticoat and cupped the roundest little butt I had ever felt.

When she bit at my neck, I knew it was all right to continue; so I swung her up onto the counter. She pulled her dress slowly, teasingly past a light-blue garter and up her torso. The sweet smell of fallopian flow pierced my nostrils as I lapped at her white-lace panties. She slid them down, and I immersed myself within the tender, pink folds of her delicious cherry tart.

After a moment, I felt a trickle of liquid slide onto my top lip, but it wasn't from her pussy. My eyes peered up, and I saw she had dipped her fingers into the cooling vat of red jelly and was letting it drip down her belly toward my face. I dipped my hand into the vat and stuck two fingers inside her pussy, smearing her pink with red goo. I then let my tongue seek the hidden prize.

"Oh, yeah, eat me like a tart," she moaned. I lapped harder. She picked up a custard éclair that sat on a tray nearby. Her ample bosom heaved in and out, and her hand choked the cream from the pastry, splooging it onto her chest. She rubbed the lactating goody into her alabaster skin, then reached again into the jelly and smeared more handfuls of the chum onto her belly. She looked like a living, breathing cherry pie, and I had grown terribly hungry.

I pulled her off of the counter and thrust her to the floor, on top of a sack of sugar. I shoved three glazed fingers into her snatch before burying my cock deep within her creamy center. With each outward thrust, more bright-red jelly squirted from her swollen crevice. She grabbed another éclair and shoved it down her throat, smearing her face with bright-yellow cream. She pulled me to her face. Our lips met in a moment of saccharin passion. I nearly slid off her body from the friction our fucking created. At last she squealed and, turning nasty, implored, "Come down my throat, like a gentleman!"

On command, I pulled my sticky shaft from her pussy and moved up to her head. Her fingernails tore into the bag beneath, spewing sugar all around. I crouched over her face and, with her mouth open wide enough to see the jelly still in her throat, splashed her tonsils with a load of creamy-white sperm. The excess spew careened off her chin and sprayed her powdered chest. She grabbed and coated my wet prick with powdery sugar, then lapped my cock like a child does a sucker, while grabbing my ass and pulling me farther down her throat. We were barely recognizable, covered in gobs of dairy products.

At some point the service bell rang up front, and I suddenly remembered where I was. I ignored the bell, and we rinsed off our naked bodies with several gallons of whole milk that my boss stored in the fridge. The place was wrecked, and we snuck out the back of the shop, leaving it open for any lucky customer's whims. Needless to say, I didn't return for my final paycheck, but I figured I came out all right in the end.

Jimmy Swaggart's Judgment Day:

Trial by Fire

Court Reporting by Mark A. Taylor
Fornicating preachers
don't go to hell anymore;
they just sue each other.

ILLUSTRATION BY CHARLES WALLACE

TRIAL BY FIRE

Swaggart, as was his custom, raised his eyes to heaven. Judging from the outcome of the trial, the man upstairs wasn't laughing.

When, on a sticky Louisiana afternoon in August of 1991, televangelist Jimmy Swaggart took the stand in a $90-million defamation suit brought against him by longtime rival and ex-fellow Assembly of God evangelist Marvin Gorman, music from a New Orleans-style funeral parade floated on the fetid, Cajun stink through the open courtroom window in the Parish of Orleans.

Coincidence could not have provided a more appropriate soundtrack to the occasion. Inside the courtroom, Swaggart's lifelong ministerial career was sinking fast.

Swaggart didn't appear to notice the tune. The music, however, was not lost on the jury. One of them tapped his toe. Another closed her eyes and gently swayed. Scattered bystanders woke from dozing. Apparently, the spirits representing law and order were riding high that day.

For more than eight weeks the ears of this Louisiana courtroom burned with stories of sexual conquests and illegitimate children, handjobs and heavy petting, coerced sexual intercourse and lesbianism. They heard tales of dirty tricks, lies, conspiracies and cover-ups and suffered through witness-box bouts of amnesia rivaling Ronald Reagan's memory lapses during the Iran Contra investigations. And all from self-proclaimed disciples of Christ.

Acclaimed lawyer Hunter Lundy, one of defrocked-minister Marvin Gorman's attorneys, approached the stand, prosecutorial—not evangelical—fire in his eyes. "Would you please tell the court your full name and where you live?" he asked Swaggart, who gripped the box like he was facing the Devil himself.

"My name is Jimmy Swaggart," declaimed the TV-familiar, deep, baritone voice, issuing from the witness stand as from any other pulpit.

"Where do you live?"

"Baton Rouge."

"Your address?"

Swaggart responded with less than God-sent authority. "I think it's somewhere on Highland Road."

"Would you please tell the court your street address?"

"Well, this may sound odd," said Swaggart, placing his hands neatly in his lap,

"but I've never learned my street address. I've never taken the time to learn it. I have made it a point not to remember numbers." He paused, and his eyes rolled upward. "As a man of God, I spend most of my time dealing with matters of the spirit."

Swaggart clearly intended to imply that he was on a higher spiritual plane than most mortals. When one walks with God, he meant to say, it is not necessary to know one's street address.

The holier-than-thou pronunciamento failed to elicit its intended response. In the front row of the courtroom, Marvin Gorman slapped his knee and laughed out loud. Even usually subdued Judge Julian I. Bailes could not restrain himself. His stern composure cracked, as it had many times during the trial, into the expression of an entertained spectator of a pageant in which two of the most eccentric public figures in America competed for the booby prize.

Swaggart, as was evidently his custom on every occasion, raised his eyes to heaven. Judging from the outcome of the trial, the man upstairs wasn't laughing.

No one knows exactly when or what started the rivalry between these two Louisiana preachers, but even before this court battle began, Jimmy Swaggart and Marvin Gorman had paid dearly for it. Their feuding turned two respected media personalities into internationally known clowns, humiliated their wives and families, and destroyed their churches, obliterating the sources of spiritual sustenance for thousands of God-fearing Christians. In Swaggart's case, the business damage totaled hundreds of millions of dollars, and in Gorman's case, the total was in the tens of millions. The spiritual damage in both cases is known only to God. In the wake of both men's earthbound venality, the Assembly of God's evangelical movement became a byword for morally corrupt and sexually deviant demagoguery.

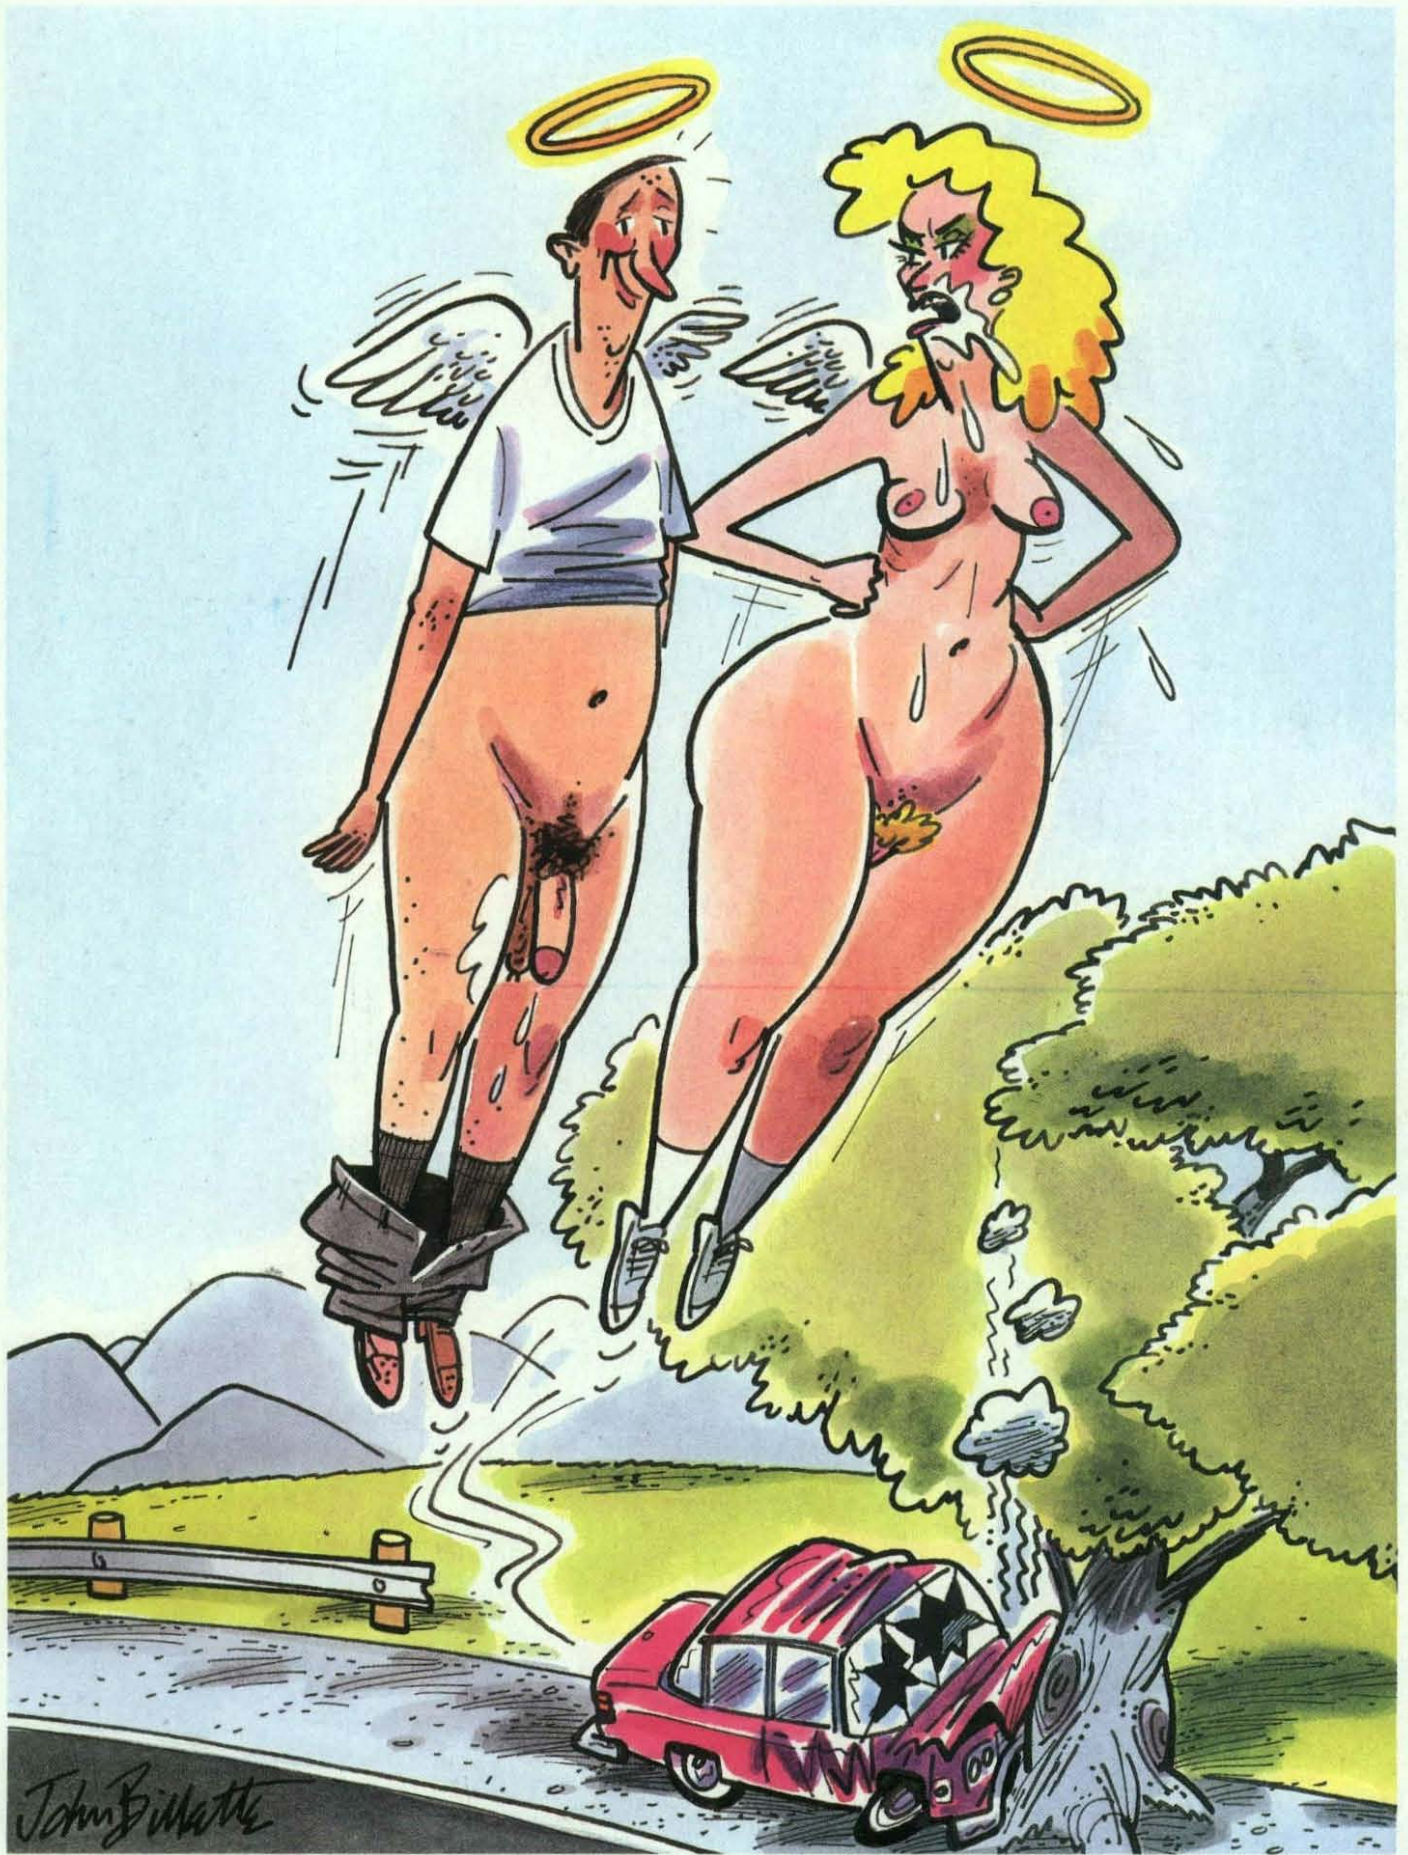

Round one of the public battle surfaced in 1986 when Swaggart ruined Marvin Gorman and his fast-growing Marvin Gorman Ministries by publicly accusing him of adultery with a virtual harem of female parishioners, including an Assembly of God minister's wife. The resulting public outcry sounded the death knell to Brother Marvin's evangelism. Admitting to only one extramarital affair, Gorman reluctantly stepped out of the pulpit, a move that forced his ministries into bankruptcy.

In the winter of 1987, the defrocked Marvin Gorman returned the favor. With evangelical aplomb, he blew the whistle on Swaggart's extracurricular dallies with a local working girl. Gorman obtained photographic evidence of Swaggart and prostitute Debra Murphree cavorting in a run-down motel and turned the photos over to the Assemblies of God high presbyterate leadership.

Few can forget the infamous TV news-bite of Swaggart begging for forgiveness, his face contorted with sodden stage makeup and tears.

Four days later, Swaggart stood before his congregation, admitted to an unspecified sin and announced he was stepping down from the pulpit. Few can forget the infamous TV news-bite of Swaggart begging for forgiveness, his meaty face contorted with sodden stage makeup and tears.

Within days of his confession, Swaggart's TV viewership dropped from 2 million viewers a week to less than half a million. His ambitious building program at his World Ministries complex in Baton Rouge ground to a halt. The planned opening of his Bible college was postponed indefinitely. Swaggart laid off hundreds of workers. Incredibly, through God's grace or the Godlike charity—or unwitting obedience—of his fleeced flocks, Swaggart still preaches to an estimated quarter of a million viewers. He also leases office space to the state of Louisiana and the federal government, an activity that accords him the dubious honor of being the most powerful landlord in the state.

After four years of legal haggling and delays, the $90-million defamation suit Gorman filed against Swaggart in 1987 got under way in Judge Julian I. Bailes's civil courtroom in New Orleans. Gorman's civil suit maintained that Swaggart used the unsubstantiated rumors of fornication in 1986 as a smokescreen for a nefarious, well-orchestrated campaign to systematically destroy Gorman's ministry. Swaggart maintained that everything he said about Gorman was true, and that his actions against Gorman were directed by and in the proper context of the Assembly of God's disciplinary process for ministers.

