Beverly Sills, Shirley Verrett, Justino Diaz, and Harry Theyard are in excellent form on Angel's new recording of Rossini's magnificent The Siege of Corinth. This opera, which has never been recorded before, shows the composer in a serious vein. Thomas Schippers and the London Symphony Orchestra and Ambrosian Opera Chorus are to be complimented for their sensitive musicianship. This was Ms. Sills' debut at the Metropolitan Opera House.

W. A. Mozart's Il Re Pastore received one of its best interpretations to date on a new BASF disc. The opera, composed when Mozart was only nineteen, provides an excellent vehicle for the beautiful singing of Edith Mathis, Arleen Auger, Sona Ghazarian, Peter Schreier, and Werner Krenn. Leopold Hager conducts the Mozarteum-Orchester Salzburg who perform, as always, impeccably.

Mozart's brilliant Don Giovanni receives a first-class treatment at the hands of an impressive cast on a recent Angel release. It's the Edinburgh Festival Production with which Daniel Barenboim made his debut as a conductor of opera. He does an excellent job. The fine cast includes Roger Soyer, Antigone Sgourda, Alberto Rinaldi, Heather Harper and Geraint Evans.

Opera buffs will enjoy Franco Bonisoli: Arias from Italian and French Operas (BASF). The young tenor turns in his most stunning performance to date here, exhibiting a brilliant voice and a real command of his repertoire. Leone Magiera conducts the State Philharmonic Orchestra of Hamburg.

Ex-Bread member David Gates offers a mellow set in his second solo lp, Never Let Her Go (Elektra). Gates' warm delivery and well-written original tunes make for some pleasant listening. Highlights include "Playin' On My Guitar," "Light of My Life" and the title tune.

Big Mama Thornton is perhaps the last of the great female blues singers still performing. Sassy Mama (Vanguard) is in her first waxing in quite a while, and features some powerful and exciting singing. The band, consisting of Cornell Dupree on guitar, Paul Griffin on keyboards, Jimmy Johnson on drums, Buddy Lucas on tenor sax and Wilbur Bascomb on bass, turns in a strong performance, but one misses the raw Chicago drive of her Arhoolie recordings with Buddy Guy. Nonetheless, Big Mama's performances on "Private Number" and "Mr. Cool" make this a must for Chicago blues buffs.

Roy Acuff, one of the grand daddies of country music, has a strong album in Smoky Mountain Memories (MGM). Acuff's voice is a big shakier than it was in his heyday, but there's some good music here nonetheless in "A Whole Month of Sundays," "Wait For the Light To Shine," and other tunes.

There's no justice in the music world if Rory Block's debut album doesn't become a national best seller. Ms. Block's talents as a writer and singer are surpassed by few on the contemporary music scene. Backed by an assortment of ace sidemen, Rory Block (RCA) offers sophisticated rock, soul, and country tunes. Her music was a real surprise to this reviewer, who remembers her from years ago playing ragtime guitar duets with Stephen Grossman. Daughter of renowned old-timey fiddler and sandal-maker Alan Block, Rory pretty much abandons her folk roots here, and in her case, the move is not to be lamented. "I Made It All By Myself," and "A Million Broken Hearts," will knock you out time after time.

Cornet man Nat Adderly dishes up some funky jazz on Double Exposure (Prestige). Some crackerjack sidemen are along for the ride, including George Duke on keyboards, Billy Fender on guitar, and brother Cannonball Adderly on alto sax. Highlights include "Song of the Valdez Diamond," "Watermelon Man," and "In A Silent Way."

Steely Dan backs up its reputation as one of the more creative rock bands around on their latest waxing, Katy Lied (ABC). Walter Becker and Donald Fagen have few equals as songwriters today. Their lyrics are consistently interesting, rarely relying on clichés, and their melodic sense is far more advanced than most rock writers. On the basis of their instrumental work alone, the Dan is funkier and more original than any other rock band currently around. Walter Becker, well known for rolling "bombers" at Bard College, offers tasty guitar and bass. Donald Fagen's distinctive vocals and keyboard work, Denny Dias' guitar and the musicianship of a sterling cast too large to mention all make for some dynamite music. "Throw Back The Little Ones," "Everybody's Gone To The Movies," and "Daddy Don't Live In That New York City No More" are among the high points here.

Debby McClatchy: Homemade Goodies (Fretless) is a refreshing program of original and traditional material. The New York-based folksinger, originally from San Francisco, has a lovely voice best appreciated on unaccompanied ballads. Debby spent several months in Dublin soaking up traditional material, and her Irish songs are perhaps the most effective in her repertoire. "Old Forrest" and "Colorado Song" are both strong originals; there are too few folks today writing narrative songs. Available from Fretless/Philo Records, The Barn, North Ferrisburg, Vt.

Jody Stecher and friends present a varied and unusual program of old-time string band music on Snake Baked a Hoecake (Bay). Stecher, once a fixture in the New York old-timey and bluegrass scene, now hangs out on the West Coast. He provides some sterling fiddle, guitar and mandolin work throughout the album, assisted by a conglomeration including Jack Kalionzes, Fred Sokolow, Marty Somberg and Eric Thompson, most of whom double on various instruments. The group has chosen some beautiful and seldom-heard traditional tunes, and a few contemporary tunes as well. "Leela Leela," a Nepalese fiddle tune with lyrics by one Billy Schwarz, is a spiritual chant with both a country and Indian feel, and is one of the disc's high points. Available from Bay Records, 5801 Margarido Drive, Oakland, California 94618.

Mickey Newbury has established himself as one of the leading pop and country songwriters in the business. Lovers (Elektra) is a low-keyed and mellow disc featuring ten top-notch Newbury originals. Check out "You've Always Got The Blues," "If You Ever Get To Houston," and "When Do We Stop Starting Over."

Pop superstar Jack Drinkwell reveals a darker side of his personality on Time To Die! (Ph汪ga), his first waxing of original material. We never believed those rumors about Jack's violent tendencies before, but after hearing "Prepare To Die," "You Lie, You Die," and "Bite My Wang, Sir," what is one to think? The cover photo of an unconscious and half-clad Jack sprawled across a mattress with an onion in his mouth is a far cry from the suave and tuxedoed Jack middle-America has grown to love. This stuff may endear him to the Alice Cooper crowd, but will lose for him the adulation of millions of respectable Americans. Dick Bupkis and The Bayou Boys join Jack for a rousing Cajun tune, "Gumbo, I'm Going To Kill You!" The popular soul band Darktown backs Jack on a funky "You're Talkin' Bout The Woman I Love."

BOOKS

Anne Edwards' Judy Garland

(Simon and Schuster) chronicles the fabulous singer-entertainer's career from her pre-MGM days to her death in 1969. Ms. Edwards has done some impressive research, and the result is a warm and rewarding book. A good selection of photos is an extra bonus.

Anne Rider's fourth novel, A Safe Place (Bobbs-Merill) is every bit as good as her previous triumphs. The British author gives us an engaging plot and an often farcical setting with serious undertones. Her memorable characters and elegant language make this book well worth while.

Andrey Biely has often been called "the Russian Joyce" on the basis of his "St. Petersburg" and The Silver Dove (Grove Press), an apocalyptic work completed in 1909. This complex and symbolic novel ranks as one of the real masterpieces of twentieth-century fiction, and should not be missed.

The Early American Songbook (Prentice-Hall) by Lee Vinson is a delightful collection of 18th century tunes that should be a hit for the Bicentennial. Included are ballads, revolutionary songs, and sacred tunes, all in easy arrangements. Informative notes to the tunes are provided and offer pertinent historical background information.

Nothing In Moderation: A Biography of Ernie Kovacs (Drake) by David G. Walley, does justice to the spirit of the late comedian. The madcap Kovacs and his zany antics are captured here, and complimented by some nifty photos and selections from Kovacs' Mad Magazine pieces.

Theatre in Dada and Surrealism (Syracuse University Press) is an invaluable aid to the student of twentieth century theatre. Professor Matthews, an eminent authority on surrealism, offers keen insights into the avant-garde theatre in this impressive work.

Your Marriage Is In Trouble If...

by Bill Maury

Recently, a marriage counselor wrote in a syndicated column that one of the symptoms of a decaying marriage was lack of communication resulting in a dropoff in carnal pursuits and personal respect. Far be it from me to criticize, but that's like saying one of the symptoms of death is a lack of desire to go out and get a job. Dealing in generalities seldom works. Communications? Lack of it? Compared to what? To whom? Couples today need specifics. Times change. Personalities are altered. Values vary. Lifestyles swing like pendulums. But there are certain, definite, unfailing signs that a marriage is in trouble. Here they are:

A marriage is in trouble . . .

. . . when a husband returns home from a three-day trip and finds a sign in the bedroom saying "Under New Management."

. . . when a wife steams open her husband's mail while it's still in his pocket.

. . . when a husband gets the seven-year itch—after three weeks of marriage.

. . . when a wife regards love-making as part of her weight reducing program.

. . . when the husband begins taking in laundry women.

. . . when a wife takes the tufts out of her husband's electric toothbrush and puts in a hammer.

. . . when a husband has a hot line installed between his bedroom and the YWCA.

. . . when the husband walks in his sleep and carries a change of underwear.

. . . when the wife refuses to burn her membership card in the Lonely Hearts Club.

. . . when the wife refuses to make love on Polly Adler's birthday.

