HARRY THE TIT MAN

Harry was without doubt, a tit man! Now don't let that give you the idea that tits were all he was interested in. It was just that that they took precedence over all other female attributes. If a nice pair of tits crossed his path, Harry's eyes would home in on them with all the accuracy of a direction finder, and his legs would willingly follow their lead.

That was why he failed to turn up for work that particular Monday morning. Harry was known for his punctuality, and he was proud of his record. But just as he was about to turn into the entrance to the tube, his eyes swivelled in their sockets and fixed their unblinking gaze on the biggest pair of tits he had seen in years. Needless to say, all thoughts of work went the way of many good intentions, and Harry turned in his tracks, ready to follow the tits, and their owner, they went

Their owner seemed preoccupied, which was just as well. A few times in the past, Harry had followed his inclination only to find an outraged husband blocking his path. Unfortunately, the said husbands always turned out to be taller, wider, and much more aggressive than he was. So far none of them had inflicted any injury on him, but Harry wasn't to be put off by thoughts of that type. The object was to follow the boobs and if possible, to get to know the owner.

He hoped that this particular morning, his luck would be in. He had followed for almost half a mile without meeting outraged husband, dog, policeman, or any of the other numerous things which might have put an end to his hobby. Then the owner turned into a side road, walked perhaps twenty yards and opened a gate. Harry was close behind and was just in time to hear her utter a most unladylike word.

"Can I help?" asked Harry. "I thought I heard you say something."

"You did replied the young lady, whose beauty, Harry was pleased to note, was not confined to her legs. "I said 'blast'. I've just laddered my stockings on that bush. Look at that."

Harry looked and looked again as the vision slid her skirt up to where her black suspenders clipped into the top of her stockings, to reveal a wide ladder. He gazed until the skirt was suddenly dropped back into place. "Seen enough?"

"Oh, yes. Sorry."

"That's all right. I was only joking. Would you like to come in for a coffee?"

Harry couldn't believe his ears. It was almost too good to be true, or perhaps he was dreaming. Not that it mattered, he would accept and hope that it paid off before he actually woke up. "Yes thanks. I'd love a cup of coffee."

She led the way into a narrow hallway, then up a short flight of stairs, before stopping to unlock a door.

"Take your coat off. I'll go and make the coffee."

He threw his coat onto a chair and settled down to wait. It wasn't a bad flat, obviously feminine but in a subtle sort of way. Harry concluded that she lived or at least with a girl-friend. When she returned, he was surprised to see that she had changed into a see through top, and a wrap-over skirt. Although it didn't wrap over as much as it might have done. Harry was surprised, but pleased to see that she had nothing on underneath the skirt, and at almost every moment her hairy crotch was revealed to his eager eyes. From the way her nipples pressed against the tight material of her top, he knew that her tits were just as naked.

They drank their coffee in silence, but the look in the girl's eyes said a lot. She watched him as she drank, a faintly amused expression on her face which quipped Harry. He decided that he had either met a nymphomaniac, or someone out for a good time. Either way his luck was in.

They finished together and Harry decided to loose no time in preliminaries. He put down his cup and moved closer, at the same time resting his hand on the girl's thigh where the skirt had slid open to expose a shapely length of flesh. "I'm Harry," he told her. "Do you have a name?"

"Oh, yes. It's Janet, but my freinds call me randy." That sounds promising, thought Harry. "Okay Randy. Let's get to work." He reached round to the side of her slender body and unfastened the two cords which fastened her skirt. It slid open and Harry gasped as he saw that she was already wet and obviously ready for sex. She lifted herself up so that he could pull the skirt out from under her, and as she did so she almost thrust her bush into his face. He took the opportunity and planted a kiss on the wet lips of her cunt. Randy squirmed as he did it and moaned happily. The top was a little more difficult to remove, but with a little help from randy, he managed to take it off and she was entirely naked. Harry off in record time then joined her on the settee. He parted her legs and was just about to thrust his rock-hard prick into her waiting hole, when she stopped him.

"Not just yet, Harry. Hold me first and make me ready for it. I don't like to rush things, and it's much more fun this "Just as you like. But let me know when you want it, then we can come together."