Whether or not Swaggart and his lackeys were guilty of slandering and defaming Gorman, Swaggart was immediately found guilty of egomaniacal verbosity. On the witness stand, Swaggart's harried attorneys repeatedly pleaded with him to answer questions briefly and directly. In spite of their intervention, the braggart Swaggart could not keep quiet. Again and again, he filibustered from the witness stand. His use of extreme dilatory tactics appeared to be an attempt to delay the proceedings.

When at last Judge Bailes was compelled to admonish him to answer the questions without adding religious parables, anecdotes and personal experiences, Swaggart finally paused for breath. Every sweaty juror and spectator in the oppressive, humid courtroom expected a break—until Swaggart unrepentantly replied: "I'm sorry, Your Honor, but I'm a preacher, and when a preacher gets an opportunity to preach to a group of people, he sometimes can't help himself."

Again, the courtroom erupted in laughter. Indeed, outbursts of hilarity and outright derision at all times threatened to undermine the seriousness of the charges brought against Jimmy Swaggart. Gorman's attorney, Hunter Lundy, made a valiant attempt to redirect the court's attention to the central issue of the case: that the defendants—Swaggart, his wife, Francis, and a handful of Swaggart's close associates—conspired to topple Marvin Gorman's once-flourishing television ministry by spreading the false rumor that Gorman had engaged in adulterous affairs. As evidence, he confronted Swaggart with more than 20 letters Swaggart had written to high church leaders around the country after Gorman had voluntarily stepped down. These Swaggart-penned character assassinations included the much-told allegations of Gorman's womanizing and accused Gorman of trying to save face by lying about his transgressions.

For three days of testimony, Swaggart claimed to have no recollection of letters he had authored attacking Gorman. He had no memory of conversations during which he discussed Gorman's sins, and he maintained he had never done anything to Brother Gorman, except attempt to help him.

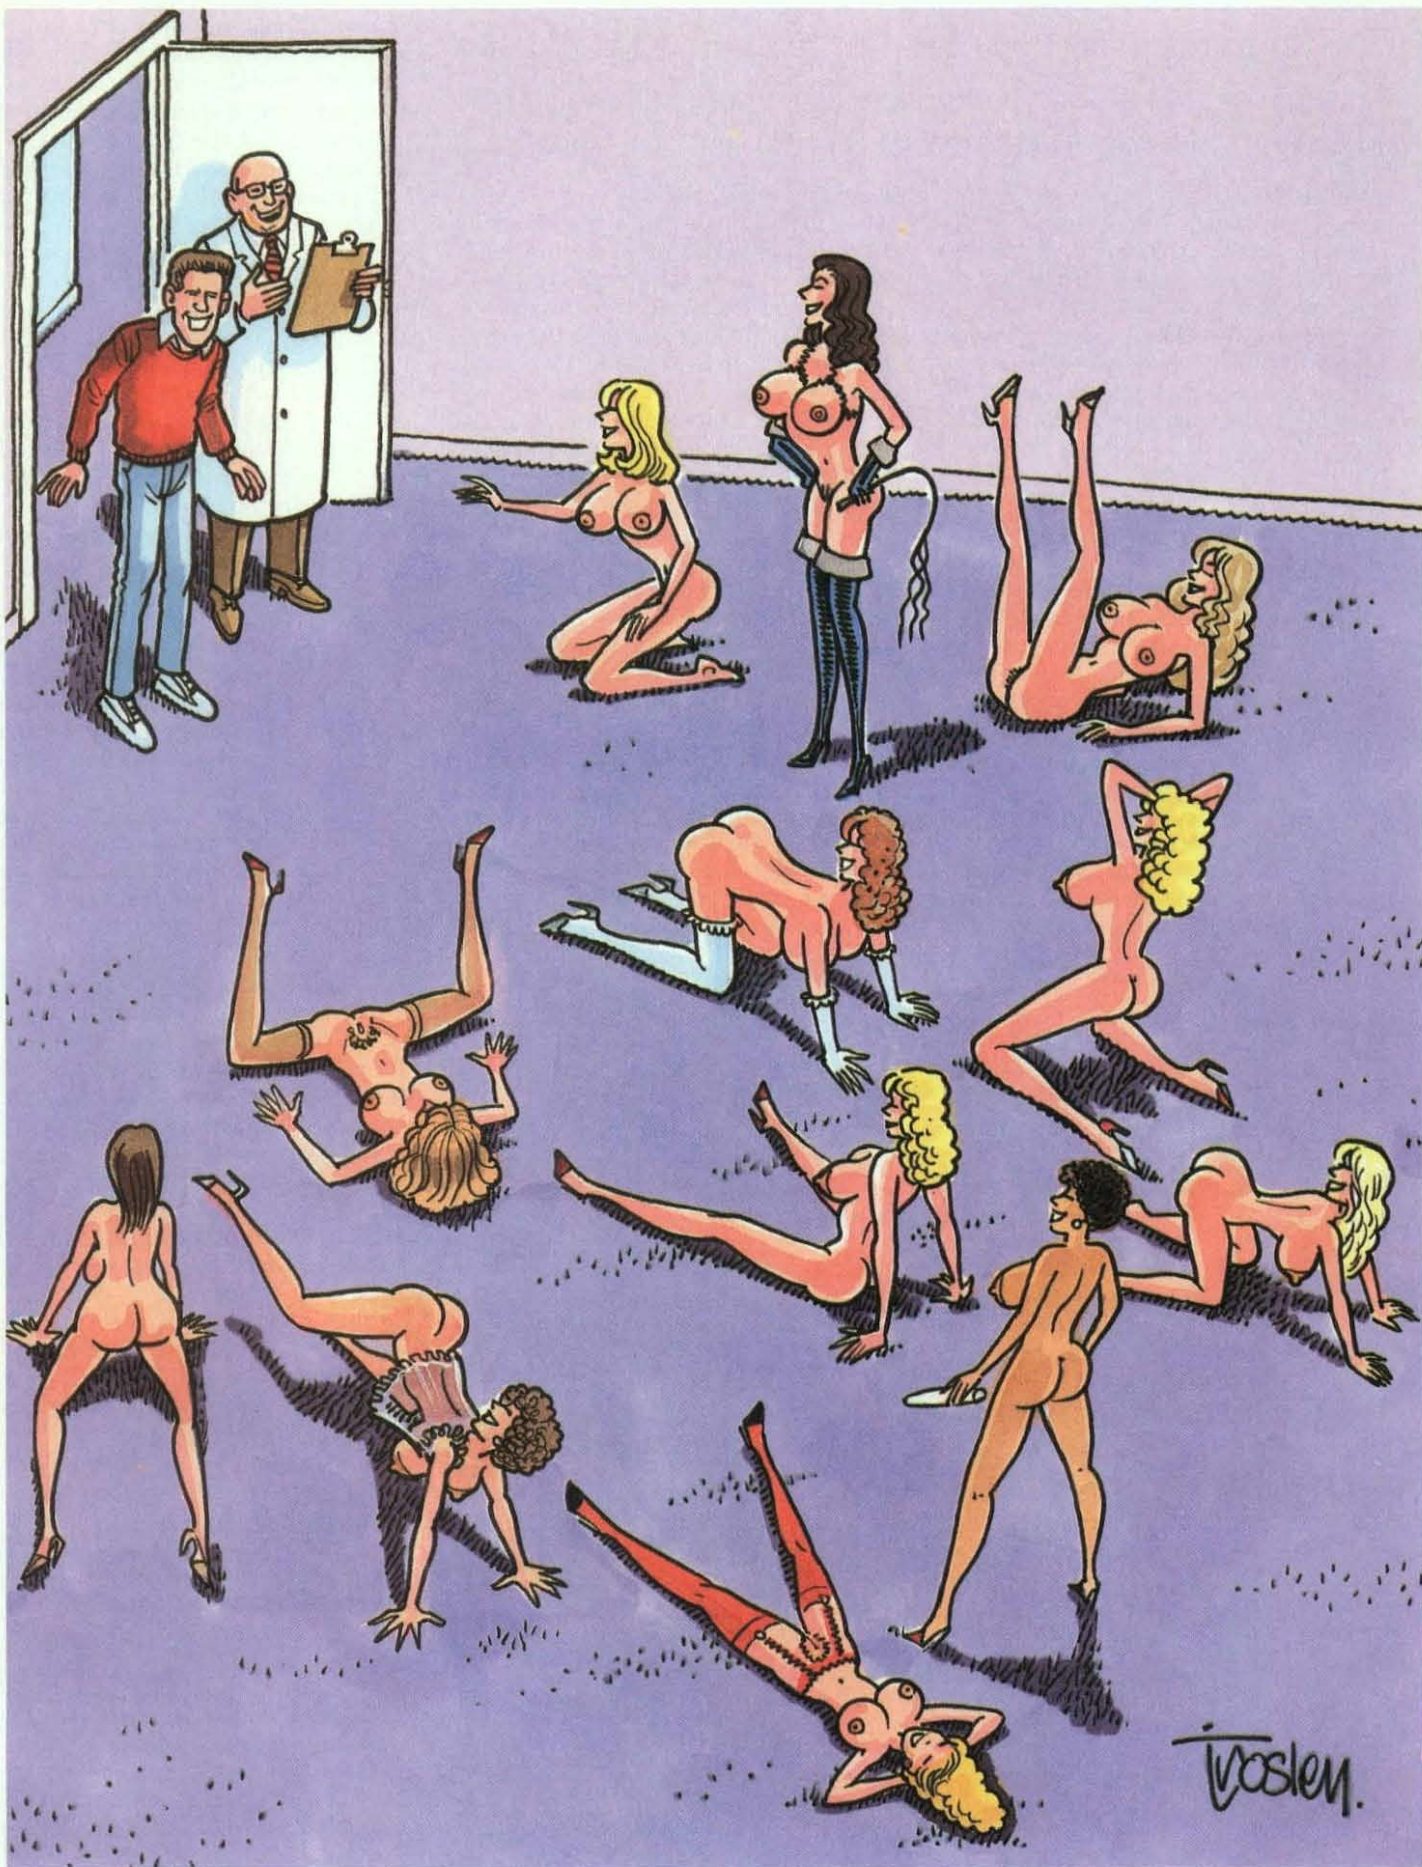

Swaggart put on a good show, helped in no small part with the theatrical tricks of a seasoned television veteran under stress. His wife, Francis, however, did not fair as well. From her seat in the gallery, she involuntarily grimaced every time Hunter Lundy's incisive, prosecutorial attacks revealed Jimmy to be a charlatan, a holier-than-thou slug and a world-class hypocrite.

The past three years had been hard on Francis. Mrs. Swaggart's once-beautiful face was bloated, and she hid a rotund figure under a succession of flower-print muumuus. No longer could she fit into the svelte, leather jumpsuits of the days before she learned of her husband's affair with notorious prostitute Debra Murphree. Francis looked more like a well-fed, rich tourist in Hawaii than the wife of a world-famous televangelist.

Throughout the course of his interrogation, Lundy demanded that Swaggart admit he was trying to completely ruin

"Janice can't talk now, Lois...she's busy playing dead."

TRIAL BY FIRE

Gorman by authoring the incriminating mailings. What other reason would Swaggart have for masterminding a massive hate-mail campaign after Gorman had already resigned?

Swaggart steadfastly denied having done anything but tell the truth. All he ever wanted, he stated unconditionally, was for Gorman to repent for his sins like any other preacher caught in the same position. Swaggart maintained he wrote the letters only after Jim Bakker's PTL Club cable network canceled Swaggart's program and sided with Gorman, publicly accusing Swaggart of attempting to destroy a fellow minister without cause. Swaggart told the court that he wrote the letters only to vindicate himself of PTL's allegations.

Testimony revealed how Swaggart's stories of Gorman's alleged improprieties snowballed throughout the church membership and became more embellished at each turn. Even after Gorman had freely admitted to one sexual affair and renounced his ministry, alleged Swaggart-linked enemies continued to attack him, creating rumors of a list of more than 20 women he had been sexually involved with.

Assembly of God minister Andrew McCrory testified that the fabled number of women Gorman slept with grew with each passing day. "First there were five, then 15, then 30," McCrory told the jury. Elmer Nugent, pastor of the University Assembly of God Church in Hattiesburg, Mississippi, told the court he had heard about the varying numbers of Gorman's indiscretions from several sources near Swaggart: "I heard it was 70, then I heard it was 80, and then I heard it was 100."

Not only had Gorman slept with dozens of women in these titillating tales of carnal impropriety, but according to traveling minister Don Brankel, the rumors eventually included Gorman fathering scores of illegitimate children, embezzling church funds and even having an affair with the wife of reputed New Orleans Mafia boss Carlos Marcello.

Prosecuting attorney Hunter Lundy painstakingly and methodically tracked most of these rumors to Swaggart's World Ministry in Baton Rouge. Swaggart insisted that neither he nor any of his employees had ever spread any rumors and merely sought God's truth, swearing under oath: "I believe Gorman has not come clean; he has not repented, and he is still lying."

Gorman is not the first preacher to be attacked on moral grounds by Jimmy Swaggart. Media experts suspect it was Swaggart who destroyed Jim and Tammy Bakker by leaking information to the Washington Post about Bakker's sexual liaison with Jessica Hahn. In 1983, Swaggart attacked Louisiana preacher Rufus Swillie, proclaiming his life consisted of "how many sexual conquests he could make, how much he could steal and how many nightclubs he could hit on Saturday night." Unlike Gorman, Swillie could not sue Swaggart, having died in 1959. But Swillie's heirs sued for defamation, and the case was settled out of court. Swaggart paid a fortune in restitution.

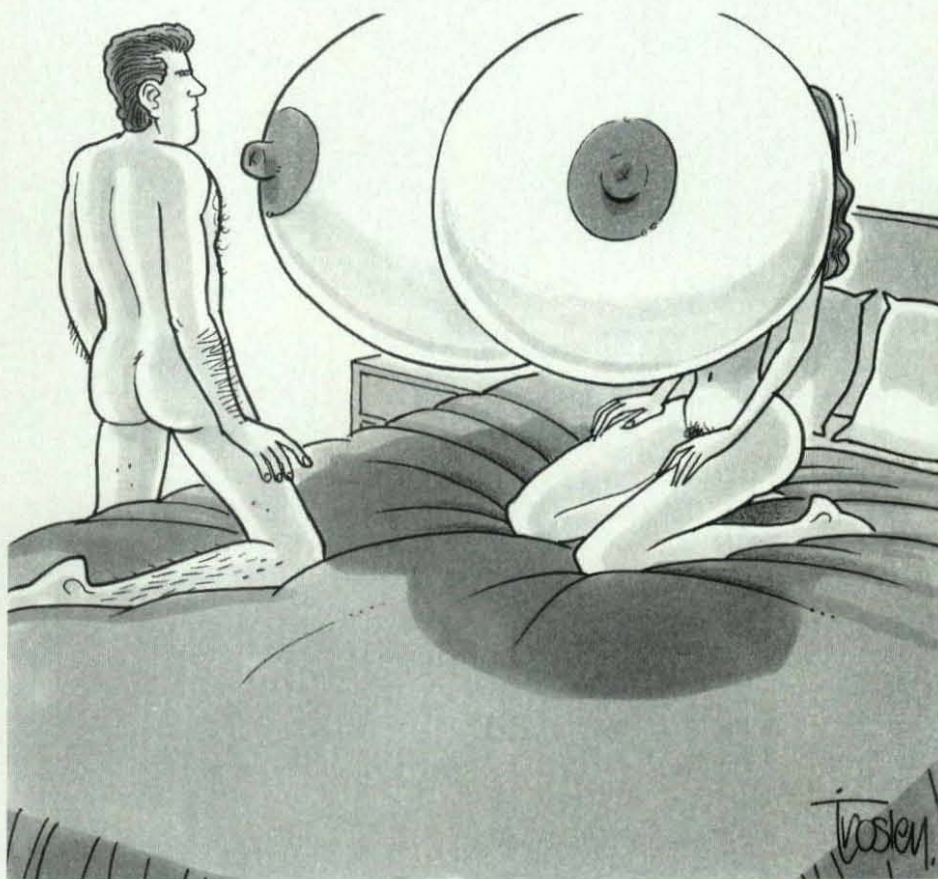

Little was known about Marvin Gorman before the trial in New Orleans. If he shared with Brother Jimmy the ability to fleece a man's pockets without waking the dog, unlike Swaggart, Gorman could get into a lady's panties without busting his wallet.

Swaggart's attorney, Denise Pilie, called two women to testify about their sexual relationships with minister Marvin Gorman.

Gayle McDanials testified that in 1973, Gorman falsely accused her of being a lesbian. She said he told her that all she really needed was a man, after which he coerced her into intercourse by threatening to expose her homosexuality. Two other women testified that after seeking spiritual counseling from Gorman, he routinely kissed, hugged and fondled them. They claimed he took advantage of them when they were mentally and emotionally unable to resist his advances.