. . . when the husband threatens to shoot himself and the wife suggests he use a bow-and-arrow so he won't disturb the neighbors.

. . . when the husband takes up trick shooting and wants to shoot the cigarette out of his wife's mouth—from the back.

. . . when the husband finds ground glass in his Jockey shorts.

THOSE are definite signs of a failing marriage.
Lack of communications indeed! □

Single Girl Sex Survey

by Clark Bass

Do you wonder what the sex life of the average single girl is like today? We did, and we took a sex survey of hundreds of girls all across the United States. Since their last names would not be used, they cooperated with us to the fullest for the purpose of informing men of their true interests and activities. We analyzed all the responses to the questionnaire we sent out, and our decision was to divide them up according to various sections of the country, and then to pick out the most average, the most typical response from that particular section. We settled on five responses that most typify the sex lives of single girls today.

First, we'll show the questionnaire so you'll know the questions the girls were answering. Then we'll let you see the five sample responses that have made the most average answers of the girls from each section of the country. We've chosen responses from the East, the South, the Southwest, the Midwest, and the West. Here is the questionnaire:

1. How many men have you had sexual relations with, and over what period of time? 2. Do you enjoy different positions or other forms of sexual variety? 3. Do you practice oral sex? 4. How often do you masturbate? 5. Do you enjoy any practices which might be considered "unusual?" 6. What do you consider the most common sexual mistake men make? 7. What advice do you have for men?

The first response is from a 21 year-old girl named Gayle from Syracuse. It is as follows:

1. I've had sexual relations with eleven different guys, beginning with my junior year in high school. My girl friends were beginning to compare orgasms, and I was eager to get into the act myself. I lost my virginity when my steady and I went horseback riding and rode each other instead.

2. I've tried all the different positions I've ever heard of. I have fantastic orgasms when I'm on top of a guy who's sitting in a chair. If it's a rocking chair, I have multiple orgasms. If it's a vibrating chair I never stop coming. Of course I've gotten a little shaky doing it that way.

3. Sometimes when I was in my period I would fellate guys. They were all for it except for one confused guy who thought a blow job was balling during a tor-

GLORIA

"How ya gonna keep 'em down on the farm, after they've seen Paree" is a question that was subject to heated debate by our grandparents, and is still troubling some of our finest minds today. These intellects with their high-fangled talk have much to learn from sultry Gloria, a high fashion model with a chic pad in Chicago and who has travelled around the world twice, only to return to her parents' farm in Split Rock, Alabama. Our lissome lass, after finishing high school, decided to major in foreign languages, which she studied for four years at a major university. Speaking fluent French, Spanish, Russian, German, and Swahili, Gloria was much in demand for translating and interpreting work, and worked for a number of American embassies abroad. "Those were good gigs," Gloria told us. "They enabled me to live and travel in a foreign country while making good money. I learned a lot, and met some fine people, but I got lonesome for the States and got into fashion modeling. But I began to feel that I was meant for a simpler life. It's hard for me to keep my head together and remain spiritually at ease when I'm working in a high-pressure situation. I like doing things with my hands and being closer to mother nature. It gives me a feeling of well-being." So Gloria returned home to her folks' farm and loves it. "Working on the farm was no big adjustment for me to make, because I used to do farm chores as a little girl. I already knew everything I had to know."

Gloria feels that she may want to return to the world of fashion or foreign languages some day, and is keeping her mastery of foreign tongues in shape by speaking to the farm

nado. When I come to cunnilingus, which takes only about five minutes, I'm an eager beaver.

4. When I was young I found that I could get to sleep easier if I slept with a pillow between my legs and squeezed my thighs rhythmically. This was soothing to me, although when anyone asked me if I ever masturbated I said no. I'd even wake up at night with a delicious quivering going on throughout my body, but I still didn't know what was happening. I finally came to the truth of the matter when one of my girlfriends spent the night with me and asked why my pillow smelled like a fish market.

5. The most unusual sex I ever enjoyed was when a guy covered my entire body with whipped cream and then licked it all off. Afterwards I whipped him until he creamed too.

6. I think the most common mistake men make is they don't play with a girl enough before they try to go in her. If he'd get my playground a little wetter, he'd swing easier and slide happier.

7. The only advice I have for men is that if they'd try to make me happy, I'd give all I've got to make them happy. And I've heard from more than one that I've got what it takes to make a man happy.

The second response is from 20 year-old Nancy of Birmingham, Alabama:

1. I've had sex with six different fellows. My first affair lasted the whole summer after I graduated from high school. My parents made me get a summer job, and it was in the stock room of a store working with a horny fellow who'd just gotten out of the navy. He took stock of me and I took stock of him. My next five guys were during two years of college. There were a lot of fellows there straight off the farm, and all they could think about was plowing my field.

2. My favorite position is the standard man on top, although one of the fellows at college only wanted to do it from the rear because that's the way he'd seen all the animals on his farm do it. It wouldn't have been so bad if he hadn't made me go moo and bah and oink.

3. I did oral sex to one guy, but he almost drowned me because his starting pistol went off while I thought the race was still on. Some of the other fellows did oral sex to me because they said it made me wetter. Frankly I thought I was juicy as an overripe fruit as it was, but I never complained because it felt too good.

4. I used to play with myself all the time when I was a virgin because I'd get so frustrated fighting fellows off. They thought I was prim and proper in high school, never guessing I made myself come practically every night. Sometimes I'd get so excited fighting guys off that I'd come while we were wrestling. I'd let his hand go to my crotch right for the moment of orgasms so I could feel that intense pleasure, then I'd push him away and ask him what kind of girl he thought I was.

5. I never did anything very unusual, except maybe when I'd ball this one guy while his roommate was studying a few feet away. It never occurred to me the other fellow was actually watching us until I noticed that I'd go to the bathroom after to clean myself, my boyfriend would go clean himself, and the roommate would go clean his pants!

6. The biggest mistake I think men make is that their performance doesn't last as long as their sales pitch. Like that ad said, it's not how long it is, but how long you do it. Maybe that wasn't what the ad said, but you get my message.

7. The best advice I could give fellows is that if they take their shirts off and stand in a draft and then get stiff necks, they should stand in drafts with their pants down.

From Houston, Texas, comes the response of Judy, age 24:

1. I've been screwed by fifteen different guys, which maybe is a lot, I don't know, although I have some friends who have screwed more men than that. One of them likes soldiers and she's been had by a whole brigade. Or was it a battalion—or a regiment? Anyways, I lost my virginity in the back seat of a car when a boy said he'd like to delve into my strongest feelings, and I told him I thought that would be very nice, and then he said my strongest feelings were down between my thighs, and that's what he got into. I liked it, and I had orgasms even that first time. I liked sex, and I screwed most of the men I dated, six or seven of them on the first date. One guy even told me I had a horizontal personality, which he said meant I was happiest on my back. I like big men, and I've screwed college and professional football players. Men who like big women come to me, because they say I really have a pair. I have lots of dates, but I don't screw everyone because I don't believe in being promiscuous.

2. I like to buck a guy, which means riding on top of him, because then my boobs hang down in his face and he gets to nibble away while I'm hopping up and down. I have my strongest orgasms when I'm on top.

3. The first time a guy said he liked to eat it out of the box, I thought he meant the kind of cereal where you open the little boxes and pour milk in and eat it right then and there. It took me a long time before I learned what a box was, although lots of men have told me I have a good one. I've only done oral sex on a couple of guys, because mostly they want to screw me, but I did do it to a baseball pitcher one night in a deserted baseball field and in turn he ate me—right out of the box.

4. I don't masturbate too much, only when I'm not screwing.

5. I don't think I've ever done anything unusual. Girls in this part of the country don't go in for that

PROSTITUTION

For countless jaded Johns, sex with a pretty chick has become too commonplace and ordinary, and a new breed of hooker is reaping in a fortune mint satisfying their desires for something unusual and different

WITH A TWIST

by Lang Reade

From bald-headed broads to tattooed fatties, from toy-sized dwarfs to 6 and 7 foot tall behemoths—they are all part of the new breed of prostitutes which are literally rolling in the dough because they are offering their clients a whole new sexual experience with a brand-new twist! Yes, the age of Miss America is slowly disappearing. Beauty alone in a tremendous amount of cases just doesn't seem to be able to attract the big greenbacks any longer. Today, whether a girl is working the streets of Los Angeles or the class hotels in Miami Beach, she has to have a gimmick if she expects to survive. The competition is simply too fierce! What about yourself? What's your pleasure? Have you ever dreamed of making it with a sex-starved amputee? An Oriental midget? A 60-year old bag-hag? Or possibly a 6-foot, 6-inch African Queen turns your manhood on? Well, if you are concerned with some of your far-out fantasies, stop worrying and start enjoying yourself. According to many of the nation's leading sex experts, your urges, no matter how far-out or crazy they may seem to be to you, are shared by millions of other men all across the world.

As Denise L., a 265-pound woman wrestler who turned to prostitution last fall, told me, "Sex with a beautiful girl just isn't a novelty to most men nowadays. There was a time when it was enough to be young and pretty. In fact, there was a time when it was essential if you expected to make big money. But now you need something unusual—something different to offer a John. Take me, for example." She smiled as she displayed the bulges of muscle and fat that hung from her gigantic arms and legs like melted cheese on a pizza. "Look at my body. Now wouldn't you call that different?" There was no arguing about that.