He pulled her close and kissed her open lips. Her tongue slid into his mouth and explored every crevice, giving him an experience he had never known before. His lips travelled down her body, circling each rosy nipple before moving further untill he reached her navel. As he reached it, he probed it with his tongue and Randy pulled his head hard against her.

He moved on, kissing the soft mound of her belly before reaching the thick bush which hid her sex. Her legs parted readily and at last he could see her cunt in all its glory. The lips were soft and pink, reminding him of a dew covered rose early on a spring morning. His fingers pushed gently between them, feeling the warm softness beneath, then he pushed hard, burying two of his fingers deep inside her. Randy thrust her body forcing herself against his hand time and time again until she was crying out in ecstasy as she approached a climax.

When it came Harry had difficulty in maintaining his position inside her. Grad ually the convulsions ceased and he was able to withdraw his fingers which were covered with her juices. As he moved from her, Randy pushed him gently wards untill he was lying on his back. She sat up and took his prick in her hands, stroking it gently until he felt that he was almost ready to come there and then.

He saw her head descend and the next second her lips caressed the eye of his prick and her tongue licked gently at the tip and then the length of it. After a he felt her take his cock into her mouth until her lips touched his balls and his prick pushed hard against her throat.

He used her mouth like a cunt, thrusting in and out rapidly until he was almost ready to come. Randy must have sensed it for she suddenly moved away from Harry looked up, wondering what she was going to do next. She had laid down one leg over the back of the settee, while her other foot rested on the floor. She gazed at him, a rapturous look in her "Now !" she whispered.

Harry didn't need a second invitation. In one movement he was on top of her. He parted her love lips with his fingers and gently inserted the end of his prick into her cunt. Once it was in, he thrust hard so that he buried it up to the hilt. Randy screamed out and for a moment Harry thought she was in pain, but the look on her face told him that it was a scream of passion.

He pushed in and out with rapidly ing speed and Randy threw herself up to meet every moment. His prick slid into like a wee-oiled piston, giving her the ride of a lifetime. But it could not last long. Both of them were too near to orgasm to keep it up for very long. Harry felt his sperm building to a ball bursting climax and increased his efforts so that nothing was wasted.

Randys body began to shudder and he that she too was almost ready to climax.

They thrust hard at each other, getting all they could from the encounter but at the same time giving tremendous pleasure to their partner. Then Harrys sperm burst from the eye of the cock with tremendous force and at the same time Randy gave a loud groan and flooded Harry's prick with her love-juice.

Afterwards they lay spent and gasping still intewined in each others bodies. Harry thought he had really hit the jack pot and for a moment wondered if he should tell her that he had deliberately f followed her. Then he decided against it, she might be offended.

I hope you enjoyed that as much as I he said.

"Oh, yes." Randy gasped up at him, eyes shining with happiness.

"I'm really glad I got you to follow me."

Harry could hardly believe his ears.

"What do you mean?"

"Well you see, one of the girls in your office lives near here, and she told me you like a nice pair of tits. So I flashed mine at you so that you wold follow me home and fuck me. It worked did'nt it". It certainly had worked, thought Harry but who was he to complain?

LETTERS

I have always loved the sight of a woman's breasts — even when I was quite young, there was an enormous attraction about them. I used to work myself into positions which would allow me to view them. I used to run into my mother's bedroom when she was dressing and undressing. She had a generous bosom, and the sight of her bobbies moving inside her large bra cups used to fill me with a sense of richness and delight which I was too young, at the time, to connect with sexual pleasure — which I knew nothing about, in any case.

At first, the sight of my mother's breasts sufficed. However, later on, I wanted to glimpse those which belonged to other women. Any lady visitor to the household was flattered at the amount of time a certain small boy spent hanging round their bedroom. I would play with their clothes or makeup, or with my own toys — and make childish attempts at conversation.

The visitor would be quite unsuspecting, of course — after all, I was only a child — quite uninterested in their bodies, or so they thought. They little knew that I was hanging about their rooms, just waiting for the moment that they would decide to change, to cast off their clothes.