Linda Savage, who was married to an Assembly of God minister, told the jury that she and Gorman had a sexual relationship that spanned three years. She said they had enjoyed sex in hotel rooms, at her house and even in Gorman's church. Under cross-examination, Savage also admitted to having two other sexual relationships at the same time she was sleeping with Gorman.

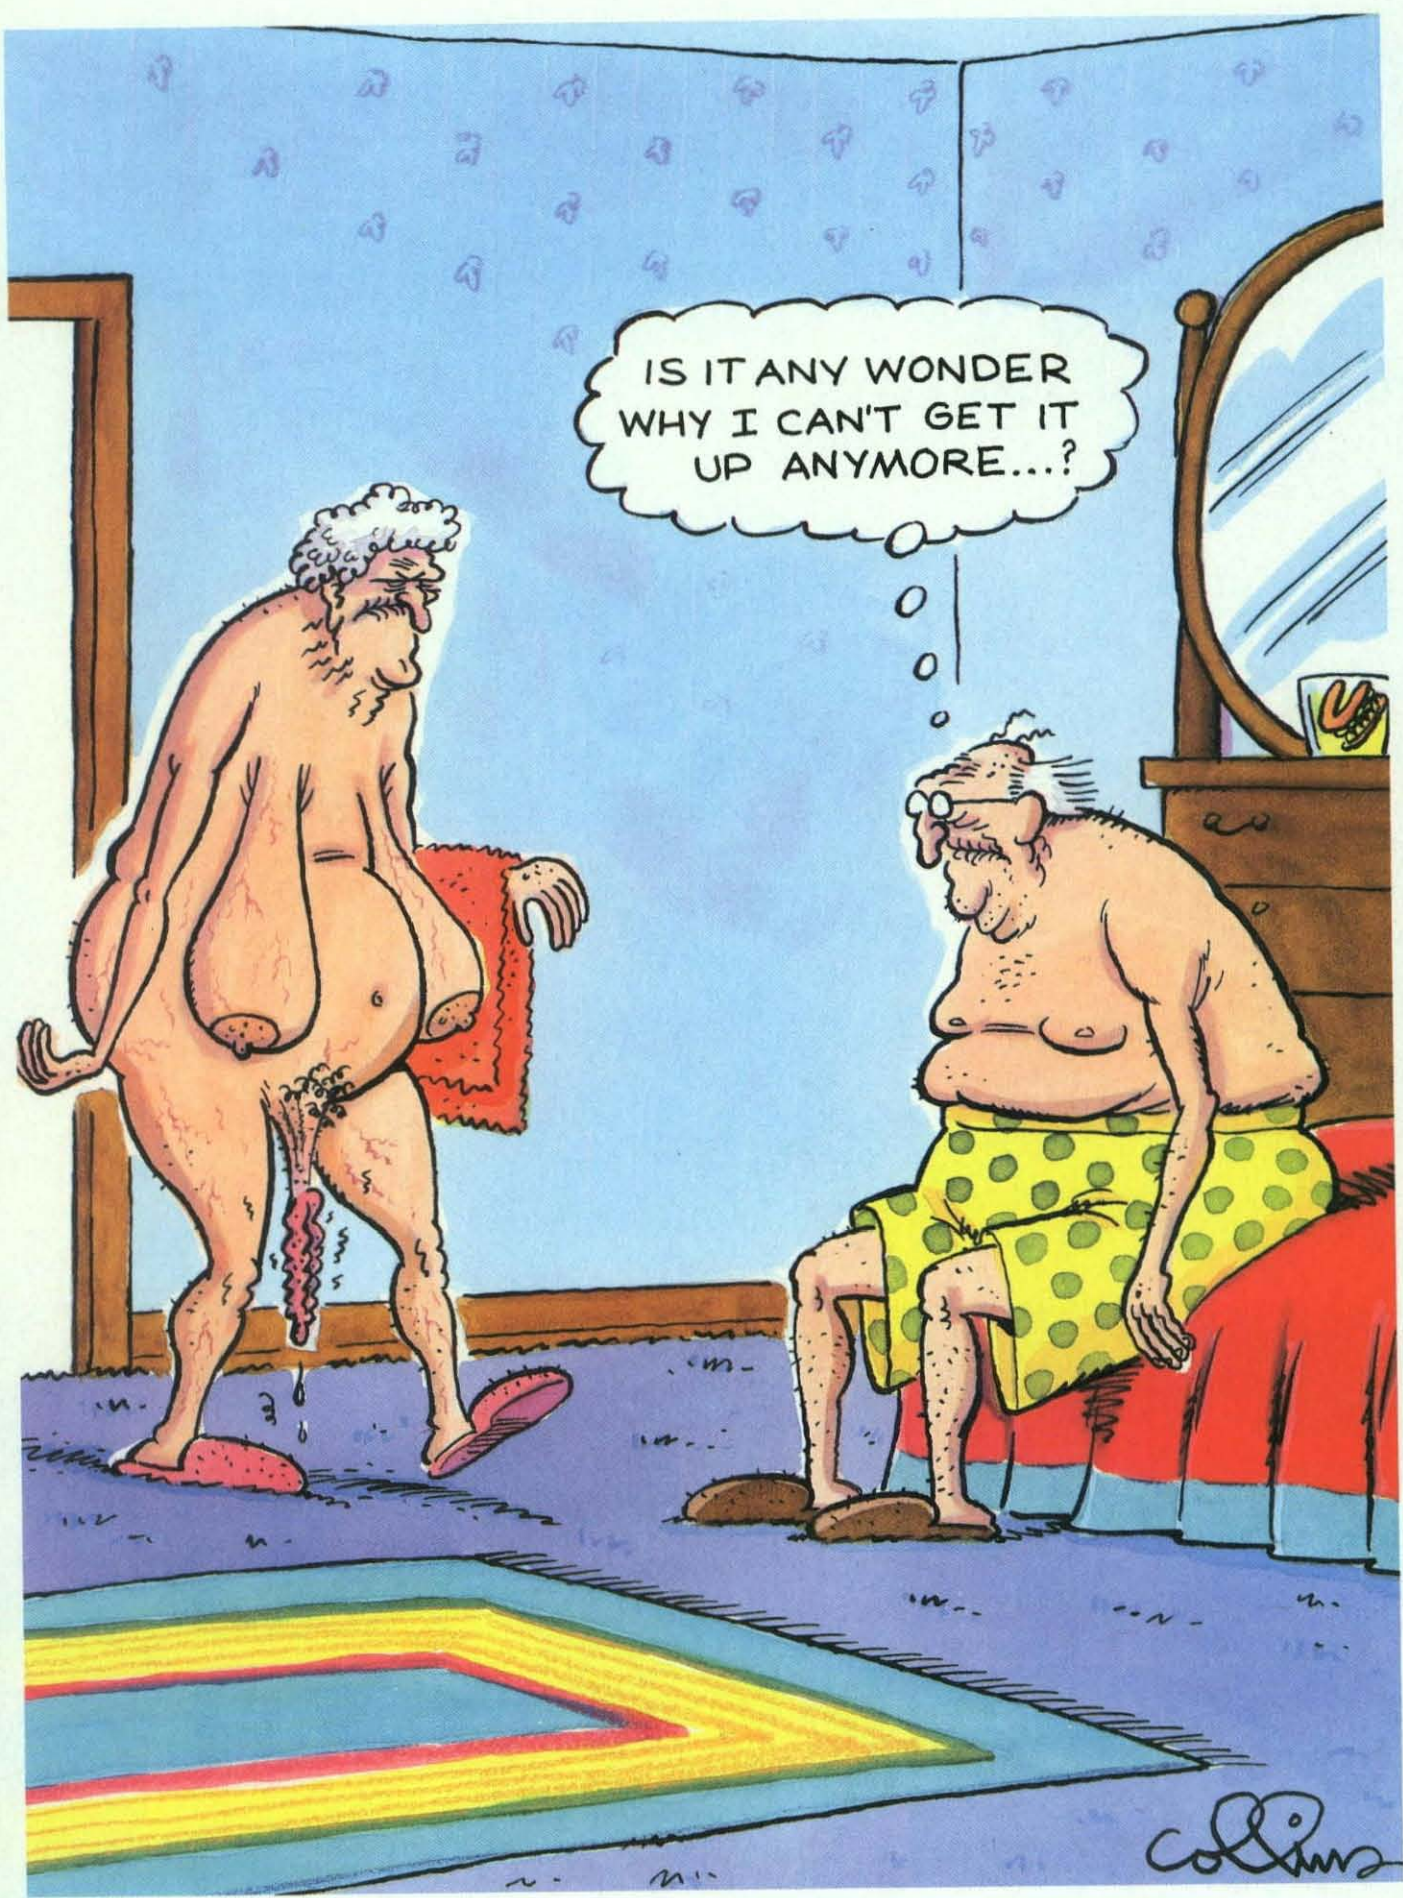

In a surprise move at the eleventh hour, Hunter Lundy called Gorman's wife Virginia to the stand. The courtroom breathed a collective sigh of apprehension, expecting hysteria or, at the very least, dignified tears. Virginia, however, wasn't a woman easily shaken. An unassuming matron whose sensible clothes mirrored a matter-of-fact attitude, she established herself in the witness box as an unfazed, yet inconvenienced boon companion to a man whose public life was invariably compli-

It ain't easy having a porn bride.
The stretch effect, all those white flecks—

SMUT WIFE

The porn fan spasms into butt-clenched euphoria. His brain conjures up a romantic, dick-induced desire: "I'd like to marry a girl like that!"

A bleary-eyed porn fan sits bathed in the undulating, blue light of a TV screen. In one hand he grasps the remote control, in the other, his turgid member. On the flickering screen, a busty blonde presents her eager face as receptacle for a quivering stud's voluminous ball-spew. The porn fan spasms into butt-clenched euphoria. His brain—void of oxygen—conjures up a romantic, dick-induced desire: "I'd like to marry a girl like that!"

Fortunately for our hapless viewer, he'll never know the grief that befalls the fellow who walks down the aisle with a woman who makes her living pumping other men for the camera.

It takes a unique strain of man to cohabit with porn's luminary ladies. For some, such a relationship is made in sexual heaven; for others, it's a one-way ticket to hell. When a man decides to share his bride with men of the likes of Ron Jeremy, the stage is set for either the ultimate mutual turn-on or a one-act version of Star 80.

YOU HAVE A WHAT?

Some of the biggest names in porn-flickdom are married, but they choose to hide the fact in order to play to their fans' basic fantasies of desirable, available women.

According to one very popular—and very married—brunette (who asked to remain anonymous for obvious reasons), "My fans think I'm single, and I like it that way. Having a husband would blow my whole image."

Of course, if a girl's got the goods, a ring on her finger won't matter one way or the other. Nina Hartley's much-publicized threeway marriage hasn't put a dent in her fan club. Hyapatia Lee has never hidden her spouse from the public, and her fans still clamor for her. Danielle Rogers, Britt Morgan, Tianna, Angela Baron, Champagne and Bionca are perennial box-office champs despite their marital status.

Many of porn's fairy-tale romances resemble a Cinderella story without the happy ending. Sadly, many of the women in the adult-video industry are victims of broken homes, abusive parents, battering boyfriends and spouses, etc. Like frightened little girls, such women often find security in a father figure.

When she hit the scene in 1988, pornstarlet Barbii combined little-girl innocence with a lusty sex style that propelled her to the top of the jizz heap. Petite and pale, adorned with red hair and freckles, Barbii had a face like a porcelain doll. Her body was as tight as a 15-year-old's. She soon commanded a sizeable following. Just about the only thing Barbii's fans didn't know about her was the fact that their dream date had already kept a date at the altar.

Joseph was 15 years Barbii's senior. He met Barbii at an orientation tour for the University of Southern California. Joseph was working on his master's degree in psychology when his path crossed Barbii's. Soon he was spending all his time managing Barbii's blossoming career as a porn performer and exotic dancer.

On the surface, it appeared that Barbii and Joseph shared an ideal relationship. He was always on the sets to look out for her, always there with a shoulder to lean on and an ear to talk to when she needed support. "The Barbii you see on-camera is the same Barbii I take home at night," he once said. "I'm just there to make sure everything is all right for her."

But things didn't remain all right for long. As Barbii's star grew bigger, so did the rigors of keeping up with her racing career. She and Joseph decided to open a strip club where she'd star. The initial temblor of the avalanche of money problems that would eventually bury Barbii's marriage and her hapless hubby himself came when the investors Joseph lined up didn't provide enough green. Desperate, Joe borrowed money from a number of X-business cronies and associates. When he still came up short, the deal fell through. Capping the failure, Barbii walked out on him.

Crushed, despondent and lacking the one person upon whom he had bartered his future, Joseph blew his head off. A guy who'd gambled and lost, he wasn't taking any chances fucking up again: He used an elephant gun.

MY DADDY, MY PIMP

"Back in the '70s," says onetime porn husband and performer Dick Howard, "porn husbands were free and easy. Today they're like pimps without balls."

The typical husband/pimp treats his wife more like a commodity than a human being—and takes a percentage for his trouble. They call themselves managers, agents and advisors, but what their work boils down to is pure and simple pandering.

In such a relationship, the wife is "managed" by the husband, who tends to work her like a dog while taking the lion's share of the income. These couples don't last long in the business.

Drunk from booze she was hiding in a toilet tank, Alicia Monet nearly severed the penis of an unfortunate German performer with her teeth.

histrionics hit America's porn screens, Alicia Monet was causing more erections than the real-estate boom. Yet, as quickly as she found success, she lost it.

When Alicia Monet met Guy, he was managing a parking lot. Instead of renting her a space, he sold her himself. More than a decade older than Alicia, Guy liked it when she called him "Daddy." She moved into his apartment. He started making plans.

Soon after Alicia began making porn movies, she found her one-of-a-kind fame and fortune. Her face and figure were plastered on scores of vid-box and stroke-mag covers. She was a star. But Alicia wasn't happy.

Rumors of drug and alcohol abuse spread through the industry. Monet's appearance deteriorated. She missed appointments. But she was popular with the fans and could fuck like a wildcat in heat. Producers kept booking her.

An industry art director recalls a photo-shoot in which Alicia was posing for a box cover. Monet was looking haggard, pale, worn-out. The makeup girl worked wonders to make Alicia presentable and found some long gloves to cover the bruises on Monet's arms.

Guy, who'd arrived with Alicia, announced he was taking a walk down L.A.'s trendy Melrose Avenue. Upon returning a few hours later, he found his wife and the crew taking their first break of the day.

"Give me $300," Guy demanded abruptly, snapping his fingers in Alicia's face. He cornered her and held out his hand. "I saw some snakeskin boots that I want."

The others at the table recoiled and tried to hide their shock. Alicia, visibly intimidated, opened her purse and handed him the money. He returned later with the boots under his arm, grinning like a kid.

The last straw for Alicia Monet came in Germany. Drunk from some booze she'd been hiding in a toilet tank, the international porn queen intentionally nearly severed the penis of an unfortunate German performer with her teeth. For an encore, she ran naked like a hysterical madwoman through the streets of the upscale neighborhood where the movie crew was shooting. She became manageable only after a beefy production assistant belted her into submission.

From there, it was a quick trip back to civilian life for superstar Monet—and back to the car lot for Guy.

THE SWING THING

With her hourglass figure and unabashed libido, Victoria Paris shot overnight to the A-list of the hottest performers in smut—which was exactly what her husband had in mind.

Victoria was living with her father in Montana when she met a man named Benet, a USC film-school graduate who was working at a local TV station. They met at a birthday party in 1986 and shacked up. Benet was 23, Victoria 25. When he suggested they move back to his native California—and proposed marriage as part of the bargain—Victoria saw an opportunity to see the world and grabbed it.

Once in California, Benet began to show his true sexual colors. "He tried to coerce me to go to these swing parties," Victoria says. "They were in beautiful homes owned by rich people, but I hated it. I'd cry the whole time I was there."

When swinging didn't pan out, Benet suggested they make a porn video. Victoria had never seen one. "I was just an insecure little girl," she says. "I had no family, no friends—just him. I'd go along with whatever he said."

The happy couple got it on for the cameras on Halloween 1988 for Victoria's first feature, Late Night for Lovers. Ironically, Benet experienced performance problems and immediately retired from stud service. Victoria, on the other hand, asked her hubby if she could keep making movies. She had found her calling.