George T., a successful New York pimp, agrees that the big money has switched from the "conventional" to the "unconventional." He has recruited 6 midgets who are grossing him over $6,000 a week! "I could use 6 more," he told me. "As it is now, my girls are overworked. They're working 14 to 16 hours a day, and they still can't keep up with all the appointments that I set up for them. I've been thinking about raiding a circus or something!" He laughed and then got serious again. "With the way things are going nowadays, a circus sideshow could prove to be a goldmine for a wide-awake pimp. And that's no joke, believe me. Times have changed. Find yourself the most-unlikely-girl-to-succeed and she'll become your hottest property. After all, my crew is living proof!"

Yes, no matter where you go today or who you talk with, it's agreed that the "abnormal" is turning clients on and getting them to spend their hard earned cash at an incredible rate. As Lisa T., owner of a midwestern cathouse told me, "I receive requests every day of the week that would boggle your baggies. Guys come in here looking for pregnant chicks, deaf and dumb broads, amputees—hell, you name it and I've been asked to find it. Out of necessity I have already begun to build up a file for my clients. I have entries from Chinese lesbians to fat women with hair on their chests. It's really wild, but you know the old saying—you got to go where the money is and change with the times. I don't care if a guy wants to make it with a horny hippo—if he'll pay the price, I'll be damned if I won't try my best to deliver the goods. It's certainly a crazy world, isn't it?"

Why the sudden change from Beauty to the Beast? Well, there are no clear-cut answers, but one traveling businessman, who tours the country regularly, expressed his feelings about the situation this way:

"You go into every city and it's always the same old story," he told me. "You go find yourself some bar, land yourself a real knockout of a chick who's always slim, attractive, and young, and before the night's over you're in the sack. Oh maybe sometimes the chick has blonde hair and sometimes red, but other than that she's the same wherever you go. It's as though Detroit was running her off on their assembly line or something. There's just nothing exciting about 'her' anymore. Personally, I'd prefer to get my kicks out of humping a midget or an amputee. Last week in Chicago I hooked up with a near basket case, and in Cleveland last month I made it with a chick that could have passed for a gorilla. It was really fascinating!"

According to Carole B. and Shelly N., lesbian acts are also turning a fast dollar these days. "It's really great work," Carole told me. "I mean, after all, we can do what we like to do best—make love to each other—and get paid top dollar for doing it! Isn't that what everybody dreams of—enjoying their work?" The girls told me that they put on a real wild show for their Johns and then let him join them for a trio. As Shelly expressed it, "We actually gang-bang him!"

Going the lessy route usually turns into an expensive evening since the John has to pay the price of two girls instead of just one, but apparently there are enough well-heeled guys around because, by the looks of things, Carole and Shelly appeared to be reaping in the harvest!

Another pro, who works the bar circuit in Houston, Mary G., told me that, "it's not just the beautiful girl that has become common place, the bed has lost its appeal too. Prostitutes are now balling their Johns in bathrooms, closets, used car lots, even stables—horsestables!"

"Horsestables?" I inquired.

"Yes, you heard me right," laughed Mary. "Would you believe that two of my girlfriends have fixed up a stable that they are renting in the country. Complete with hay, horses, and spurs. I told them that they were literally rolling in the hay now!" she laughed. "And they are getting paid pretty damn well for it too!"

Asked where her favorite place to earn money was, Mary answered, "Well, it's still the bed, but I offer my clients a twist in a different way. Ever heard of the Mexican knot trick?" I admitted that I had in my old Army days and she smiled. "Well, that's my ace in the hole. It gets them coming back everytime!"

Yes, for the Plain Janes, the Over-The-Hill-Gang, and the Uglies, there could be no better time to enter the world's oldest profession. I spoke with a lot of girls who used to spend hours trying to fix themselves up real pretty for their Johns. Now, they tell me that they are playing things down.

"We've stopped shaving our legs and underneath our arms," one girl told me. "And make-up? That's a thing of the past! So is dieting, for that matter. After all, who needs it. The guys all like the bulges now. They like their chicks chunky and we're all in the business to give them what they want."

So if you find that you are one of those men who are sick and tired of the beautiful chick image, just name your pleasure. Be it a 7-foot giant or a 3-foot dwarf, a bald-headed biddy or a 350 pound moose, they are all out there just wanting to turn you on. It certainly is prostitution with a twist! □

SMORGASBORD SEXUALIS

By Orson A. Round

When somebody asks you to describe the typical librarian, you don't think of Linda Lovelace, right? Probably you think of an elderly, oldmaidy type with thick goggles. Or a large, square-jawed matron who can say, "SHHHHHHH!" like a steam radiator. Or a thin, virtuous virgin who is that way because she never turned anybody on.

And the place where they work—a large, austere room full of stacks and stacks of formidable books, a silent, musty atmosphere, and a few long tables where round shouldered scholars pour over thick volumes and make copious notes.

THE LIBRARY on West 43rd Street in Manhattan, one of the newest retreats for the intelligentsia, is not like that. Far from it, if its advertising brochure is to be believed. The most striking feature of this document is a luscious damsel attired only in a necklace and a pair of high heeled shoes. If that gives you the notion that she is bare-assed and bare-titted, you are not deceived.

The slinger advertises, "7 beautiful librarians to service you." One assumes—or is supposed to assume—that all are as gorgeous as the sample. A further come-on is "$10—complete satisfaction—no other charges." Nothing beats curling up with a good bookworm. The books may not be well-stacked, but the librarians are.

One reader asks, "Why should a place like that choose a name like that?" Easy. It's for the benefit of any husband who hates to tell lies. Now when wife says, "You're late! Where have you been?" he can truthfully respond, "I was at The Library, darling."

Music to Get Laid By

An orgy movie called "The Life and Times of a Happy Hooker" has some very special music for one scene in which three men are simultaneously engaged in sexual relations with one girl. In a lawsuit, Walt Disney enterprises alleged "The Mickey Mouse March" was used as background for this spectacle. "And three of the participants were wearing Mickey Mouse ears!" the complaint continued.

We don't intend to take sides in a court case, but we have a suggestion for all you randy rascals out there. Next time you're planning an orgy, chase all the kids out of the TV room to get on with their mugging lessons. Then tune the set to the Mickey Mouse Club and orgy away. Who knows? Maybe that march does have aphrodisiac qualities.

What's Up Down Under?

Australians have invented a birth control pill for men. If they need an advertising slogan, here's one: NO-NOX-UP ETHEL.

Bare Facts About Topless Dancing

Liquor boards have strange powers. One in Maryland ordered a topless dancer to wear a bra or something. Otherwise, they'd take away the night club's beverage license. An oddity is that the dancer in question is a fella.

Nobody was shocked by his manly chest but women's libbers complained that to permit him to show a bare bosom was discrimination. A state rule requires that all employees wear clothing that "conceals the entire nipple area and lower breast."

The chairman of the board admitted the rule was intended to apply to women but said he'd be guilty of discrimination if he didn't apply it to both sexes. Liquor man, we'll drink to that.

So the Lady Patient Said, "What's Up, Doc?"

Another case has come to light of a woman suing her psychiatrist for giving her sex therapy. This one was seeking over a million dollars in damages, charging the doctor had scrogged her regularly for more than a year and a half, sometimes thrice in one day. If she collects she may get in the Guinness record book as the all-time most expensive piece of ass.

ROBBIE

Our editor was looking mighty glum one Monday morning, having been disappointed with several highly-touted models who came to him under false impressions. The Mets were doing badly and it seemed that nothing could cheer him up until one of our photographers arrived with a new set of pics of fantabulous Robbie, whose previous appearances in our magazines elicited five full sacks of mail from our eager readers. Robbie, known to her friends as Mooshi, is one of our editor's personal favorites, and the arrival of these revealing photos brightened him up into his old self again.

Since we last spoke to her, Mooshi has been dating a guitar repairman, and picking up many of the fine points of the trade. She recently completed the job of inlaying her own pre-war Martin herrinbone D-28 with a mother-of-pearl pattern representing the kabbalistic tree of the Sephiroth. Mooshi wanted us to run a picture of the guitar, but we convinced her that our readers would much rather feast their eyes on her own impressive assets. As you can see, Robbie's been keeping herself in super shape, and possesses the goods that the BUF man likes to see in his woman.

Robbie's new beau is an expert guitarist as well as repairman, and is teaching her some new stuff on the instrument. "Up 'till now," she said, "I just knew a few chords and played simple country-western, but now I'm getting into finger-picking, stuff like Mississippi John Hurt, Rev. Gary Davis, and Libba Cotton. I'm not planning to perform professionally, but I enjoy it; I probably wouldn't if I did it for a living. I've even begun to take my guitar to modeling jobs. Sometimes there are long waits, and you sit in the dressing room for an hour with nothing to do."