I would wait with enormous anticipation. Off would come the outer clothing. A skirt would slide down, to be followed by the removal of a blouse. In those days, women's dress was more elaborate than it is now. There would often be a petticoat or shift under the blouse.

But then — the outer casing of my objects of worship, the breasts — came in sight. So closely were they associated with the holy of holies, that I was almost as much excited by them as by what they contained. Even now, the sight of a line of bras on a washing line can give me the most exquisite thrill. I especially like the more ornamented and frill bra cups, that contain their precious burdens with a light and frivolous air.

Many times, I had to content myself with a long look at the bra itself — though sometimes I was lucky. The younger and more daring visitor had half cups, which allowed me to gaze on the upper slopes of those fantastic organs.

But if I was really fortunate, I got a glimpse of the real thing. The lady would take off her bra, slowly, sometimes with a coy remark:

'You won't always be allowed the freedom of a lady's bedroom, you know, John.'

'Quite a lot of men would like to be sitting where you are right now.'

They did not have to worry — I was very much aware of my privileged position — and by the time I was twelve, was very conscious that it was coming to an end. It was about this time that I had a further erotic experience which finally settled much of my future sexual life.

The nature of this was quite simple. I saw a woman in milk. A woman visited my mother's home who had a small baby with her. I knew very little about the processes involved in babyhood, but I noticed that every now and then, she used to go to her room, where the baby was lying in a cot, and that when she did so, the little thing was very quiet for quite a while, as if soothed and contented.

I had played with the baby quite a bit, so the mother did not think it strange that I should go and hang around its cot, picking up its toys. I had become aware of the timing of her visits, and knew that one often occurred when she had had her lunch.

Sure enough, she appeared. She beamed at me. 'Come to see baby have her meal?'

I smiled back, shyly. In spite of the vague rumours which I had heard, I really expected something quite mundane. I thought she would produce some small packet or bottle and feed the child out of that.

But — to my incredulous delight — she unhooked her blouse and then pushed down her ample bra.

Her breasts were large, and very beautiful. I gazed at them as if they were the seventh wonder of the world.

Lifting the child, she placed it in the crook of her arm. Tenderly, she eased the nipple into its mouth. The little lips closed round the giant, rosy nipple, and she stroked its cheek to start the sucking reaction.

Soon the child was pulling away contentedly. She looked down at it, proudly.

Suddenly the child sneezed — the mouth came away from the nipple, and a little drop of milk showed itself, dripping from the nipple.

I started at it. I had heard of mother's milk, and had always imagined that it would be similar to cow's milk — but I found it was not as white, semi-transparent — but still wholly desirable.

The mother noticed my interest. 'Would you like a drink?' she asked, amused.

How I wished I could have taken her offer seriously.

A few years after that, I found myself barred from ladies' bedrooms on account of my age. And the young teenage girls who became

MILK OF KINDNESS

My husband is very happy, but my new sex life is making me feel so guilty, I wonder what your opinion is. Neil and I have taken your magazine since it began as he is a big tit fancier and I like to compare myself with your models. Now I'm a nursing mother and my bust has gone up to a 42" largest cup size. Naturally, the extra three inches, plus the huge fullness, is something my husband appreciates. I have become insatiable, wanting sex several times a day, and almost coming when my baby is full and my husband takes over at my nipples. I've found myself showing off my tits to male friends of ours and even my neighbour's husband when he called round. I've purposefully fed baby in front of them, knowing that's the natural way and no one can guess how I love them staring at my milky boobs. My husband has even started coming home to lunch so that we can have a quick session mid-day. Now my husband is suggesting a threesome with a mate of his who I like and although I've pretended to be horrified it's really getting me turned on the thought of both men at my tits, sucking the left over milk. Do you think there is something wrong with me, and should I make an effort to cut down on my sex?

my companions often had rather flat bosoms — and of course were not pregnant, and had no milk.

It was then that I began to hang about the neighbouring streets, spotting the pregnant women, and then trying to work out ways in which I could spy through their windows as they bared their milk-laden breasts.

Once or twice I succeeded in getting glimpses of them as they fed their children, either up in the privacy of their bedrooms, or in their living rooms while the family was out, and they thought no-one was looking.