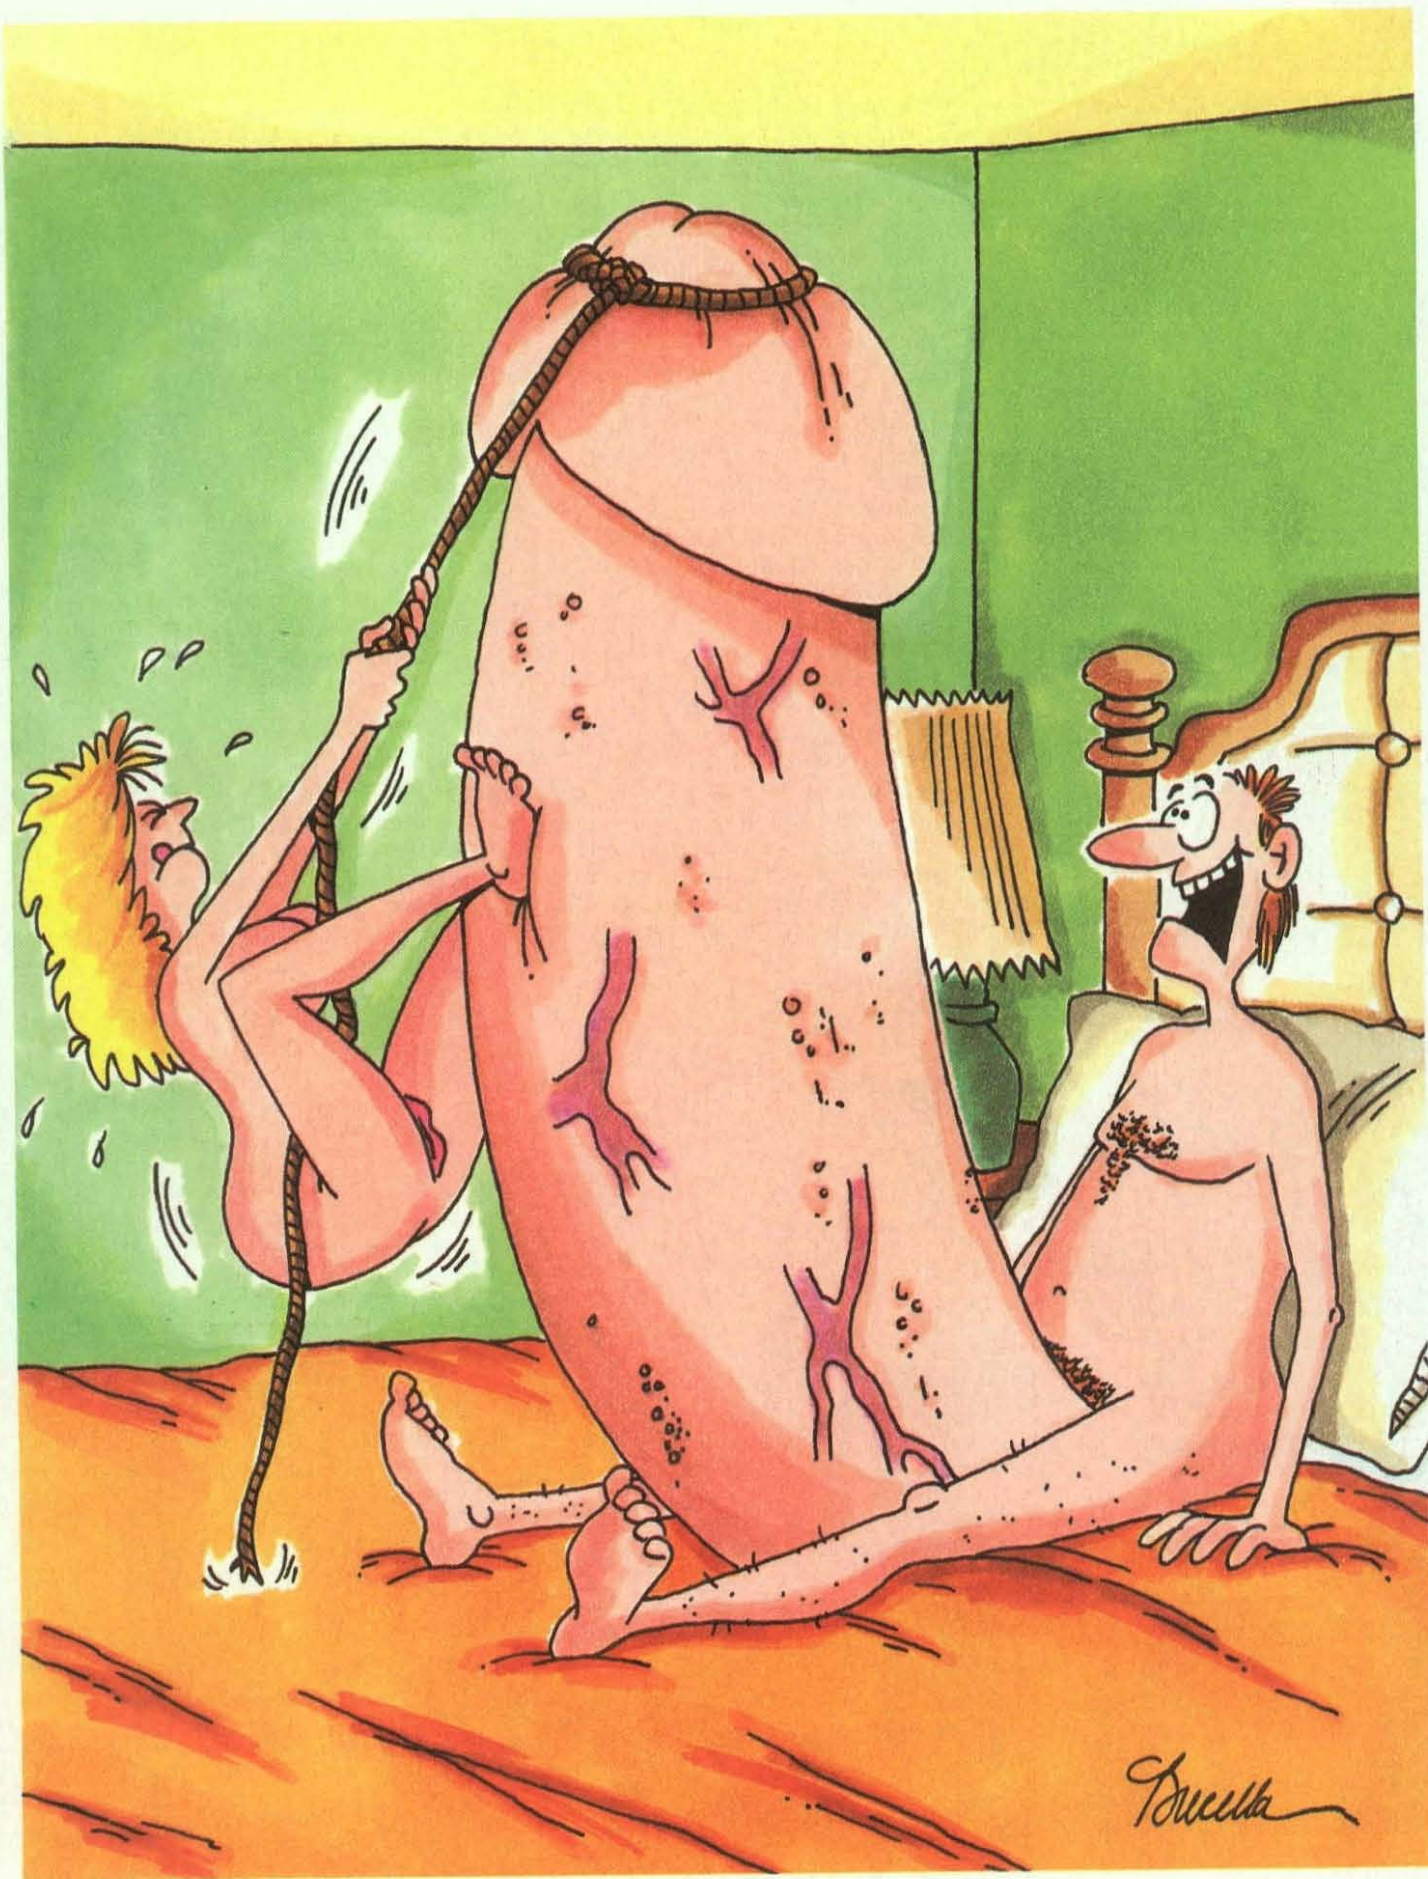

Benet moved from co-star to starmaker. He advised Victoria to dress with class, to never compromise, to ask for more money, to demand top billing—and it paid off. Top-billed in movies, mags and personal appearances, Victoria Paris quickly became the quintessential porn superstar. Homelife for man and wife picked up as well. Before Benet, Victoria had only been with a couple of men. Now she was exposed to a whole new world of sexuality. Victoria brought home newfound techniques, to her and Benet's satisfaction.

Yet, like many porn husbands, Benet expected the little missus to bring home a little something more from her movie shoots. Like another actress, for instance.

"He would always want me to bring girls home, and I was really uncomfortable with that. I just wouldn't do it," Victoria says. "I'm still a pretty normal, average person, and to me it's a job. He saw it more like, 'You're having fun; now bring somebody home for both of us so I can have fun too.' But that's not what I wanted." So began the problems between Benet and Victoria, problems that would snowball.

"The Tuna Surprise is superb!"

"The problems came when he saw me doing films, and he thought if I had that sexual freedom, then he could go off and have relationships with other people," Victoria explains. "So I'd come back from being on the road and hear that he'd taken out these other women, and I'd be jealous. I didn't see the movies as a relationship; I saw them as just acting. But he didn't see it that way, which I can understand. And that was what dissolved our marriage."

The divorce became final in the spring of 1991.

Despite their split, Victoria and Benet remain close. "I talk to him at least once a day. He's still a good friend. We're just two different people who couldn't be married," reveals Victoria.

CHERI'S MANN

David Mann was working for a consulting firm in 1987 when he hired an attractive, married woman to be his office manager. "Within a week I had her managing the top of my desk," Mann brags about his future wife, Cheri Taylor. And not long after that, Cheri found herself a porn queen of the first order.

David and Cheri, both in their mid-thirties, discovered the perfect formula for harmony in a porn-performer household. Although neither characterizes their relationship as an open marriage, a pledge to 'fess up paved the way for peaceful cohabitation.

"We made an agreement when we first got married that has eliminated all jealousy from the relationship, and it's worked 100% of the time," Mann boasts. "We agreed neither one of us would ever do something we were afraid to tell each other about. I don't care if she takes on the Raiders, but if she's afraid to tell me, then it means there's something going on other than just sex. It means she's having an emotional relationship with someone. But that's never been the case."

"As long as you have this wild bug up your ass, and you still want to run around town a little, the relationship will work out. But if you want to sit back in your little household and have control over everything, then it won't."

Cheri's onscreen screwing enhanced their sex life: "After she's done a scene with, say, Peter North, she hasn't lost her feelings for me. In fact, she's usually a bit hornier than before she went on the set; so I end up benefiting from it," claims Mann.

Obviously, it takes a degree of selflessness to be a porn husband. Mann's got it in spades. His philosophy is simple: "I've found the best way to handle Cheri's freedom is to let her have it."

Mann and Taylor often bring an attractive woman home for a threeway. Mann regards their mutual lust for women as one of the most exhilarating facets of his and Cheri's relationship. "It's great to be able to go out somewhere and see a good-looking woman and say, 'Hey, she looks great!' and to have Cheri say, 'Yeah, I'd like to do her too. Let's ask her.' That's a dream-come-true for most guys."

The rigorous schedule of Cheri's exotic dancing places the greatest strain on her marriage. Frequent tours take her out of town for months at a time. During these absences, David and Cheri battle loneliness by indulging in an affair or two. She can't help meeting amenable men, and Mann enjoys the company of many other adult actresses.

With all this fucking around, doesn't Mann feel even slightly threatened by other men? "I don't believe people steal people. People leave people. The most wonderful person in the world can come up and hit on Cheri, and as long as we're happy emotionally, she's mine," he says.

What if she happens to run into the world's greatest lover? "Even if he screws her like she's never been screwed before, he still can't touch our emotional relationship. Mainly because I'm happy to say to her, 'You want to do that guy again? Sure, no problem. Can I go over this time?' The second you do that, there's no need to worry about affairs."

But David Mann is the first person to admit he's not perfect—and that he does draw the line somewhere. "If Cheri were head over heels for a woman, I could handle that, assuming it was basically a three-way kind of thing. But if she were head over heels for a man, I couldn't handle it."

TOUGH ON THE ROAD

Aerospace worker Frank Zee married office-temp employee Ona in L.A. in 1987. Frank had long been tempted to make a porn movie—preferably bondage. Ona was recruited to star—and began a new career.