We feel awfully smoochy about Mooshi, and we'll wager that our editor is not the only one who'll be cheered up by these sensational pics. □

THE HOTTEST GIRL IN TOWN

by John Keefauver

"I'm an average sort of girl, except for one thing: when I make love I catch on fire. Literally, I mean, with real smoke and flames. Within minutes after getting close to a guy, poof! I'm ablaze. It's hell, both on me and the guys. I'm strictly a one-timer because of it all. There hasn't been a guy yet, singed and smoking, who has invited me back for a second try. I'm damn lonely, me and my blisters. I've always been this way, although I didn't find out about it until I was sixteen or so and tried my first game of Serious-Playing-Around. I remember the incident vividly. It was my very first baptism to fire. He was just turning sixteen, too, and was a bit nervous. So was I. And when fire shot out of my navel, there was nothing but pure terror between us. He let out a scream that sounded something like a siren in need of oil and came off my mother's living room sofa like a shell, taking me with him for the start of the trip. Scorched and smoking, he disappeared in the direction of the basement shower. I went outside and rolled in the grass, putting myself out. I never saw him again.

Even from the beginning I thought something might be amiss. I mean, I'd talked to the girls, those who had had Experience—or claimed they had. They had told me a thing or two. But I'd never heard one mention anything about fire, about this big tummy-to-tummy conflagration. In fact, if anything, they'd mention that a certain guy was "cool." But I refused to believe that anything was wrong with me even after I turned into a walking blister and, once, caused the fire department to roll. It wasn't until I was nearing seventeen and had rolled in a field, setting it on fire, did I come to my senses. My rolling partner told me, as, ablaze, he dived into a nearby creek, that if I didn't change my ways he was through with me. I didn't want to be through with him.

"But, Joe, I can't help it."

"Can't help it, hell! You did it on purpose."

It turned out that he thought I was using matches.

I never saw him again.

I figured it was time I saw a doctor. At the rate I was going I would be nothing but ashes by the time I was twenty-two. Besides, I was losing too many guys.

GEM'S RATED X DIGEST

By Paul Steiner

Your favorite magazine is continuing its regular roundup of some of the raciest, wildest, sexiest bits of action and dialogue from current films, plays, on and off-Broadway, nightclubs and the arts, with special stress on quick snatches from the flicks. Hold on, here we go:

The American Film Theatre's surrealistic, theater-of-the-absurd version of the hit-musical "Jacques Brel Is Alive and Living in Paris," uses a strange simile in one scene. "Her ass hole looks like twin water falls. . ." And erotic visual imagery such as "banana in a bra."

The Broadway hit-play, "Same Time Next Year," which stars Oscar-winner Ellen Burstyn, is about a married guy who once picked up a young married woman and took her to a motel. They hit it off so well they decided to spend one super-sex day together once a year, the entire 24 hours in bed. This has been going on for 24 years when the play starts. It's a rollicking farce.

In his bestseller "Jaws," Peter Benchley writes about the shark-obsessed, shark-fighting police chief: "He still had an erection from the remnants of his last dream and he debated rousing his wife for a quick bit of sex. . . ."

The Whitney Museum showed ex-wrestler-painter-novelist Rosalyn Drexler's flick, "Who Does She Think She Is?" Explains Rosalyn, "Why make a documentary? Instead of private shit, it's going to be public shit." And: "I have this sexual fantasy of me with penises all over, like a telephone man climbing up a pole with things hanging all over from his belt." She muses: "You let people into your home, but do you have to let them into your body?" Another sample of her wit: "It's always very suspicious when a lesbian likes a man—she's probably after his wife!"

"Eyes of Hell," 3-D horror film of the 50's is now regarded as a camp comedy and is a favorite with college audiences.

Eye-catching promotion poster used by New Line Cinema for its "The Best of the First Annual New York Erotic Film Festival."

Love-making gives way to blood letting in the sex horror shocker, "Vampyres." In the photo on top, Marianne Morris and Murray Brown are seen in one of the prelude bedroom pleasure scenes while the pix on bottom shows Marianne and her sister vampire, Anulka, feasting on another victim, Michael Byrnes, after they lulled him with some torrid sex. In the middle pix, Marianne does some "necking" with Murray.

Cambist, which gave us "Cry Uncle," now gives us "Vampyres," in which some exotic-looking damsels, with a taste for fine wines and fresh blood, lure unsuspecting motorists to an old English castle where wild orgies give way to sex horror and horror sex. After long scenes of graphic bloodsucking, the demented, demonish damsels indulge themselves in she-she love.

In the superb uninhibited foreign film, "Le Milieu du Monde," a young girl philosophizes: "A man who takes off his pants is shy. He thinks anyone who sees his penis knows all about him. And a man really knows nothing about a woman just because he's slept with her." Two girls discuss husband-possibilities: "What do you want from him? He has money and a pecker. What more would you want?"

Henny Youngman tells about an ethnician lesbian who liked men.

From the Learning Corp. of America's film, "How To Say No To A Rapist" based on Frederic Storaska's book, one learns: "If I were a woman and I wanted to be raped, I would hitchhike. Last year at a university in Colorado, they had 120 reported rapes in 9 months—all hitchhiking."

In "Funny Lady," the story of Fanny Brice, gambler Nick Arnstein and showman Billy Rose, Barbra Streisand as Fanny, explains: "Child-bearing easy? It was like pushing a piano through a transom!" On their honeymoon Billy watches Fanny, then comes out with:

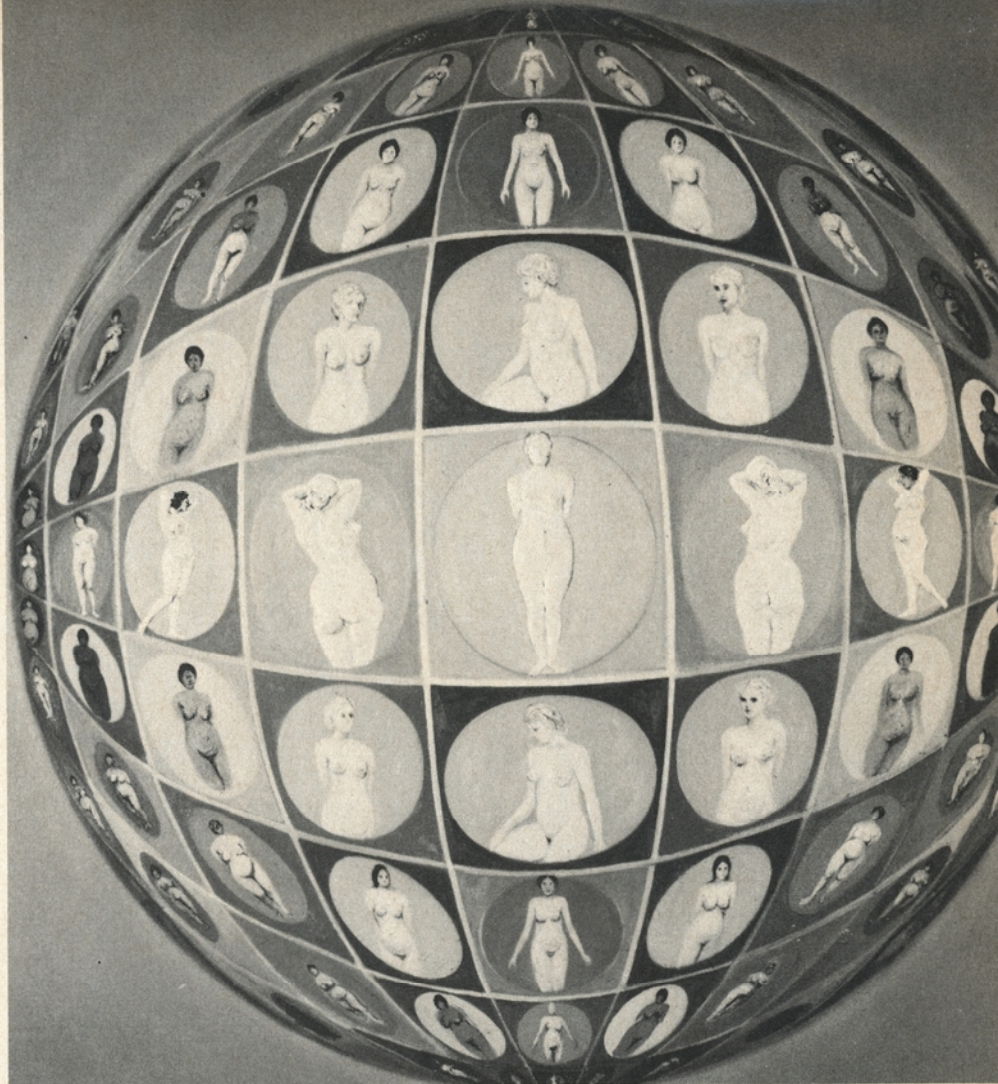

"I know you put perfume behind your ears and between your breasts and I do things to your ears and breasts, but you also put perfume on your kneecaps and your toes. Makes me feel inadequate, like I should be doing something to your kneecaps and toes, too."

In the family flick, "Mixed Company," the basketball coach-husband asks his wife in front of an MD to reassure the doc that he had indeed made every valiant effort to get her pregnant. "Oh, yes, dear. You worked your tail off!" coos wifey, Barbara Harris.

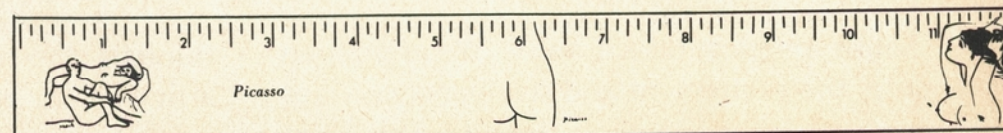

The bizarre Belgian film, "Wedding Through," both obscene and spiritual (scatological and eschatological) is about a young man deeply in love with a sow who eventually—we kid you not—bears him piglets. It was presented recently by the Film Society of Lincoln Center at the Museum of Modern Art. "Not for the squeamish!" blared the program announcement. And a good thing; the young man murders their 3 piglets the sow commits suicide and becomes hugely occupied with its own excrement. Genuine Festival Film Fare, kiddies!