It was risky — but I would do anything to catch sight of those bosoms, swollen with milk, being sucked and pulled and caressed by the children.

I identified, of course, with the child — I found the whole thought of the breasts incredibly exciting. As I saw the child sucking, my own lips pursed, ready to lick, and I seemed to remember the whole sweet experience as I used to encounter it myself.

However, this phase of my life soon came to an end. Although I had never actually been caught 'peeping' I saw that in the end, capture was inevitable.

I don't know what I would have done if I had not happened to meet a girl who was pregnant, having broken up with her boyfriend.

We soon became lovers. She was very understanding — though very amused when she found out about my fetish.

'You want to suck them — go ahead,' she said, 'But you must leave some for baby.'

It got to be routine after that for me to make love to her while sucking her milk at the same time. She would actually squeeze the milk out into my mouth, which I loved.

For me, there is absolutely no pleasure in the world like making love to a warm, snuggly woman, while sucking on her tits and feeling the sweet milk seeping into your mouth.

I enjoy squeezing her tits too, you can be sure, and she enjoys this too, even when I hurt her by nipping her big dairy bags hard. It is all part of our love play.

If it had not been for her, though, I am quite sure that I would have ended up in trouble with the police as a voyeur. However, since she is all in favour of a large family, I can look forward to many years blissful drinking of my beloved's milk, which she produces in such abundance.

Dear Sir,

I was very pleased to get a copy of Amazons No. 2, I had thought that, it was a flash in the pan, in view of the long gap between issues, what I would like to know is, if you are going to be a regular magazine or as happens with a lot of these books now and then, if we're lucky!

Yours sincerely
Roger C. Denham.
Bournemouth

Yes, we are working on becoming bi-monthly, but so far we have had problems which have been very delaying, but as you see, not unsurmountable.

ED.

Dear Sir,

My thanks for your recent Super sale list, containing news of your special offers. At the moment 'Busty Ravers' is the only film that I haven't got, and I hope to purchase this in a couple of weeks or so.

I enjoyed the last six films I ordered from the U.S.A. with a special mention of the black girl ELLISA HARMAN — a really sexy negress with a stunning 50 inch tits measurement.

As always I look forward to hearing of any new titles you may have this year — with hopefully some more breast-feeding models on view. I would love to see a film featuring a big breast feeder in a session with a guy, showing her having her tits licked and mauled about by him before she is finally nursed off and shoots her load all over him.

Kingsize special have had quite a few magazines showing this — any chance of a film?

The two new magazines sound extremely interesting and I am enclosing P.O. value £3.50 for 'Fifty Plus No. 1' and 'Amazons No. 1'

I am looking forward to receiving these new publications with great anticipation and await the loads of pleasureable enjoyment to come whilst feasting my eyes on all those fabulous naked women exposing their magnificently developed, big outstanding nipples.

Best wishes for the New Year.

Yours sincerley,
A.W.

Dear Editor,

Thank you for the copy of Amazons No. 1 which arrived by air mail a week or so ago. I enjoyed reading it, though it was quite complicated tracing through the letters which moved amongst the pages rathereratically (as well as erotically). I hope sales go well and that continuity is guaranteed — also that you are able to get new girls. It's always great to see Roxanne Brewer, Gerri (the 'Tit lady') and Annie, but rather many of the pictures in the edition were very familiar — at least to this tit specialist. I hope you get some response from your request for girl-friends', barmaids' or neighbours' bosoms.

A few requests/suggestions: I was a great fan of Vicki Kennedy in the '60s, can we arrange for her to appear in a 'mammary lane' feature? Actually it would be marvellous if we could get follow up stories on some of the retired models. Amongst my current favourites, Mary Waters and Yuma (Yum Yum) Robertson feature very highly and would be amongst my nominations for choice lady of the month — especially if you could get some new shots. I'm very keen also to see pictures of girls with pierced nipples and lactators. The breast lovers' club suggested by J.A.B. of Lancs has possibilities especially if lists of names and addresses (including especially the lady members — 40D minimum) were circulated to members. If the above-mentioned J.A.B. would like to exchange letters, please give her my address. I enclose another piece for you. I hope you manage to use them. Bust wishes,

P. Cook.