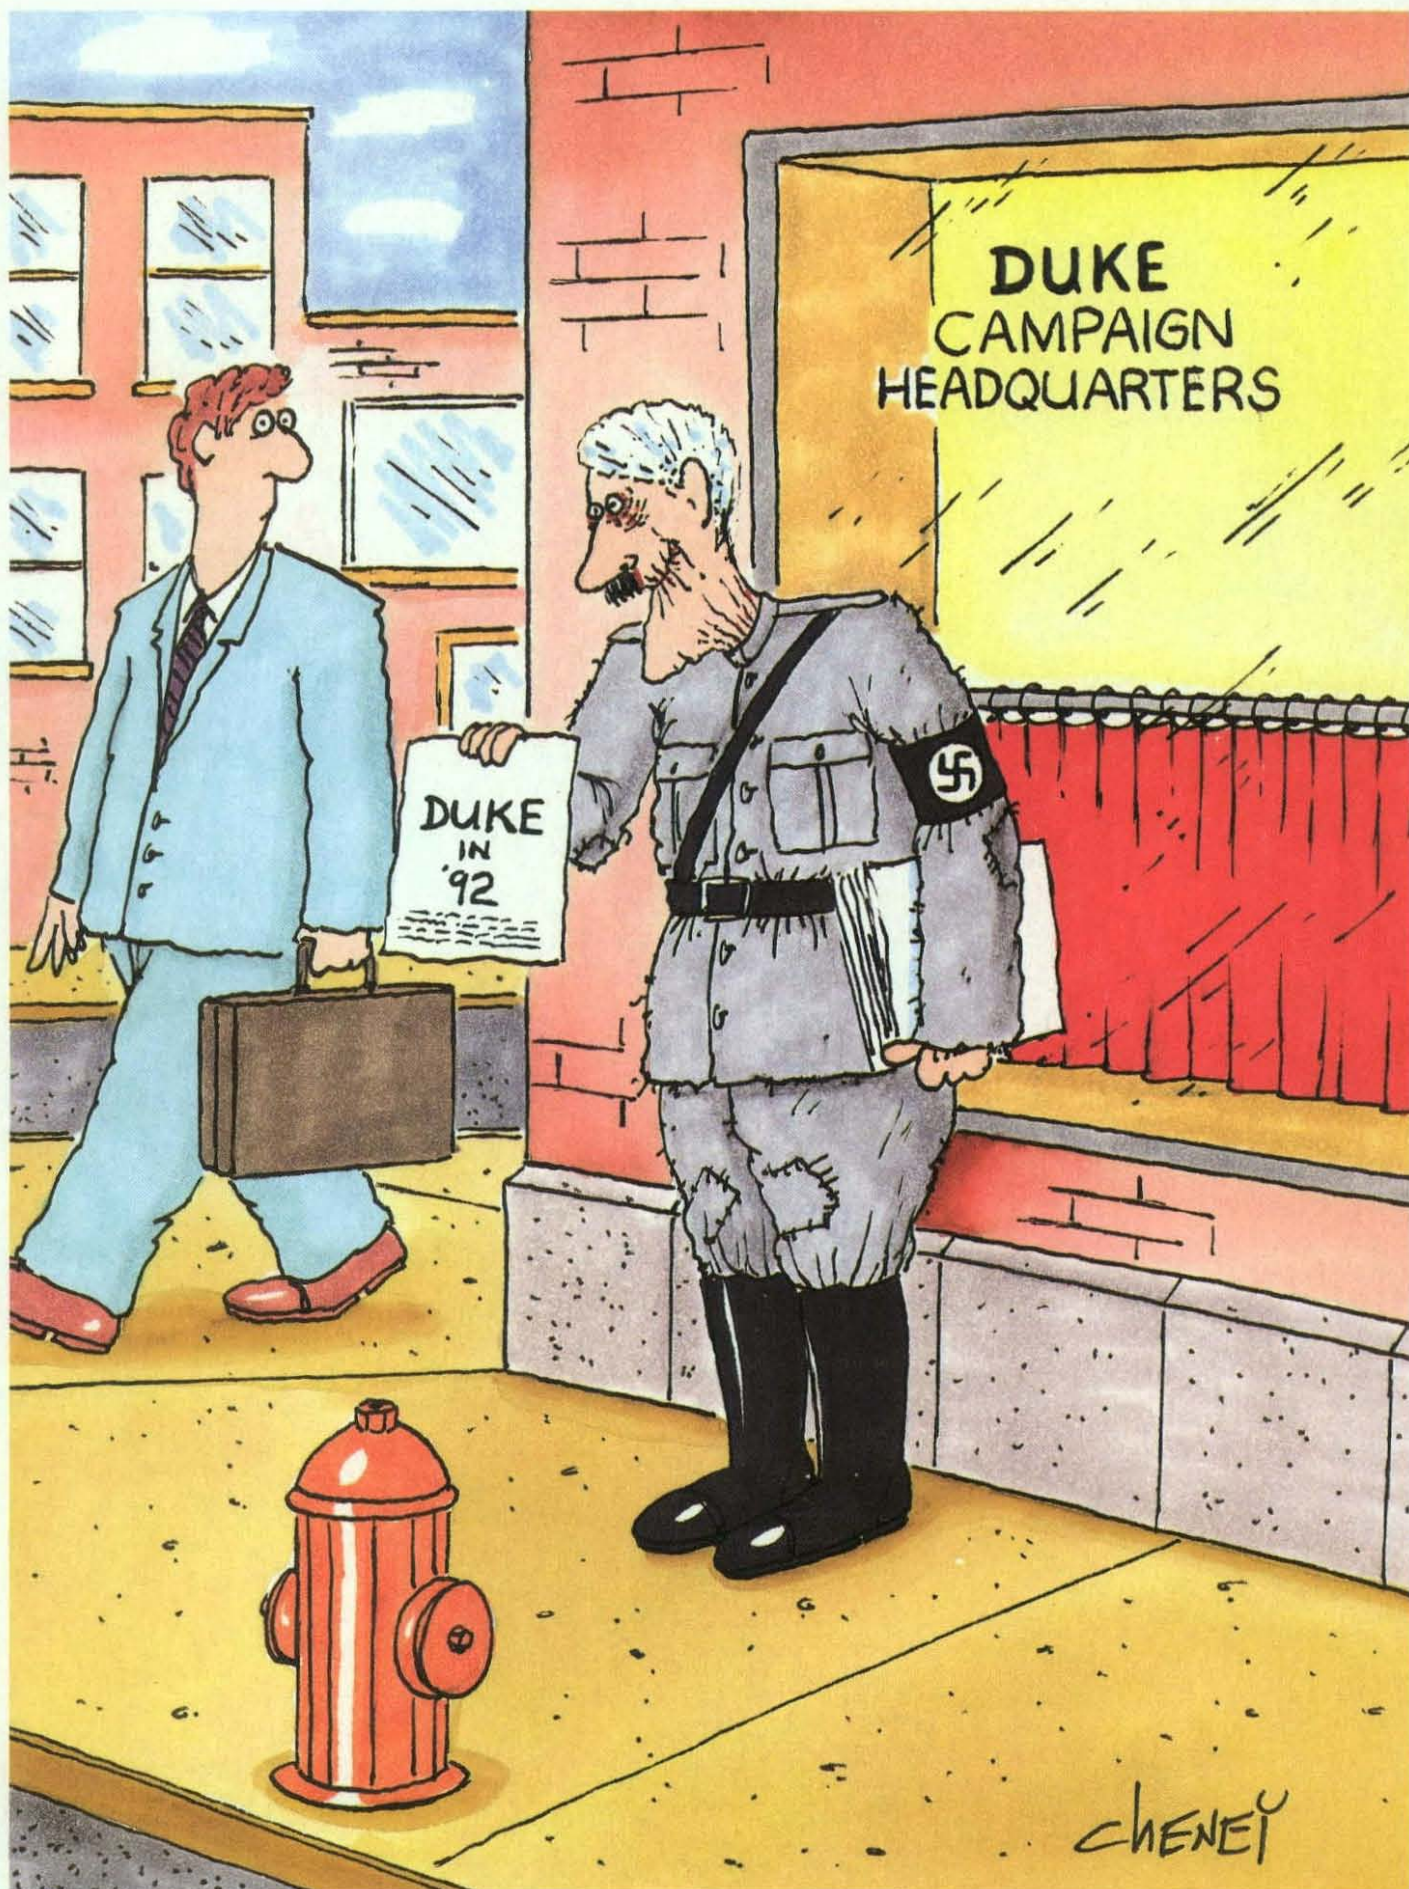

"It was fine with me," Frank beams about Ona's entrance into the porn world. "I get as much as she's got to give anyhow."

On the other hand, Ona was none too

The Pope finally got a moment to himself and was jacking off furiously in the Vatican gardens, when a Japanese tourist came around the hedge. The Oriental was loaded down with the usual photographic paraphernalia, and before the Pope could zip up his fly, the tourist had gotten off a couple of shots.

Panicked, the Pope walked over and complimented the Japanese man on his fine equipment. "I've always wanted a camera like that," he lied desperately. "Would you consider selling it?"

"Certainly," replied the tourist, "for $15,000."

Stunned, the Pope agreed to the price and went to get the cash. On his return, he counted out $15,000 in cash and handed it over. The Japanese tourist bowed deeply, took the cash and left the garden smiling.

On his way back to his chambers, the Pope had the bad luck to run into one of his cardinals who was something of a photographer himself. "Nice camera," he complimented the Pope. "Where'd you get it?"

"Actually, from a native of Japan," answered the Pope.

"Very good equipment—what did you pay for it?" quizzed the cardinal.

"Fifteen thousand dollars," blurted the nervous Pope.

"Mother of God!" exclaimed the shocked cardinal. "He must've seen you coming!"

Question: How many Kennedys does it take to change a light bulb?

Answer: Three—one to hold the bulb and two to drink enough booze to make the room spin.

Zimmerman was having dinner with his wife to celebrate her birthday. Trying to please the woman he loved so much, he asked her, "So, Julie, what would you like for a present? A Jaguar? A sable coat? How about a diamond necklace?"

She answered, "I want a divorce."

"Gee, Julie," he replied, "I wasn't planning on spending that much."

A Jewish prospector down on his luck went into town looking for sex. Unfortunately, all he had was $20.

A white madam at one house told him that she knew a black hooker who might be interested for 30 bucks. If the hooker wouldn't take care of him, the madam said, he should come back, and she would service him herself. A half hour passed, and the Jewish man returned and fucked the white madam, explaining that the black hooker would take no less than $50.

Years went by, and the old Jew never forgot the madam. One day he was in the same area and decided to look in on her. He found the house and knocked on the door. She recognized him immediately. They sat down and chatted for a while, when finally the madam said she had someone she'd like for the old Jew to meet. She called in a young man of about 20 and said, "David, I'd like you to meet your father."

The boy looked at the prospector and said, "Do you mean to tell me that I'm half Jewish?"

Insulted, the old Jew replied, "You ungrateful son of a bitch—if I'd had another 30 bucks, you'd be half black too!"

The HUSTLER Dictionary defines lesbian as: just another woman trying to do a man's job.

Two Cubans were strolling through Havana one day. "Such a lovely afternoon," one said. "I thank God for it."

"God?" the other said with a sneer. "You should thank Fidel Castro."

"Fidel? It was God who made the sweet smell of the flowers, the lovely song of the birds."

"I would prefer to thank Fidel."

"But it was God who made the ocean so clear, the sky so blue, the grass so green."

"I would prefer to thank Fidel."

"And just who, comrade, will you thank when Fidel is dead and gone?"

"God."

Shocked, the American woman queried, "That big?"

"No—that dirty," came the reply.

Snitch

Mark of the Squealer

WHISTLE-BLOWING BY CLAYTON B. WRIGHT

Too often, when career criminals take the stand as prosecution witnesses, truth is traded cheap for a bogus conviction.

SNITCH

In some cases, a puppet snitch is planted in a jail cell next to a defendant in a high-publicity case for the purpose of gathering information.

The names in the following article have been changed to protect the identity of the informers involved. Vengeance-seekers should not mark a victim based on the names that appear in this article.

On December 6, 1984, police officers apprehended professional thief James Smith as he was burglarizing a plush Inglewood, California, residence. Initially charged with burglary, Smith admitted his guilt. While being detained in lieu of posting $10,000 bond at the Inglewood County Jail, Smith was interviewed by investigators from the Los Angeles Police Department. "They were homicide detectives," says Smith of his eventful meeting with the two cops, who wanted to know about Smith's involvement with two burglary suspects—and a murder.

The detectives showed him pictures of the suspects. He knew them; they were friends of his. Smith maintains that the officers wanted him to fabricate a confession in exchange for a get-out-of-jail-free pass. "In addition to making a tape-recorded confession, I would have to testify on the witness stand," he reveals, "and they would see to it that I was 'taken care of.'"

When Smith refused the detectives' offer, they got nasty. Producing evidence that would place Smith's fingerprints at the scene of the murder, one officer told Smith to admit to being the "lookout" for the two suspects, or they would use the evidence to convict him of the crime.

According to a special report on jail-house informers, released by the Los Angeles County Grand Jury, the arresting officers and assistant district attorney supplied Smith with pertinent information regarding the murder, including photographs of the murder victim and the complete layout of the house where the death occurred.

Based on Smith's perjured testimony, the two suspects were convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment. Thus began James Smith's indoctrination into the covert world of snitching.

Cheese-eaters, stoolies, squealers, snitches and informers are just some of the expressions used to describe an individual who testifies for the state for personal gain, a sense of duty or financial enhancement. Inevitably, the final description for most is "victim of homicide."

Informers can be neighbors, family members, kidnappers, rapists, drug dealers and murderers. They provide crucial—often fabricated—testimony that helps government prosecutors put others behind bars. There are distinct differences between types of snitches that police, judges and prosecutors use to convict a defendant: the neighborhood snitch, the puppet and the sophist. All share a common bond: a desire for gain at another's expense.

THE NEIGHBORHOOD RAT

Characterized by a passive, generally inferior disposition, the neighborhood informer is usually a career criminal with a drug habit. They gather information on anything and anybody on the streets that police might be interested to know.

Working exclusively with police and prosecutors, the neighborhood snitch is adequately compensated for his services. The normal procedure for payment is cash, with which the informer can purchase food, shelter or drugs. In some cases the juice man will provide his snitch directly with drugs. In many instances, the neighborhood snitch will settle for having whatever criminal charges might be brought against him reduced or dismissed.

THE PUPPET

The puppet snitch is a well-educated individual whom circumstances have forced to turn informer. The puppet is a first-time offender who's been charged with a capital crime, such as drug trafficking, rape or murder, and faces a stiff prison sentence.

"Police, district attorneys and judges love a puppet," says William Adams, a Vietnam veteran and police informer. "The district attorney and police offer a reduction in sentence in exchange for their cooperation. Puppets are scared. They'll do anything to get off from doing time, even commit perjury."

The puppet is primarily used by law-enforcement agents as a purchasing agent for drug-sting operations, although in some cases, while awaiting trial in county jail, a puppet is planted in a jail cell next to a key defendant in a high-publicity case for the sole purpose of gathering information.