Some bright cracks from Equity's production of the musical, "Do I Hear A Waltz?": a female tourist remarks about a couple back home, "Every time they have a fight, she gets pregnant. I don't know whether that's to make up or as revenge." And all that illicit love-making in Venice she sums up with "It's a floating motel!"

At a recent Friar's Club banquet in the grand ballroom of the Hotel Americana, MC Alan King said: "Sinatra couldn't make it here tonight because he made it twice this afternoon and he's tired."

Jolinda

South America, take it away! We're pooped out by the excitement and sizzling sexy vibes emanating from beautiful Jolinda. This Latin American bombshell sent explosive waves through the modeling business when she arrived here recently on her first American visit. A popular South American fur model, Jolinda's talents were much sought by the agencies here during her brief stay. She had to turn down many prestigious jobs, and we're mighty pleased that she agreed to pose for us. Originally hailing from Chile, Jolinda moved to Argentina several months before the junta took over. She's scored a real coup with us, and one peek at these sensational pix will tell you why. Even the frostiest climate experiences a tropical heat wave when Jolinda steps in with her award-winning figure and lovely auburn hair.

Jolinda's American visit was primarily a sight-seeing tour, although she did line up some modeling jobs before coming over. She spent quite a bit of time checking out anique shops for rare silver items. "I'm really into silver," she told us. "Silver clothes, utensils, anything. I don't know what started it off, but I've been a silver nut since I was a little kid." Her favorite American performer is Charlie Rich, the "silver fox," and her favorite song is "That Silver Haired Daddy of Mine." During her visit here she became an avid fan of the Lone Ranger on account of his famous silver bullets.

We're sure you'll join us in raising a silver chalice to offer a toast to this Latin lovely. She may be into silver, but she's worth her weight in gold. □

SEWING CIRCLE

Never before had the new wife in town met such a group of friendly women neighbors. Each seemed to be trying to please her in every way possible. And they were so warm to each other, patting and touching each other so tenderly. No one in the city she came from had ever been like this. No way. . .

"Don't hurry home after work, dear. My sewing circle will be meeting here tonight."

"Okay, the boys and I are going out for drinks anyway."

"Don't overdo the Bloody Marys," Lorrie shouted as her husband Peter pulled out in his bright red chevy. Glancing across the street Lorrie could not help noticing Sue North, the newcomer to the neighborhood, in her powder-blue nightgown. The pretty blonde bent over to pick up her milk from the small silver dairy box, revealing huge, rounded breasts. Gad, you could play basketball with those, Lorrie mumbled to herself. Sue rose and turned, disappearing into her house.

Suddenly Lorrie could not help feeling uneasy. Sensing she was being watched, Lorrie turned her attention to the house on the right of Sue Norton's home. At the doorway stood long-legged, slender, redheaded Lisa, holding a milk bottle in her right hand. Catching Lorrie's glance, Lisa smiled while her tongue caressed the top of the milk bottle. Realizing her own scanty pink nightgown was revealing her own prominent assets, Lorrie turned from Lisa's stare, and returned to the kitchen.

Walking over to the sink, Lorrie began to do the breakfast dishes. Drying a cup absentmindedly, the sound of the screen door opening startled Lorrie slightly. Turning, she saw her next door neighbor leaning against the kitchen wall.

"You're early, Nina," Lorrie said as she looked over the shapely ebony body, slightly covered by a short, sleeveless, backless green dress. Nina's long black hair floated down her shoulder, caressing her

A TAIL OF SWINGING CITIES

The quest for the right site for a convention of sex-oriented members reaches a great climax

by Garland Miller

There is a story going around about a nation-wide organization of swingers that recently held a committee meeting to decide on a site for the group's next convention. According to our informant, the chairman opened proceedings by calling for suggestions from the assembled committee members, and one affluent-looking gentleman began by saying that he, personally, would like to have a trip around the world. This idea was voted down on the grounds that it might be too expensive and, at least as far as some members were concerned, not in very good taste.

Another man then said he liked Posey (Ill.), while a rather attractive lady stated she had heard that Fly (Ohio) was wide open. At this point a second woman who was wearing mannish clothing put in a word for Gay (Mich.), which, she claimed, was almost as exciting as Gays (Ill.). A somewhat bewildered young matron (reportedly a new timer) timidly suggested Kissimee (Fla.), but this was hooted down as being too square and old-fashioned. A disgusted male immediately blurted out Fuget (Ky.), and a man sitting nearby said he had no objections to that, but he would prefer Cherry Fork (Ohio).

The chairman himself then said he had one of his own to stick in—Fallis (Okla.). However, a redheaded lady was down on Fallis for some reason, so this idea got nowhere. What about, a New York

SUSAN SHAW

While sitting in at a jam session at Munk's Park, a New York pub that features traditional Irish music on Monday nights, our ears perked up at the lovely sound of a full set of Uilleann pipes emanating from a far corner of the room. No less enchanting was the sight of the buxom young lass, who, so involved in the intricacies of her instrument, didn't even notice our stares. It was later that evening that we made the acquaintance of this delightful Celtic cutie. Our hearts danced a highland fling when she agreed to undrape before our cameras.

Susan's parents hail from Kiltamagh, County Mayo, in Ireland, and emigrated to Chicago when Susan was in her early teens. Her first exposure to Irish music was her father's treasured 78's of such great artists as fiddler Michael Coleman and Piper Patrick J. Touhey. "When we first moved to the States I was afraid that I wouldn't be able to find any Irish musicians to play with, but there are big Irish communities in Chicago and New York with lots of folks keeping the music up. In New York, I met up with the famed fiddler Tom Gallagher, and he took me around to some of the places where the Irish musicians hang out.

He's a fine fiddler and I've learned quite a few tunes from him."

Susan is particularly proud of her pipes (she's got a pair of pips to be proud of, too), a rare set made by the Taylor Brothers of Philadelphia with an elaborate set-up that requires fifteen reeds. Her favorite tunes include "The Bonny Bunch of Roses," "The Young Girl Milking Her Cow," "The Lasses of Donnibrook," the ever-popular "McDrinkwell's Favorite Reel," and a frequently requested vocal number, "Yes, We Have No Potatoes."

Susan is planning a trip to her homeland soon to visit old friends and relatives and to collect some more tunes. We wish her bonvoyage and hope to see more of this shapely, blue-eyed colleen again. □

couple asked, French Lick (Ind.)? Many members vigorously nodded approval, but a hard-core group of men in one corner insisted on Fork (S. C.), Fox (Ore.) or Funk (Neb.). A young man sitting in the front row proposed Bear (Del.) because, as he pointed out, Bear women were much nicer. These suggestions were heatedly condemned by a male member, who said that it was foolish to keep making all these idiotic proposals when there were at least seven Athols they could go into — in Massachusetts, Kentucky, Kansas, South Dakota, Pennsylvania, Idaho and New York.

The discussion grew so vehement at this point that the chairman had to rap his gavel for order. When things quieted down a roguish old gentleman got up. "I'm a Letcher (S. D.) man myself," he said. A lady sitting behind him then stated her preference for Intercourse (Pa.), whereupon a gentleman in the same row said he would be willing to come to Foraker (Okla.) at any time. By this point, our informant tells us, everyone there had expressed an opinion except for several elderly men in the third row and a lanky, twenty-year-old male. The elderly men put forth the not illogical proposition that Harden City (Okla.) would be virtually essential as far as they were concerned; and the twenty-year-old, eyeing the cleavage of a spectacularly well-endowed blonde sitting next to him, dreamily murmured Two Buttes (Col.). Because no one still could agree, the chairman began looking for possibilities in an atlas. After a few minutes of searching he finally came up with a convention site that was at once enthusiastically accepted by the members: Climax (N. C.). Just before adjourning, the chairman concluded by announcing the date and time of the forthcoming get-together and wisely cautioned that they all make their travel plans carefully so that everyone would reach Climax at the same time. □

PROMISES, PROMISES

The married guy had a problem—every time he laid his eyes on a girl, he wanted to lay her.

by Bruce Fleming

Saul was the owner of a circus and he was a swinger. Saul came from a family of swingers. In fact, he had the only family tree in the circus business with an X-rating. Once when he was at the beach, a girl lost her bikini in the heavy surf. When she came out of the water with nothing on, being a gentleman, Saul ran right over to her with a blanket, two pillows, and a pitcher of martinis.

Being a swinger, Saul had a lot of originality and wit when it came to alibis, because Saul was married to Edith and she was well aware of the fact that the mere sight of a rounded female fanny would start her husband's glands working overtime. But Edith finally laid down the law. If Saul didn't stop chasing girls, she announced, she was going to divorce him and take his circus from him. So Saul promised to be a good husband and vowed he would lay off the girls and be faithful.

Saul and Edith were on the road with their circus and they lived in a luxurious trailer, complete right down to a large double bed. One night soon after Edith came into the trailer unexpectedly and turned into a screaming panther when she saw her husband in bed with the shapely little female midget from the sideshow.