THE SOPHIST

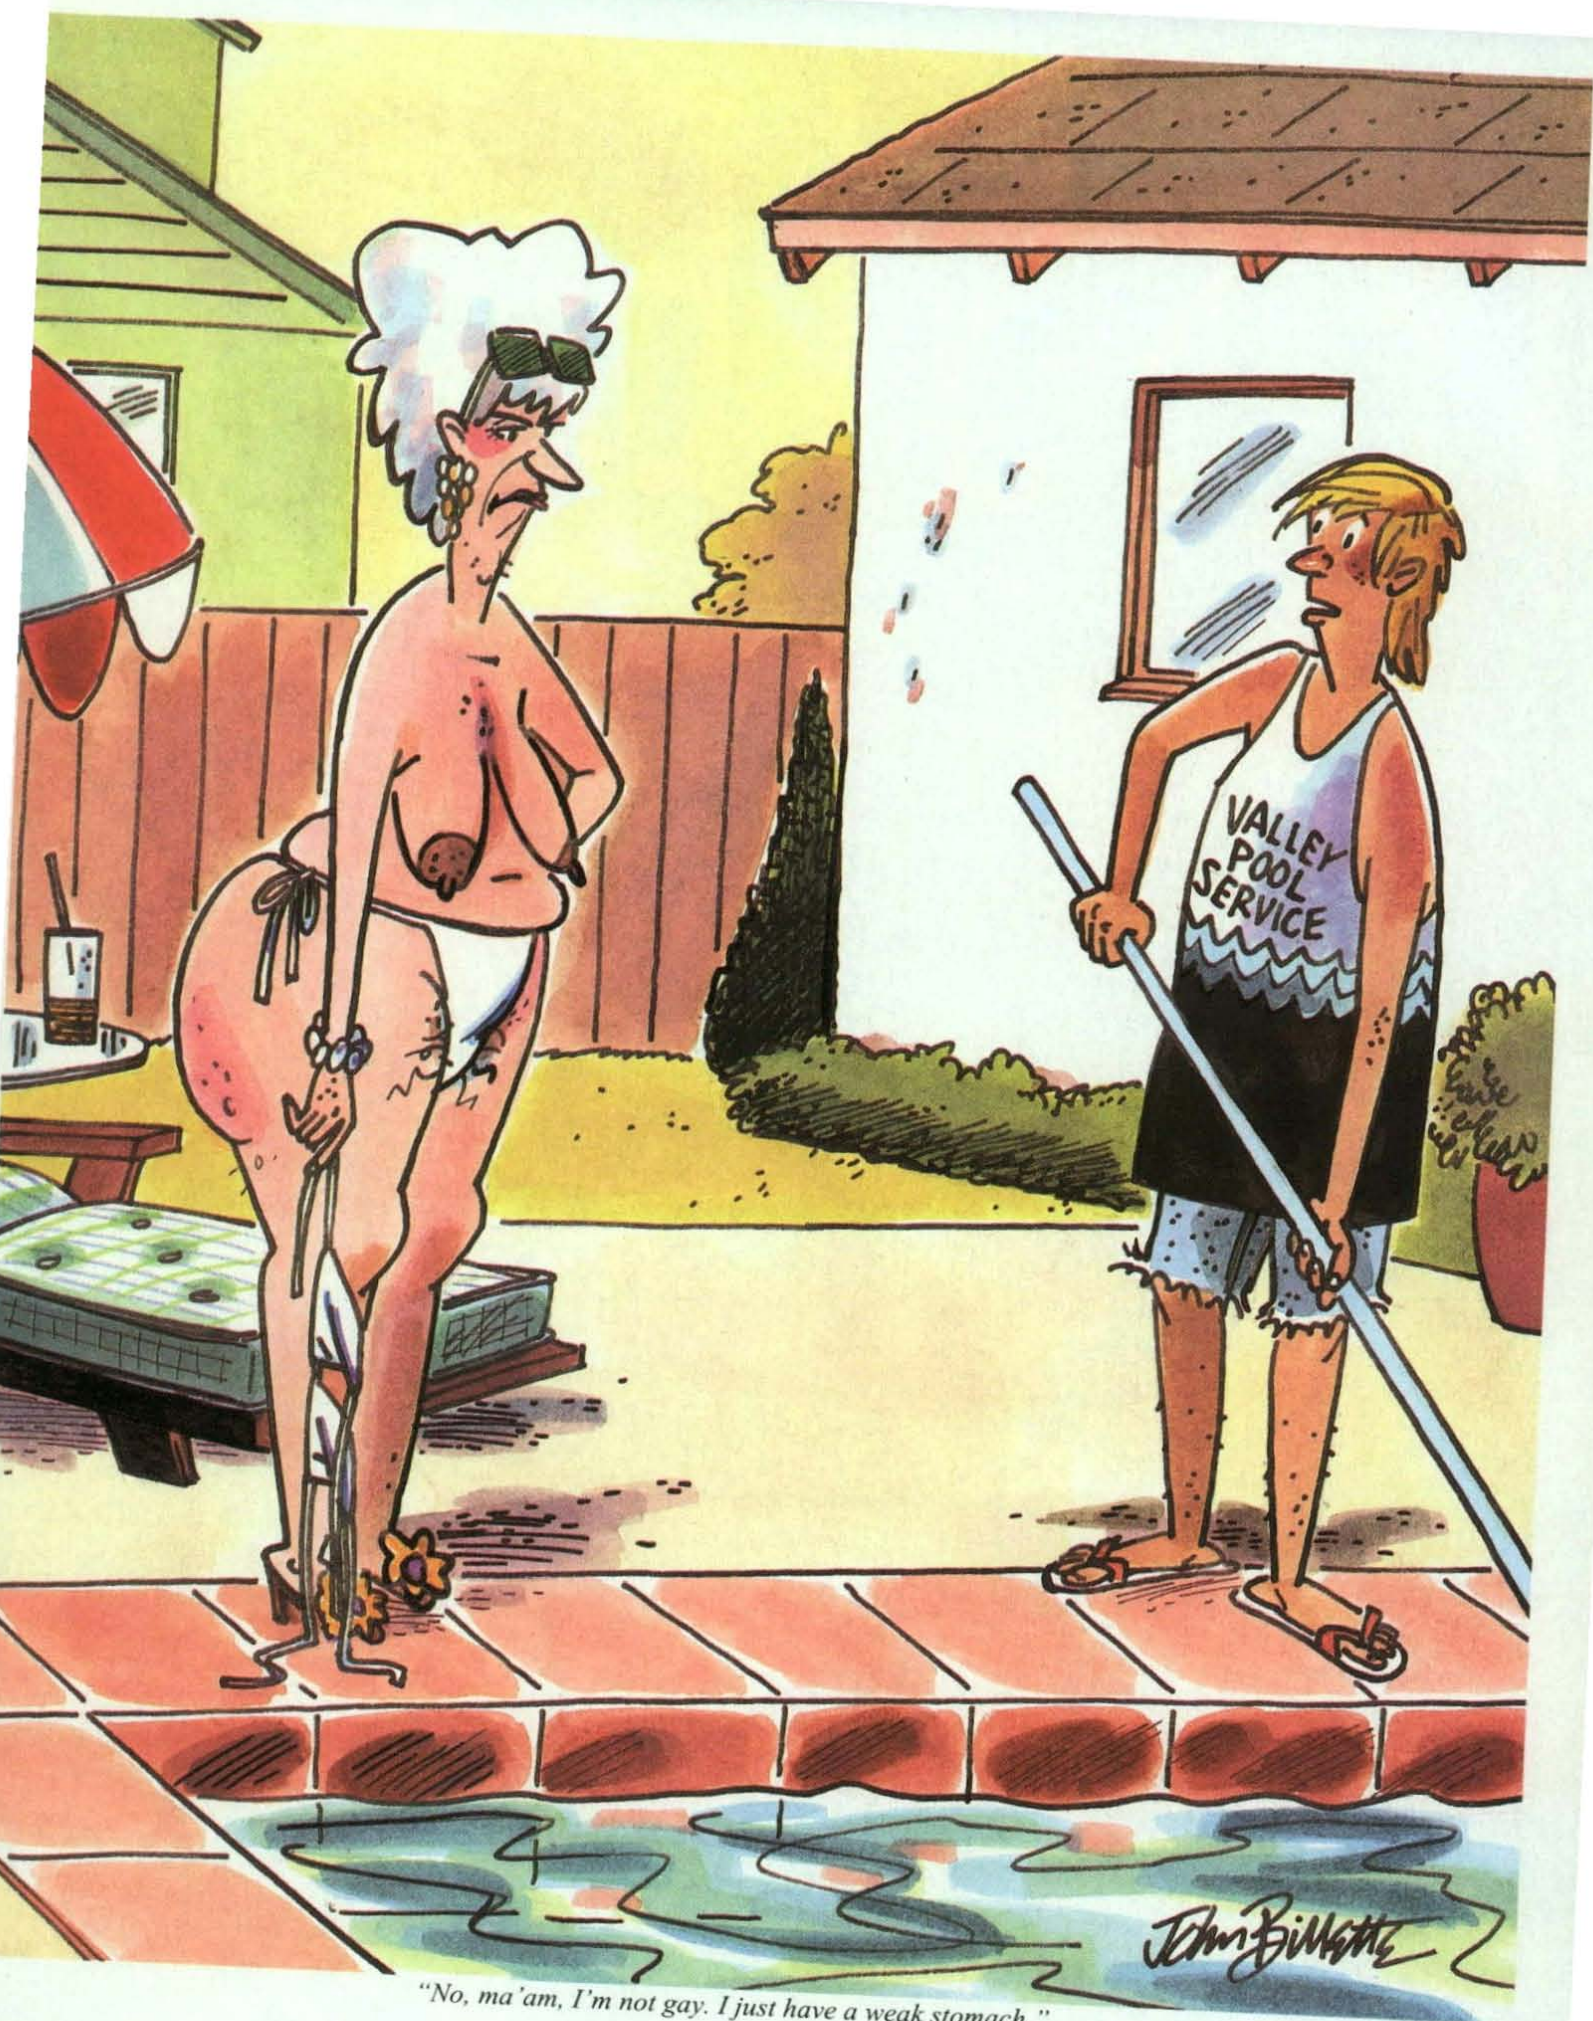

Cold, calculating, with no sense of ethics or morals, the sophist informer is the most feared tool of law enforcement and, by far, the most productive.

Sophists work for the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) and the Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA). The federal government uses their testimony to bring down organized-crime syndicates, major drug cartels and smuggling rings. Law enforcement considers sophist testimony, unlike that of the puppet and the neighborhood snitch, highly credible.

Although the evidence, information and confessions obtained by the sophist informer might be true, the means by which they were acquired are oftentimes questionable. "When sophists violate a person's Constitutional rights," reveals Smith, "they can get away with it, because they know it's almost impossible to prove them liars."

The sophist is compensated from government slush funds and is, without question, the highest-paid informer.

The FBI, the U.S. Marshals Service, the DEA and city and local police are law-enforcement agencies established with the specific intent to deter criminal activities—to investigate and prosecute any crime committed within the United States. It's an expensive business.

Initially established to provide a safe haven for witnesses who assist government prosecutors with vital testimony in trials of high notoriety, the Witness Protection Fund is primarily being used by law-enforcement agencies to establish and maintain secret slush funds.

The Los Angeles County Grand Jury has admitted the existence of "special" funds, established with monies provided from the federal budget, including the Sheriff's Special Appropriation Fund, the Narcotics Special Fund, the District Attorney's Special Appropriation Fund and the Sheriff's Special Appropriation Narcotics Fund.

Grand Jury investigators testified that, in November of 1986, an informer received $1,040 from an investigative officer who applied for and obtained reimbursement from the Witness Protection Fund; in January of 1984, $1,450 was paid to an informer out of Witness Protection Funds after his brother coincidentally appeared in the same police lineup; and in March of 1988, an informer obtained $2,000 from the Witness Protection Fund solely on his allegation that on two occasions suspicious persons prowled his neighborhood, knocking on doors and asking for him. The informer did not, nor was he asked to, make a crime report on the incident.

PAY AND PERKS

Snitches, for all practical purposes and intent, are paid employees of district attorneys, federal agents and street cops. "Many informers manufacture crime in order to sell their product," says Harvard law professor and criminal attorney Alan M. Dershowitz. "They lie about crime in order to give their employer what they think he wants to hear." Unlike most legitimate avenues of employment in a sinking economy, informing remains a lucrative profession. Often, in addition to salary, many informers receive substantial perquisites.

L.A. County sheriffs paid informer William Rider $3,000 a month for living expenses. Convicted felon and jailhouse informer Leslie White was given passes out of jail to pursue a sexual relationship with a key witness for the prosecution in the court case his testimony assisted.

"There's no question about it," adds Dershowitz. "Informing has become, if not an honorable trade, a mass occupation."

800 K-9 WE LIE

K-9 is a specially designed housing unit for accused felons who are known jailhouse and street informers. Situated within the walls of the L.A. Hall of Justice Building, K-9 is the nation's most notorious housing unit—for its conviction rate.

"K-9 is the last place you'll want to walk past or enter if you're arrested for a crime you know you didn't commit," reveals William Adams, "because you won't have a chance in hell of calling your lawyer or bondsman before one of K-9's snitches has called his own juice man saying you confessed to him."

Long gone is the convict's code of silence. "It's a game of tag," smiles James Smith, "where the last one to the D.A.'s office is the defendant."

Kevin Dykes walked in K-9 as a witness to murder. He left the informer tank as the accused.

Down snitch Israel Issacs told investigators he witnessed K-9 newcomer Jose Calderin shoot a man in the head outside an Echo Park bar. There was only one problem with Issacs's testimony—he was in jail when the murder occurred.

The news media labeled Bobby Joe Maxwell "the Skid Row Stabber" when he was arrested and charged with ten counts of murder. The only evidence linking Maxwell with the homicides was his palm print, found on a park bench at City Hall East, where one of the bodies was discovered.

Maxwell's prosecution was weak. Enter snitch Sidney Storch, a career criminal with an arrest history dating back to 1967. Storch, who was in jail awaiting trials for three forgery cases, cut a deal with prosecutors.

FROM THE HUSTLER SWIMSUIT ISSUE

SNITCH

"Prosecutors take people who in the past they've called liars, and suddenly they tell the jury, 'You can believe this person.' "

Despite the vigorous objections raised by Maxwell's attorney, Maxwell was moved into module 2400, cell C-3. For 20 days Maxwell shared a cell with three other inmates, one of whom was Sidney Storch.

"Two months after Maxwell and Storch shared a cell," wrote Verna Wefald, a deputy state public defender, in a letter to the L.A. County Grand Jury, "Storch testified that Maxwell had confessed to him."

For his testimony, Storch was sentenced to jail for only 13 months on all three forgery cases.

Maxwell was found guilty of two murders and sentenced to life imprisonment.

It is widely believed, by other informers and prosecutors alike, that Sidney Storch has given "confession" statements to authorities in at least 20 cases.

"It seems that half the world confesses to Sidney Storch," observes former cell mate and jailhouse informer Daniel Roach.

* * *

There are a variety of techniques employed by jailhouse informers to help prosecutors put innocent people behind bars. Some snitches have booked unsuspecting jail mates by carefully compiling a file of newspaper and magazine articles on high-profile cases, or have pretended to be jailhouse lawyers in an attempt to learn about their target's case. Others have even stolen legal documents from the accused.

"Informer testimony is extremely suspect," says Mary Broderick, an attorney with the National Legal Aid and Defender Association in Washington, D.C. "People in custody are always looking for ways to get out."

In addition to gathering information through unscrupulous means, many snitches receive their evidence directly from prosecutors.

"Law officials don't say, 'Hey, I'm going to tell you this so you can testify to it,'" says informer Leslie White. "They give you subtle hints. They know you're going to use them."

Perhaps as a result of similar policies, 16 jailhouse informers claimed to have received confessions from two former police officers accused of murder-for-hire; five snitches stood in line to offer testimony in a Denver murder trial; and a convicted perjurer was allowed to testify against accused child molester Raymond Buckey.

"Prosecutors take people who in the past they've called liars, and suddenly they tell the jury, 'You can believe this person,'" acknowledges prominent Denver, Colorado, defense attorney Larry Pozner. "Reliance on paid informers is the quickest way to injustice in America."

As a result of the increasing use of jailhouse and street snitches, Pozner, as well as many other defense attorneys, requests that his clients be kept in solitary confinement.

Although it is estimated that nearly 60% of all informer testimony is invalid, the fact remains that without snitches, prosecutors would often have few or no cases to pursue.

Informers played vital roles in the successful prosecutions of several high-notoriety cases, including Charles Manson, the Walker-Withworth espionage ring, the Watergate conspirators and L.A.'s Hillside Strangler.

"If a policy were adopted never to enlist criminals as prosecution witnesses, many important prosecutions—especially in the areas of organized crime and conspiratorial crimes—could never make it to court," confirms U.S. 9th Circuit Court of Appeals Judge Stephen S. Trott.

KING RAT

For nearly 12 years Leslie White was a prosecutor's dream witness—that is, until he started informing on the informers.

"I pleaded guilty to kidnapping, robbery and grand-theft auto on a prior prison term," says White, who's been convicted for kidnapping, auto theft, drug dealing and armed robberies. "And [thanks to cutting a deal to snitch] within 20 minutes I was back on the street."

White, a well-known jailhouse and street snitch, demonstrated for sheriffs and cameramen from television's 60 Minutes the ease with which he obtained incriminating information—from the district attorney's office, sheriff's department, coroner's office and homicide detectives—to fabricate confessions from fellow inmates.

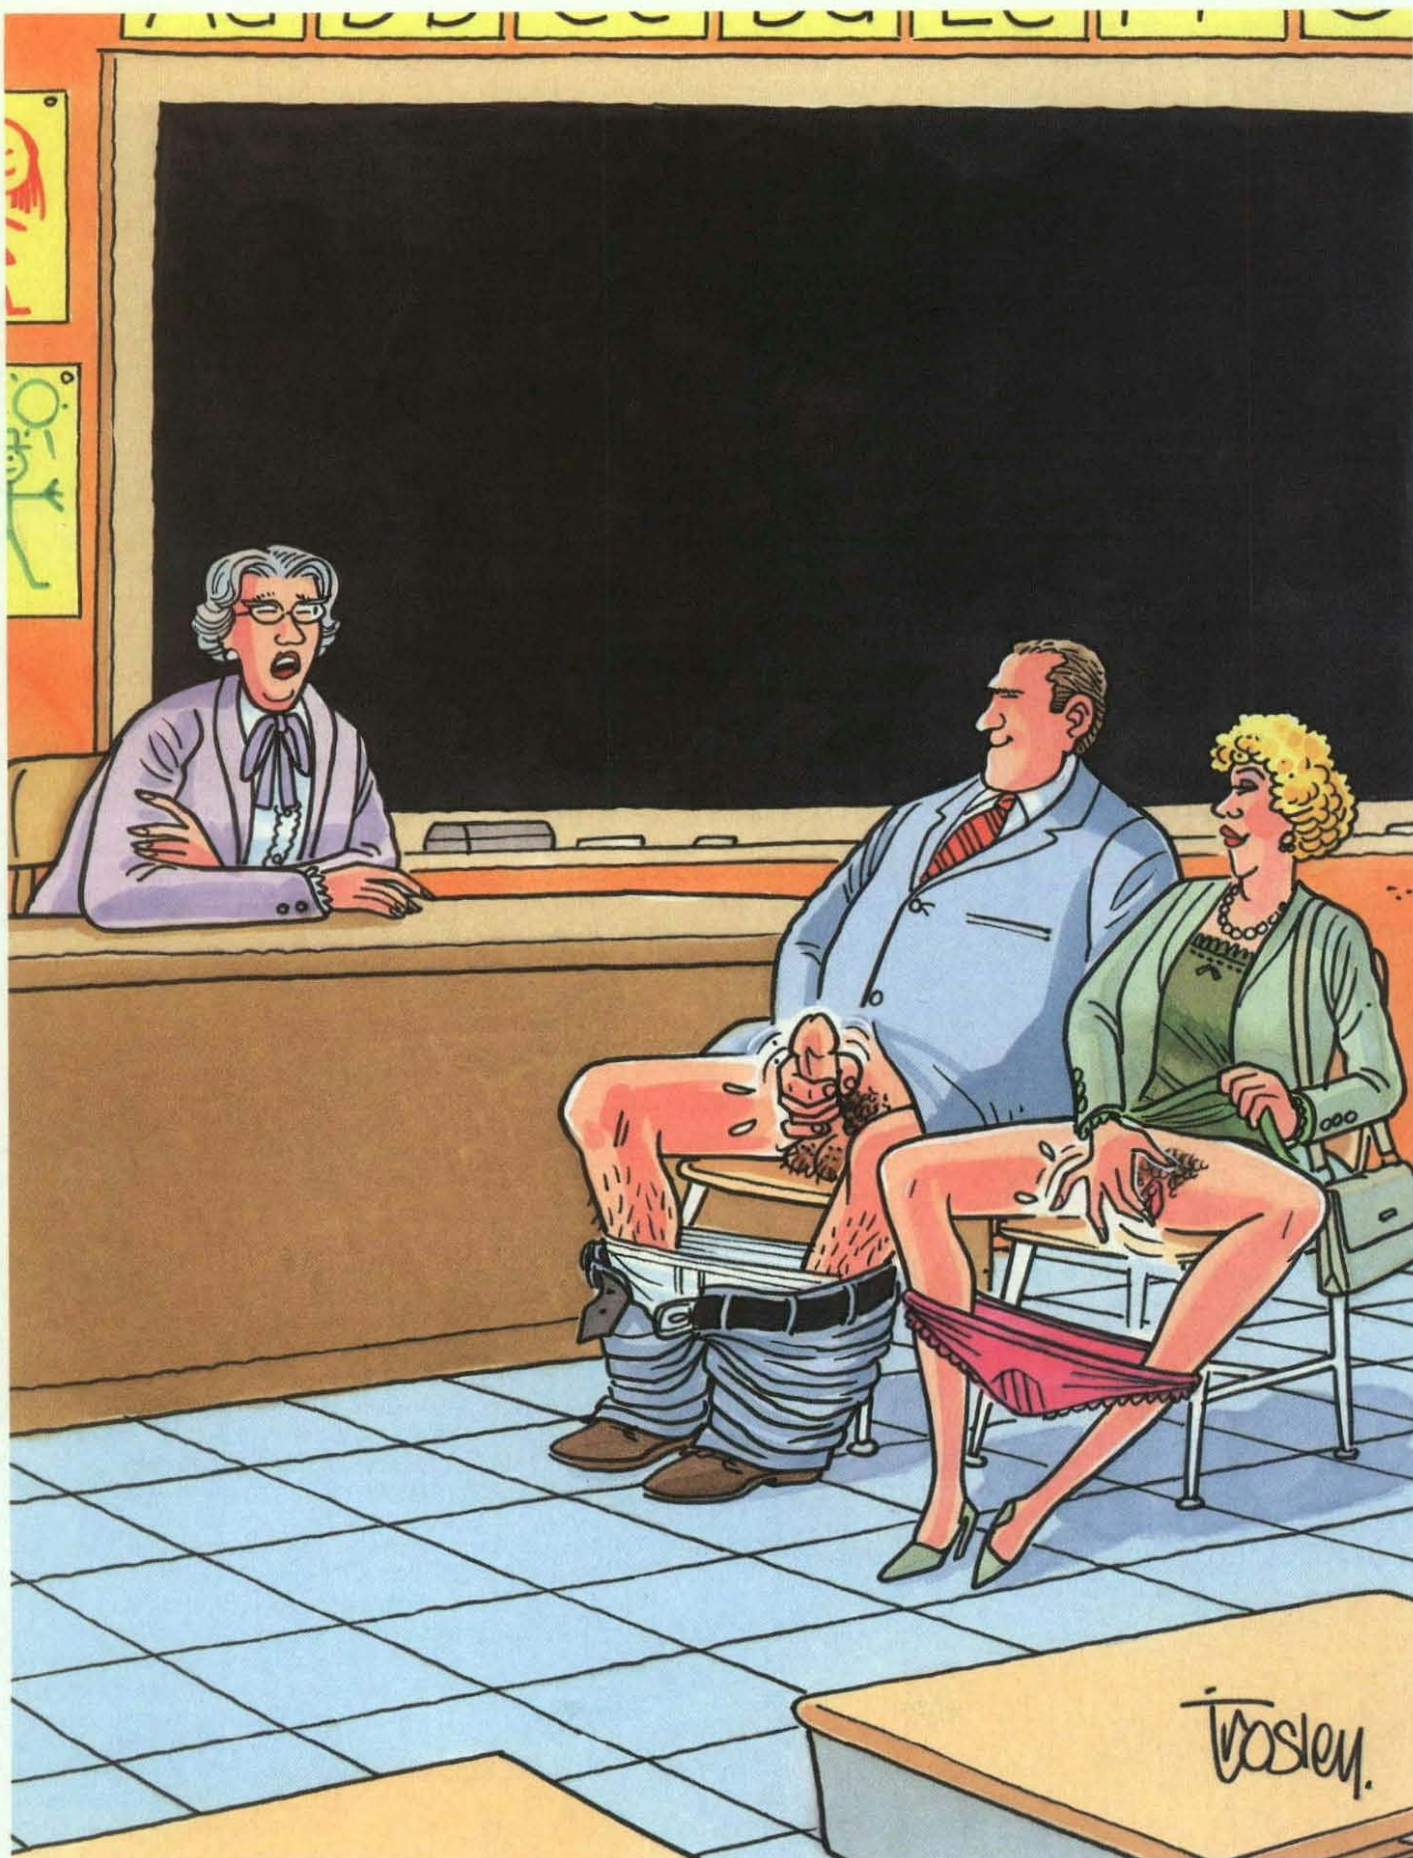

"He's a liar," says Deputy District Attorney Harvey Giss, whom White claims allowed him passes out of jail in a murder trial in which Giss was the chief prosecutor. "White is one of the lowest people on this planet," adds Giss.

Low? Perhaps. But White is definitely a highly regarded rat.

Utilizing a public phone and armed only with the name of a suspect charged

"Of course she's a lousy fuck...she's dead!"

"The reason I've asked you here is to discuss Jason's constant playing with himself."

SNITCH

with murder, White began his demonstration impersonating by turns a deputy sheriff, homicide detective and deputy district attorney. White was, via telephone conversations, able to obtain enough information—about the murder, the victim and the type of wounds inflicted—to fabricate a confession from a man whom White had never met.

Unfortunately for the suspect, White had all bases covered. Still posing as the deputy district attorney, White arranged for the suspect and himself to be transported, by county jail bus, together to the court house—thereby establishing for the prosecution that the two men actually met.

The practice of using the county jail's pay phone to acquire information while in custody is employed by many informers. "It's a highly competitive business. I mean, I hate to say it like that, but it's true," admits White.

According to White, the competition to obtain information is so intense that the informers housed in K-9 threaten a snitch who refuses to share his information. An informer will tell another informer, "I'll call the D.A. and tell him you lied, if you don't let me in the car [share what you're holding]."

Since White's demonstration for authorities and his own admission of committing perjury in several cases, including cases in which the defendant received the death penalty, the Los Angeles County District Attorney's office and several defense-lawyer groups are reexamining nearly 200 convictions over a ten-year period in which informers were used.

Ultimately, the law has a habit of taking with one hand what it gives with the other. Leslie White, for example, is currently serving a five-year, eight-month prison term for snatching a purse from a 65-year-old woman.

FINAL PAYMENT

Although the rewards of being a snitch can be great, in most cases the final reward is fear, paranoia and death.

Squealer Willie King was asleep on his king-size bed in his second-story apartment when, at 12:55 a.m., a blast of shots rang out. King was hit twice before leaping out the bedroom window, seriously injuring himself in the process.

"Somebody ratted on somebody," said LAPD Sergeant Robert Ontiveros.

"The apartment was shot up," added Detective Al Ferrand. "He jumped out the window to avoid being killed."

cated with misunderstandings. Mrs. Gorman described her and Marvin's 35-year marriage with startling candor. She told the court that strange women had always been interested in her husband. She implied that the fault did not lie with Marvin, but with the women who were constantly demanding his time or manufacturing crises so he would come to their aid and thence be taken advantage of.

About her husband's 1981 affair with Lynette Goux, Virginia brought the perspiration-drenched courtroom to tears of laughter when she recounted the time Gorman told her that Goux had come to his hotel room when he was traveling on business.

"She found out where his room was and came bursting in, kissing him and ripping her blouse off," Virginia Gorman related in the same tone one would use to describe yesterday's bacon and eggs. "Marvin told me that he petted her, kissed her and fondled her breasts—and I said, 'What breasts? She doesn't have any!'"

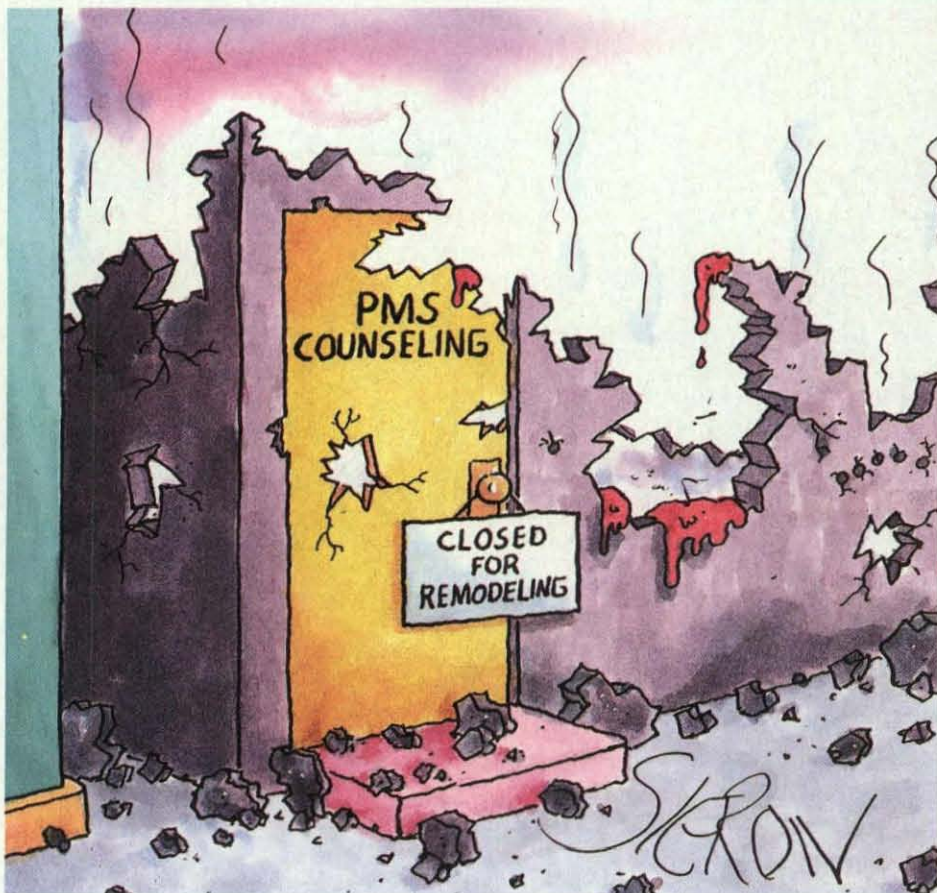

Gorman rocked back and forth during his wife's unabashed testimony, obviously enjoying the positive effect her frank and unsensational presentation had on all present. Several times, he turned to see if the press corps was taking notes.

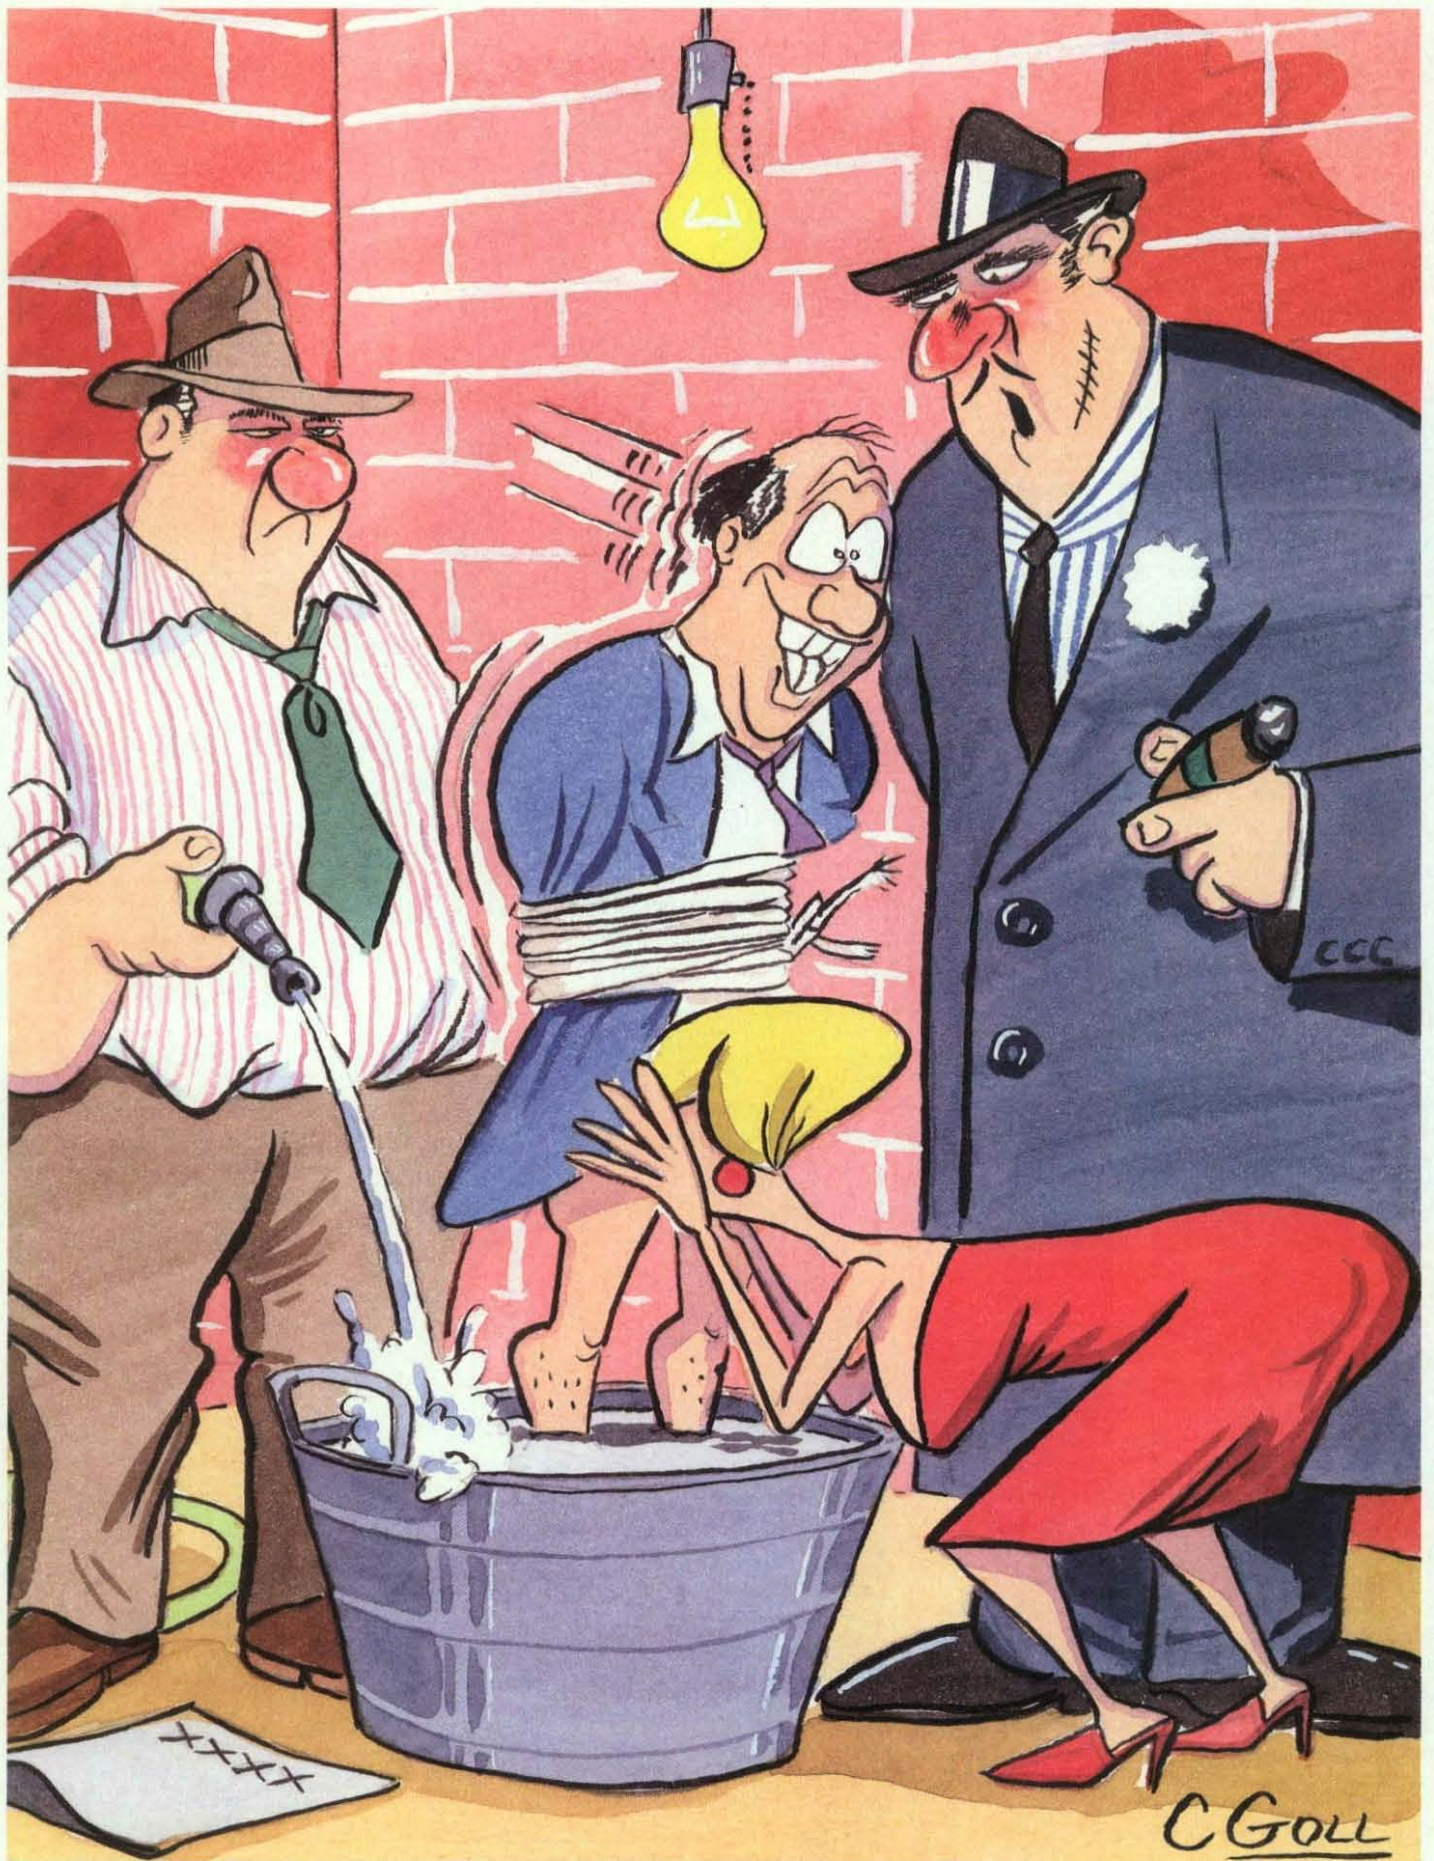

Swaggart, by that time, was nowhere near the courtroom, cringing, perhaps, in a sequestered hideaway, no doubt on his knees.