"You promised me that you'd never cheat on me again!" she raged. "You gave me your oath! And with a midget!"

"Well," replied Saul pantingly, "at least you've got to admit that I'm TAPERING OFF!"

VICE VERSE

By Bradley Rogers

A bachelor whose invitation promised cash, and a liberal libation, with each girl drank a nip
then brought out his whip for his own brand of sex stimulation.

Said a wornout young fellow named Tabor
To his sweet and compliasant neighbor,
"One time's a delight,
But eight in one night
Comes under the heading of labor."

A nymph attractively nubile loved a lad who was no longer peurile, but when she took "the pill"
she grew nauseously ill
so she prayed that her lover was sterile.

There was a young lady of Lynn
Who thought all love-making a sin;
But when she got tight
It seemed quite all right,
So everyone plied her with gin.

Said the bride on her wedding night, "Dear,
We were shacked up for more than a year ...
So now that we're wed
Could we just go to bed,
And turn over and sleep, rear to rear "

There was a farmer from Biarritz,
Who planted an acre of tits.
They came up in the Fall,
Pink nipples and all,
And did he enjoy his tit-bits!

Twinkle, twinkle, little squirt,
How I wondered why you hurt.
Now at last, it's plain to see ...
Doctor says I've got veedee.

An accident really uncanny
Befell a respectable granny;
She sat down in a chair
While her false teeth were there,
And bit herself right in the fanny.

film that is very hot at the box office and elsewhere. Her name—her real name, she asserts—is Brigitte Maier. What particularly outrages our outraged male is the words that came from the fair lips of this 22-year-old performer as she was interviewed for a respectable (presumably) family (no doubt) newspaper:

"As a child I went to a girls school where I was initiated into lesbian relationships. I always loved sex, always masturbated. I guess you could call me a pervert if you wanted to."

The Outraged One asks, "What if a male actor openly admitted he was a pervert and jerked off?" What, indeed?

Old Limerick Comes True— and High Time!

There was a young man from Racine
Who invented an effing machine.
Concave or convex
It could eff either sex—
The gawdamndest thing ever seen!

The poet unknown who wrote that in the dim dark past probably considered it as only a joke. But today effing machines are no joke; they're big business, approaching the $50 million neighborhood.

Exact figures are not available but some dealers speculate that the fastest selling device is the vibrator. This is no longer an under-the-counter item purchased only by kooks. Big sales are accounted for by the fact that many of the "best" people are using them. Recently a well-dressed woman picked one up in a fashionable boutique, said, quite frankly, "We'll use this when my husband and I make love. I don't think any woman should have to apologize for using a vibrator. I enjoy it. My husband enjoys it. We consider ourselves very normal, very happy people."

She was 38, mother of two, married to a successful Wall Street lawyer.

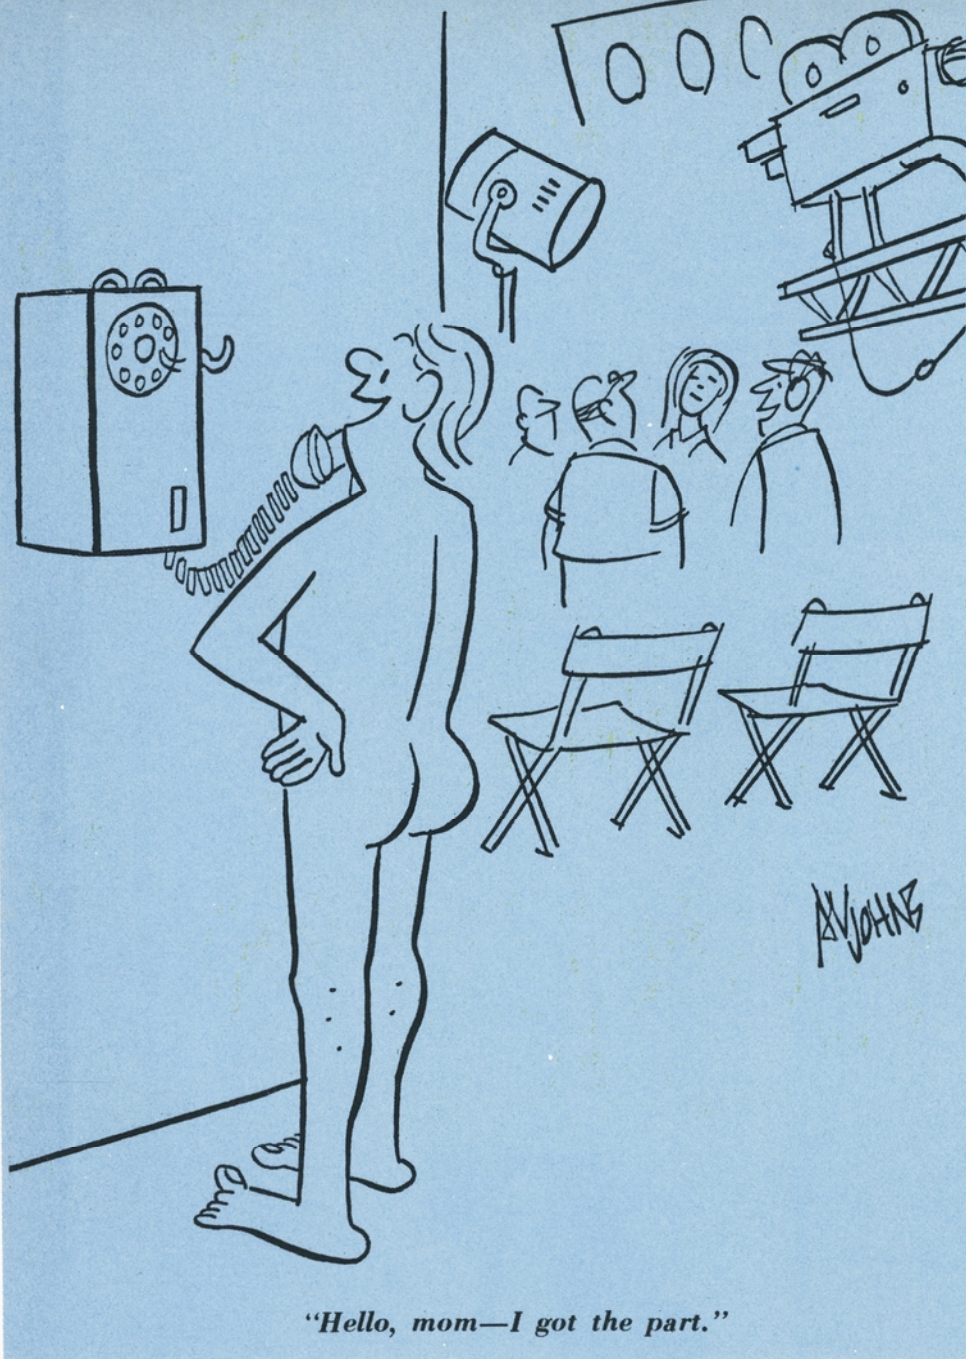

Many other sex gadgets—far too many to list here—are enjoying wide popularity. A Los Angeles company that produces "marital aids for lovers," offers such a great variety that a 31-page catalog is needed to include everything.

But we must mention one imaginative item, a pulsating plastic vagina that operates off the cigarette lighter of an automobile. Of course, this could be dangerous to the health. A driver might get so excited he'd forget where he was driving and smash head on into a truck, but what a way to die! He would be coming and going at the same time! □

"Look through the peephole at least before you say you're not interested, sir."

"Hello, mom—I got the part."

sweetly scented body. A heavy perfume clung to the air as Nina strutted toward Lorrie.

"I thought we could get a head start on everyone," Nina replied.

"We won't have time, I still have to talk to Audrey," Lorrie replied as she turned to finish her morning chore.

Putting her arms around Lorrie, Nina's breasts burned into Lorrie's back. Nina's middle finger stroked the right side of Lorrie's neck. "Not even enough time for a quicky," Nina whispered.

"Hey! Anybody home? interrupted a shrill voice from the driveway. Nina retreated to a kitchen stool as Lorrie put away her dishes.

"Come on in, Audrey," Lorrie responded.

Audrey burst through the door. She had the kind of figure that ran wild. Her breasts were known as Audrey's Boulders and she had more curves and bumps than a mountain trail. Her manner was just as country. Audrey's brown-reddish hair was pinned up in a kind of volcano effect and everything that came out of her mouth had a car-salesman effect.

"Hey gals, how ya doing. S'pect you want the lowdown on the new couple I sold the Henderson's house to."

Audrey flopped into a kitchen chair. She lit a thin cigar and let it hang from the side of her mouth. As she exhaled, her breasts heaved. The girls of the sewing circle had nicknamed her Madam Tits.

"Coffee, Audrey?" Lorrie asked.

"Yeah, thanks. Well our darling new couple is from the city. The guy works for a bank. . ."

"What about her?" Lorrie interrupted.

"She stays home most of the time. No job or nothing. I introduced her to Lisa and they hit it off pretty good.

"Would you say she's prudish?" Nina asked.

"Naaw, she's been around, more than once, I would say."

"How religious is she? Does she wear any religious items?"

"No, Lorrie, I don't see her as being religious. No crosses or anything like that."

"Thank you, Audrey," Lorrie replied with a smile. "Would you care for another cup of coffee?"