At the end of the trial in mid-September, the jury sided with Gorman and decided that Swaggart and his lackeys should pay $10 million for defamation of character. Typically, Swaggart met the press, vowing to fight on in appeals court. His belligerent response was of no surprise to Louisiana historian Randall Potts.

"If Swaggart and Gorman lived generations ago, they would meet at a grove of oak trees at a nearby city park. Armed with a rifle and a pistol and separated by 75 paces, at a given signal they would walk toward the other, firing at will," Potts explains.

For the majority of America's God-fearing Christians, a lethal duel between Swaggart and Gorman might have been preferable to a court decision vindicating one of a duo of the lowest moral depravation over the other. For these outraged parishioners, Potts's second recommendation is more comfort for the body than the soul: "Make up a pot of gumbo, drink some red wine, listen to some good music, and simply sit back and enjoy two preposterous fools battling it out."

"Any more last requests?"

enthusiastic about Frank fucking other women without clearing it with her. They reached an agreement: Each may invite others into their mutual sex life and enjoy a stray solo fuck only with the other's approval. "We really don't do anything without each other unless it's cleared or in Ona's line of work," says Frank.

On the down side, Frank echoes the complaint of most porn husbands whose wives also dance in clubs nationwide. "When she's out on the road, I miss her," he says. "And when she comes home, she's tired. I have to take care of her and nurture her and get her back on her feet so she can go out on the road again—which I'm really grateful she can do right now because times are tough."

Ona's porn career has helped his marriage in the long run, according to Frank: "I think it's given her a level of confidence in herself as a woman, and in her ability to express herself and to take care of herself and take care of me at times—that's really bolstered her self-esteem."

Contrary to folks who think the fuck-flick business is distasteful, for Frank and Ona, sex is a kind of religion that leads to enlightenment, and Ona's involvement in the business plays only a small part in the couple's experience with the esoterically orgasmic netherworld of Tantric sex.

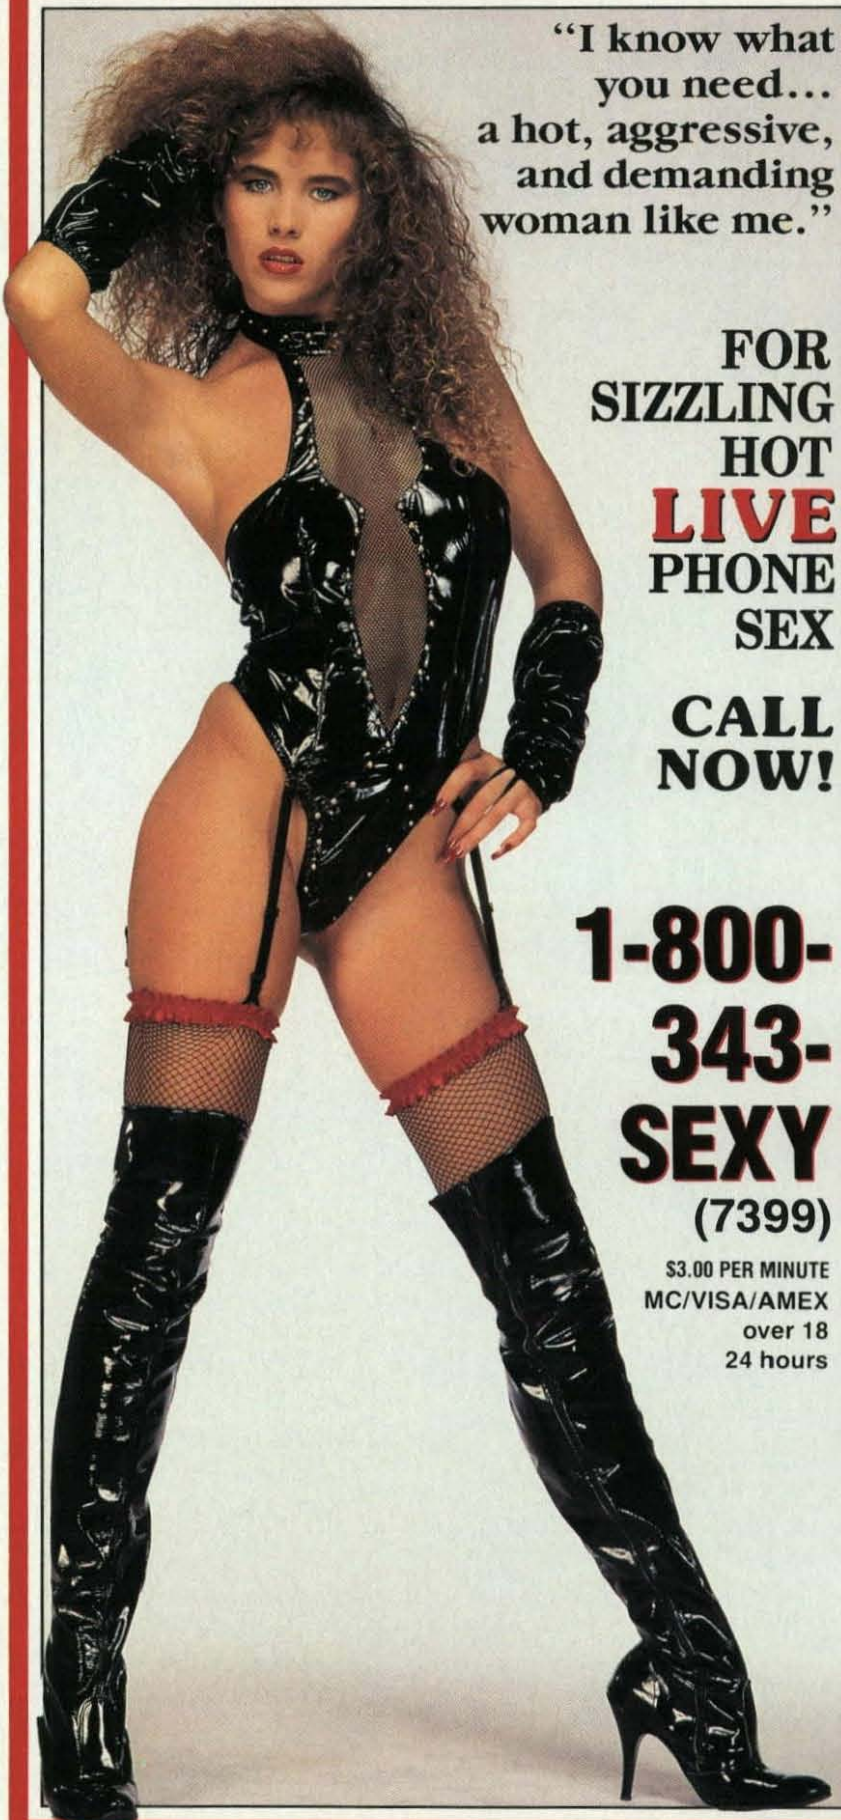

Still, in order to make the relationship work, Frank makes no bones that it's a labor of love. "Porno adds a dimension to it where people have to be even more open-minded. And the secret for us is to work at it and be tolerant of each other," he says.

How has Ona's career affected their sex life? "When she's gone, there's a lack of it, of course!" Frank laughs. "Occasionally she comes home sore from the bigger guys, but that's okay. I don't have to be on her every minute. If she's been working at sex all day, then she's probably not really interested that night—but there are occasions when she comes home so charged, she jumps all over me!"

NOT FOR THE WEAK-HEARTED

Men like David Mann and Frank Zee aren't your average Joes—but they are shining examples of successful smut spouses. Their secret? Both men know that the degree to which any man can be a happy porn hubby is inversely proportional to his capacity for jealousy. Most men don't savor the idea of seeing their wives getting fucked by five guys in Ninja Turtle masks on a steel veterinary table.

And for those husbands who do, well, as David Mann puts it, "You have to be a little warped." 🍆

ENLARGE, THICKEN & HARDEN YOUR PENIS TO IT'S MAXIMUM!
HAVE ERECT MEASUREMENTS OF 9, 10, EVEN 12 FULL INCHES!

Let Scott Taylor "King of Penis Enlargement" show you how!

Is the size of your penis bringing you down? Sure, the medical authorities say that size doesn't count, but as long as women have a need to be filled, they will demand the full measure of devotion. And no amount of psychological reassurance will fill the gap between expectation and reality.

Now, with a simple device you can follow in the footsteps of Super Porn Stars, Scott Taylor, Jeff Stryker and the hundreds of thousands of men who have proven that there is a way to INCREASE PENIS SIZE and THICKNESS! The device is called the SUPRA-12 VACUUM ENLARGER. A safe and proven natural way to add inches to penis length and thickness. With the SUPRA-12, you will see yourself grow to dimensions you never thought possible.

HOW CAN THE SUPRA-12
VACUUM ENLARGER INCREASE
PENIS LENGTH & THICKNESS?

Your erection is caused by blood flowing into hollow caverns inside your penis. The caverns fill with blood and your penis grows in size and thickness and becomes stiffer and stiffer until the caverns are filled with all the blood they can hold. BUT, IF YOU INCREASE THE CAPACITY OF THE CAVERNS BY MAKING THEM BIGGER, THEY HOLD MORE BLOOD and you have a correspondingly longer, thicker penis. You'll see the astonishing results the first time you use your SUPRA-12. Your penis will grow inside the clear, picture window sleeve. Immediately you'll see just how really BIG... how really FAT... how LONG... how HARD and STIFF your own penis can get! And after regular sessions with the SUPRA-12 you'll probably find as do most men that these size gains don't go away! They become a part of you to thrill and excite her!

SUPRA-12, THE "ROLLS ROYCE" OF VACUUM ENLARGERS.

These sophisticated instruments are by far the state of the art in penis enhancing machinery. The HEAVY DUTY MANUAL model is a finely crafted precision instrument designed to create the vacuum needed to make the male organ LONG and THICKER. And for the connoisseur, the powerful ULTRA DELUXE ELECTRIC model (U.L. approved) is equipped to give you continuous even sucking power until you shut it off! The ULTRA DELUXE ELECTRIC is perfectly safe and as quiet as a whisper.

Accept no substitutes if you are truly serious about penis enlargement - join the more than half a million men who have proved that the SUPRA-12 will do the job for you!

24.95 HOW-TO-VIDEO

SCOTT TAYLOR TAKES YOU STEP-BY-STEP AND SHOWS YOU HOW TO ENLARGE YOUR PENIS! He'll show you what phenomenal increases he has made in both the length and diameter of his penis with careful experimentation. Finally, he has hit upon the most efficient enlargement method to date! This video tape is a full color, detailed, step-by-step explanation by Scott of what you need to know to increase your own genital size.

How to order them without embarrassment.
How to use them without disappointment.

Today, people are interested in improving the quality of their lives and exploring their own sensuality with options from the Xandria Collection.

The most important aspect of satisfaction is trust. Trust us... thoughtful consideration goes into each product in the catalogue. Quality, value, and sensual appeal are all important elements, as are you, the customer.

What is The Xandria Collection?

It is a very special collection of sensual products. It includes the finest and most effective products available from around the world.

Products that can open new doors to pleasure (perhaps many you never knew existed)!

Our products range from the simple to the delightfully complex. They are designed for both the timid and the bold. For anyone who's ever wished there could be something more to their sensual pleasure.

The Xandria Collection has a unique three-way guarantee. We've had the same, no worry guarantee for the past 17 years (since 1974).

First, we guarantee your privacy.

Everything we ship is plainly packaged and securely wrapped, with no clue to its contents from the outside. All transactions are strictly confidential and we never sell, give or trade any customer's name.

Second, we guarantee your satisfaction. If a product seems unsatisfactory, simply return in within 60 days for a replacement or refund.

Third, we guarantee the quality of our products for one year. If it malfunctions, simply return it to us for a replacement.

The Xandria Gold Collection... a tribute to closeness and communication. Celebrate the possibilities for pleasure we each have within us. If you're prepared to intensify your own pleasure, then send for the Xandria Gold Collection Edition catalogue. It is priced at just $4.00 which is applied in full to your first order.

Write today. You have absolutely nothing to lose. And an entirely new world of enjoyment to gain.

The Xandria Collection, Dept. HU592

Imagine this addition when you are erect and up to 3 inches even when you are soft. Penetrate and thrill every opening of your partner deeper than ever before.

You will achieve these additions to your penis size without pumps, straps or strenuous exercise.

- ☐ Regular Zenith - Guaranteed minimum 2 inch addition — $14.95 plus $3 shipping.

Jeff Stryker's How to Enlarge Your PENIS

Enlarge your PENIS to its Maximum Potential!

Jeff Stryker, America's No. 1 adult video star, shows you in his brand new video and magazine how he pumps up to a bigger, harder and thicker penis. Watch Jeff as he demonstrates step by step his penis power building techniques and tells you everything you need to know to increase your penis length and diameter.

Here is why Jeff Stryker's penis enlargement method can work for you.

Your erection and increase in penis size is caused by the flow of blood through the many blood vessels of the caverns, a spongy substance of the penis. The penis pump allows the caverns of your penis to expand, permitting blood to fill the caverns which causes the penis to grow and become erect.

You do this by inserting the penis into the pump's clear cylinder (you actually watch your penis grow). Erect measurements up to 12 inches!

Your penis grows larger and firmer more than you ever dreamed possible!

HUSTLER

June HUSTLER on sale April 14, 1992

GET PUMPED

HUSTLER blasts into June on the smokin' tails of five fab bitches bustin' britches. Two bow-tied, spit-smeared, men's-club waitresses burn tit tips and tongues in a blazing, after-hours double dip in their own private party; a baby-face blonde with a tight grip and a grownup play chest slides sticky candy 'tween the drooling lips south of her peach-soft bellybutton; a duo of barefoot beauties—one fair, one dark—wiggle toes, oil-stroke their hard-edged tan lines and scratch an itch for sun and fun; and a thumbin', leggy pedestrian pays her fare with flair by takin' a cruisin' Brooklyn cabbie on the mother of all cab humps. Hand it to HUSTLER in June. We've got a fistful.

FIELD OF SCREAMS

While crime figures in some cities have begun to stabilize, out in the boondocks—where a single deputy may be responsible for patrolling 100 square miles—crime statistics have shot off the scale. Word to the wise for anyone who thinks the city's vice, the country's nice: Malefaction ain't just an urban blight anymore. In Mayhemberry, D.O.A., writer J. R. Nelson recounts dozens of rural wrongdoings heinous enough to make an inner-city murderer blush.

BIRTHDAYSUIT COMPETITION

Canada ain't exactly famous for legal, public nudity, but Mississauga, Ontario—home of the 1991 Miss Nude International Pageant—seems hell-bent on cracking Canuck carnal codes. Unflinching cheesecake-jurist Alex Marvel gawks, gapes, groans and gasps as he exposes the world's foremost, blue-ribbon skin in Nipples-'n'-Muffs Equals All the Right Stuff, a good, hard look at the size, shape and smell of the qualifications beauty-pageant contestants don't show on TV.

POUR IT ON

Looking for luck, money, success? Forget amulets, potions and charms—try fucking instead. Pump-priestess R. Johanna lays the fuck-for-luck secrets of age-old sex magic on the line in "Voodoo Sexonomics," HUSTLER's Sex Play for June; Hot Letters seals a fresh load of blistering cunt-and-cock confessions with gash glue; Beaver Hunt makes peeping Toms look like chumps by bagging the neighborhood nudists indoors; and Bits & Pieces measures the closest distance between bad taste and good humor with bitchin' tits and asses. HUSTLER in June lights a flesh-fueled finger-fire. Too hot to handle? Not for long!