"Naaw, got to go. Say, how's my hair? I never seem to find a mirror around here anymore."

"You look fine," Lorrie replied.

"Just the same, it's peculiar none of you girls have mirrors anymore. Only Sue North's house still has one."

"That will change, darling, as soon as she joins the Sewing Circle," Nina murmured.

"Well, if modesty is part of the Sewing Circle, count me out." With that Audrey rose, gulping the last drop of coffee. Bursting out the door, she cried out loudly, "See ya, girls!"

Lorrie walked over to the wall phone. While she dialed a number, Nina slid off the kitchen stool and approached Lorrie. Lorrie spoke softly as she felt Nina's breasts pressed against her back. "Lisa, this is Lorrie. Bring her over, we have to prepare her before the rest of the Circle is here. Okay, good."

"Say, baby, how about that quicky?" Nina whispered as Lorrie hung up the phone. Nina again caressed the right side of Lorrie's neck. Lorrie took a deep breath and closed her eyes. In the distance Lorrie could hear Lisa's voice shouting.

"Come on, Sue! You don't want to be late," Lisa said as she walked over to Sue's front door.

"I'm coming, Lisa," Sue replied as she rushed out of the house. "It sure is nice of everyone to invite me to a meeting of your sewing group. How do I look?"

Lisa looked Sue over with a deliberate eye from her slender ankles to the whiteness of her smooth neck. Dressed in tight grey hot pants and a flowered backless halter, Sue's configuration left little to the imagination.

"I think think the girls will approve," Lisa responded with a smirk.

"Thanks for the use of your hot pants."

"That's okay, do they fit comfortably?"

"Kinda tight, but I don't mind. That's a nice outfit you have on," Sue commented as she looked over Lisa's outfit of red hot pants and backless halter.

"Come on, let's go, Sue."

"Say, Lisa, shouldn't I bring something, like sewing materials or something?"

"Don't worry, you'll find everything you want at Lorrie's house."

Reaching Lorrie's house, Lisa took Sue by the hand. "Come on, the side door will be open."

"Shouldn't we knock?"

"They're expecting us," Lisa responded as they walked through the kitchen into the living room.

"Well, well, come in," Nina greeted warmly. "Come sit by me," she said to Sue eagerly, "we must get to know each other better."

Sue sat by Nina on the couch, while Lisa sat on a love seat directly across from Sue.

"Where's Lorrie?" Lisa asked.

"She's preparing herself. Well, now, I'm Nina Collins."

"I'm so pleased to meet you," Sue replied.

"So tell us about yourself," Nina coaxed as she crossed her legs, letting her dress rise, revealing in full her long, silk-smooth ebony legs. Aside from the name Sue North, we know nothing about you."

"Well, I've lived in the city all my life till now. I wanted my own home for so long."

"Have some tea," Nina interrupted.

"Why thank you," Sue replied as she took a cup from the small table in front of her. Sipping slowly, Sue continued. "It's so nice and quiet out here."

"Very quiet," Lisa agreed as she began to stare intensely at Sue's light blue eyes.

"Yes, well. . ." Sue laid the cup of tea down as she became aware of Lisa's stare. "Well. . . what do you. . . you girls do out here?" Sue began to feel transfixed by Lisa's cool green eyes.

"Most of us used to be into swinging but that's so passe," Nina replied.

Her voice seemed to be fading away, Sue felt. Time seemed to stand still as Sue felt paralyzed by Lisa's intense gaze.

"Then there was the freaky bit, screwing with dogs, whips, vibrators, that sort of thing." Sue felt her head spinning and she leaned back against the couch, oblivious to Nina's voice.

Lorrie, dressed in a long black nightgown, entered the room silently.

"Then we girls formed a kind of secret circle, calling it the Sewing Circle as a kind of cover." Nina went on as Sue's lips went dry. Lorrie approached her from behind. As the dizziness drifted away, Sue became more aware of her surroundings. Lorrie let her black nightgown slip to the floor, exposing her naked tan body. Sue felt Lorrie's finger stroke her neck as she undid Sue's halter. Lisa's and Nina's clothes were already lying on the floor.

"You're Lesbians?" Sue asked in a hoarse voice.

"Oh no, dear," Lorrie whispered as her lips drew near Sue's pale white neck, "We're vampires." □

sort of perverted stuff, like they do in New York and California and Chicago. Mostly we just screw natural ways. I did get in bed once with three football players at one time, although I won't tell you what team they were on. I will tell you what their positions were, though. One of them was me on top, another was dog-style, and the third was upside down.

6. The most common mistake I think men make is that sometimes they don't realize I want to screw. Sometimes they're still trying to figure out how to score with me while I'm dying for them to get on with it.

7. I'm no one to give advice, but I might say that I like when a man is happy and cheerful and having a good time when he's screwing. I get bored with a man who's so solemn and serious he thinks he's doing the most important thing this side of being president. I like a few laughs with sex.

The following is Marilyn's response, a 22-year-old Sacramento, California lass:

1. I've had sex with ten or twenty guys, unless I lost count. Maybe I ought to get one of those little computer machines. Not all that many, anyway. The first four or five times I only went to bed with my steadies, but in recent years I've slept with any man I felt was my friend—and I don't have any enemies.

2. After the first three guys I think I tried all possible positions. Sometimes I get a little animalistic, so my favorite is doggie-style. I think probably in some past incarnation eons ago I was a bitch in heat.

3. Yes, I've done oral sex a lot. Like I said, I like to get animalistic, so sometimes if a guy is lying on his back looking up, I like to squat over him and stuff my mop in his face. I also like to take a guy's broom handle and do a spic and span job on it when he least expects it. I'm full of surprises.

4. I don't play with myself much anymore, but I went to a year of college and I used to get nervous about my grades so I'd masturbate in class by crossing my legs and swinging them and squeezing my thighs together until I came. Somehow this seemed to relieve the pressure a lot.

5. I don't think I do anything unusual. I leave my blinds open a lot while I walk around in my apartment naked, and sometimes I go out of the house that way to throw away the garbage or get my paper, but I don't really think that's too unusual these days. All women are exhibitionists at heart. We like to show our stuff and turn on guys when we can.

6. The most common mistake I think men make is doing the same things over and over and being too predictable. I like lots of variety, and if a guy keeps me guessing about what he's going to do next, or how he's going to do it this time, I can get all the variety I need from one man. After all, the spice of life is the variety.

7. The best advice I have for men is to treat me like an absolute equal. Nothing turns me off more than for a guy to treat me like I'm inferior to him or like I'm superior to him. I don't know which is worse. I just want to be the same as him.

Now we'll take the response of 20-year-old Dana of Evanston, Illinois:

1. I have had sex relations with five different fellows. Well, really it's been with five different types of fellows—tall, short, medium, slim and stocky.

2. I don't know much about different positions, but one boy I dated liked to do it in different places. We did it in a lake, in an office, on a porch, under the stands while a football game was going on, and in the bathroom at a friend's party.

3. Oral sex is a natural part of lovemaking. When one of my boyfriends said he liked to kiss me on my love lips, that's what he meant. I would tell him I liked to kiss him on his totem pole.

4. I don't masturbate myself, but my boyfriends and I have masturbated each other in the movies. Sometimes the pictures are so hysterically funny, we pee in each other's hands.

5. I don't do anything unusual—except sometimes I like to put crackerjacks in my ears while I'm being banged. I'm very normal in every way.

6. The only sexual mistake I ever knew a guy to make was when he balled one of my girlfriends and later told me he thought it was me.

7. My advice to men is to make sure I'm wet before he tries to start.

These are the typical responses we got from our nationwide sex survey. We hope this helps you better understand the sexual activities and interests of single girls in America today. No matter where you live, you probably know someone who filled out one of our questionnaires. Who knows, maybe one of your old girlfriends wrote about something you did. One thing is sure, sex and the single girl have come a long way! □

HOTTEST GIRL IN TOWN

"Phyllis," the doctor said, "you are a very unusual case."

"Is that so," I answered, very politely.

"Ordinary people, Phyllis, have ordinary hair and ordinary oil and ordinary body temperature."

"With you," she said, "none of these things is ordinary."

I told her I was beginning to get the idea.

"Take your body oil, for example, Phyllis. The lab report shows it will ignite well below the ordinary burning point for ordinary body oil."

"Your hair's the same way. It will catch on fire well below the ordinary catching point for ordinary hair."

"And," she went on, "your body temperature is not ordinary. It has a potential for soaring."

"I see," I said.

"Add friction, Phyllis—such as you make with these unfortunate boys—and you, I am sorry to say, add up to one big conflagration."

She let out a big sigh. So did I.

"In short, Phyllis, you're combustible."

I told her that was something to think about.

She agreed.

She also fixed me up with my very first suit of asbestos underwear.

It was a glorious suit, especially made for me. I was proud of it; I did a little strut in front of a full-length mirror the first time I tried it on. It had a great aft flap, complete with polished asbestos buttons. A nifty thermometer was sewn inside an arm so that I could check my temperature before it reached the flame point. The only thing that bothered me was that the thing was the color of ashes.

So I entered into the asbestos underwear era of my young love life. Dutifully I put it on whenever I thought the evening might include some games of Kiss-and-Stuff. The idea, of course, was that the special underwear would keep me from going up in flames when that ol' bad bed-and-boy friction started working on me. Aside from a few scratching noises and a bit of an itch, I wore the thing fairly well. It worked fine in both hot and cold weather, I learned; when it was hot, it kept heat out; when it was cold, it kept heat in.

Trouble was, what with my having burned up a number of guys in town, I had one helluva reputation. I was avoided by every jock in the burg. I couldn't even hold their hands, much less anything else. When I tried to tell 'em about my new asbestos underwear, they just got a wild, disbelieving look in their eyes and hauled ass.

It was very disheartening. I was about to apply for a job as a bed-maker in a YMCA when Henry Little moved into town. Henry was a pure sex machine. And best of all, he moved in right next door to me. I was still living with my parents at the time, and I had a downstairs room. One night I looked out the window and lo! there was Henry right across from me, also looking out. We waved. That started it. From that night on I figured I'd be slipping into my asbestos underwear almost all the time.

I figured it right. One taste of him and I wanted the works. I was positively smoking inside my asbestos underwear.

My maneuvering came to a head when I climbed into his window dressed in only my asbestos underwear. It was a moonlit night, and when I came in over his sill I must have looked like a knittess in shining armor. "It is only I," I said, "coming to you on my white charger."

"Charge," he murmured from his bed.

Well, I sidled into Henry Little's bed as if it were my own, and inside my underwear I felt the heat begin to glow.

"What are you wearing?" he asked politely.

"My asbestos underwear."

There was this great silence. "Asbestos underwear?"

"Yes. It's for our protection, love."

He said something that sounded like "liberation" and felt me once over lightly. And we had finished a period of Pant-Pant-Pant and were starting in on a transition ploy of Feel-As-You-Go when I first began to suspect that something was wrong.

I felt on fire. Quickly I sniffed. I smelled no smoke. I opened my eyes. I saw no flames. I couldn't see the underwear thermometer in the dark. But I was burning up—although not actually this time. At least that was something. The damn asbestos was keeping me from breaking out into flames all right, but at the same time it was keeping my super, natural-born heat, churned up by Henry, from escaping. I was rapidly turning into one giantsize oven. It had never happened before because no one had turned me on this much.

Right at this point Henry said, "Phyllis, you're so cold."

"Cold!" I spurted.

"You feel like an iceberg."

I realized what was happening. The damn asbestos underwear was keeping all my body heat in. None was getting out to Henry. While I was baking, he was freezing.

"Can't you take that thing off? Maybe it will help." His voice by itself should have warmed up the underwear.

"Impossible," I gasped through the heat.

"But, Phyllis, I can't make love to an iceberg."

"I'm burning up," I said.

There was another one of those great silences.

"I'm sorry, Phyllis," he said, pushing me away "but I can't make love to a girl who's frigid."

Talk about stymied. If I tried to make love to Henry with my asbestos underwear on, I froze him to death. If I tried it without the thing on, I'd burn him to death.

And the situation might have gone on forever if one night a few days later I hadn't kissed Henry in the rain.

After the frustrating night with him in bed, we'd kept seeing each other, although the relationship had certainly changed: the only closeness he allowed me was one very brotherly kiss at my doorstep. I still wore my asbestos underwear when I saw him, though—just in case.

Thank goodness (or badness) that I did. It rained bathtubs one night when we were out to a baseball game. We were wet enough to be wrung out by the time we got home. At my door I pouted my lips for his nightly neighborly kiss. I planted a hearty one on him; I was still giving it the old high school try.

And I'm damn glad that I did. As soon as our lips touched, he gave me a little moan, then a big one, and then he rammed his keggy chest up against busty me, pressing into me so hard that, if I hadn't been wearing my special underwear, I swear I could have felt his heat all the way to my backbone.

"Oh, Phyllis."

"Oh, Henry," wondering what in the hell was going on. How come cold, asbestos-underwearing me was affecting him so burningly?

"Hurry," he moaned.

"Where?" I gasped.

"My room."

I zipped into my own room first. He zipped into his. Then I zipped out of my window into his, wearing only asbestos underwear.

"Oh," he moaned.

"Fine," I said.

Boom! Boom! we went, me still in my special underwear.

Just like that. No flames, no coldness, no sweat. It was all fine and sweet and thrusty, just like in the moobies. It was a great show. In fact, it turned into a double feature.

It was during the second show that I noticed the steam. The stuff seemed to be coming out of my navel, spurting right through my protective underwear. Great clouds of it steamed up me and Henry.

"You still there?" I asked.

His monstrous response almost threw me off the bed.

"Okay," I said, blowing steam away from his face.

Later, as they say, Henry was the first to speak.

"You're awfully damp," he said.

I knew it, I told him. I was cooling off, I said. Actually, I was thinking, something I was learning to do.

"Don't you think you better take that damn underwear off?" he said.

The steam was because of the rain, was the way I had it figured. Rain had made my asbestos job wet. When I'd kissed Henry at the door, my temperature had automatically gone up, and my body heat had hit the wet asbestos, causing steam. As any asbestos woman knows, steam will go through asbestos even if flames won't. So, me-caused steam had enveloped Henry in a special lover's caress, setting him off. And in bed, I'd let him have it with all the steam my asbestos tea kettle could muster. No wonder it had been a double feature. And, gosh, all because of rain.

"Here, let me take it off you, Phyllis. He began to unbutton me, up around the neck.

"No." I pushed his hand away.

"You don't want it to dry out on you, do you?"

"No."

Still thinking, I quickly got out of bed. I had to be fast.

"I'll be right back," I said, "I'm going to my house for a minute."

"Hurry," he whispered as I climbed out his window. "I can hardly wait."

"Me too," I murmured.

I mean, that was why I was hurrying to take a shower.

And I did—wearing my asbestos underwear. □

The Lazy Man's Way to Riches

'Most People Are Too Busy Earning a Living to Make Any Money'

I used to work hard. The 18-hour days. The 7-day weeks.

But I didn't start making big money until I did less—a lot less.

For example, this ad took about 2 hours to write. With a little luck, it should earn me 50, maybe a hundred thousand dollars.

What's more, I'm going to ask you to send me 10 dollars for something that'll cost me no more than 50 cents. And I'll try to make it so irresistible that you'd be a darned fool not to do it.

After all, why should you care if I make $9.50 profit if I can show you how to make a lot more?

What if I'm so sure that you will make money my Lazy Man's Way that I'll make you the world's most unusual guarantee?

And here it is: I won't even cash your check or money order for 31 days after I've sent you my material.

That'll give you plenty of time to get it, look it over, try it out.

If you don't agree that it's worth at least a hundred times what you invested, send it back. Your uncashed check or money order will be put in the return mail.

The only reason I won't send it to you and bill you or send it C.O.D. is because both these methods involve more time and money.

And I'm already going to give you the biggest bargain of your life.

Because I'm going to tell you what it took me 11 years to perfect: How to make money the Lazy Man's Way.

O.K.—now I have to brag a little. I don't mind it. And it's necessary—to prove that sending me 10 dollars... which I'll keep "in escrow" until you're satisfied... is the smartest thing you ever did.

I live in a home that's worth $100,000. I know it is, because I turned down an offer for that much. My mortgage is less than half that, and the only reason I haven't paid it off is because my Tax Accountant says I'd be an idiot.

My "office," about a mile and a half from my home, is right on the beach. My view is so breathtaking that most people comment that they don't see how I get any work done. But I do enough. About 6 hours a day, 8 or 9 months a year.

The rest of the time we spend at our mountain "cabin." I paid $30,000 for it—cash.

I have 2 boats and a Cadillac. All paid for.

We have stocks, bonds, investments, cash in the bank. But the most important thing I have is priceless: time with my family.

And I'll show you just how I did it—the Lazy Man's Way—a secret I've shared with just a few friends 'til now.

It doesn't require "education." I'm a high school graduate.

It doesn't require "capital." When I started out, I was so deep in debt that a lawyer friend advised bankruptcy as the only way out. He was wrong. We paid off our debts and, outside of the mortgage, don't owe a cent to any man.

It doesn't require "luck." I've had more than my share, but I'm not promising you that you'll make as much money as I have. And you may do better; I personally know one man who used these principles, worked hard, and made 11 million dollars in 8 years. But money isn't everything.

It doesn't require "talent." Just enough brains to know what to look for. And I'll tell you that.

It doesn't require "youth." One woman I worked with is over 70. She's travelled the world over, making all the money she needs, doing only what I taught her.

It doesn't require "experience." A widow in Chicago has been averaging $25,000 a year for the past 5 years, using my methods.

What does it require? Belief. Enough to take a chance. Enough to absorb what I'll send you. Enough to put the principles into action. If you do just that—nothing more, nothing less—the results will be hard to believe. Remember—I guarantee it.

You don't have to give up your job. But you may soon be making so much money that you'll be able to. Once again—I guarantee it.

The wisest man I ever knew told me something I never forgot: "Most people are too busy earning a living to make any money."

Don't take as long as I did to find out he was right.

I'll prove it to you, if you'll send in the coupon now. I'm not asking you to "believe" me. Just try it. If I'm wrong, all you've lost is a couple of minutes and an 8-cent stamp. But what if I'm right?

Joe, you may be full of beans, but what have I got to lose? Send me the Lazy Man's Way to Riches. But don't deposit my check or money order for 31 days after it's in the mail.

If I return your material—for any reason—within that time, return my uncashed check or money order to me. On that basis, here's my ten dollars.
