

BIG & BUSTY

NO.1

$3.50

- Making it Big
- Bunny
- Say it in French

SALE TO MINORS IS FORBIDDEN.
THIS IS A SEXUALLY EXPLICIT PUBLICATION PREPARED FOR IN-TERESTED ADULTS WHO BELIEVE
THIS TYPE OF MATERIAL MAY HAVE VALUE FOR THEM AND HAVE A NORMAL CURIOSITY
CONCERNING SUCH MATTERS.

BIG & BUSTY

Copyright © by Golden State News, 1636 W. Adams, Los Angeles, California. All rights reserved. Nothing may be reprinted in whole or in part without written permission of the publisher. Unsolicited manuscripts, illustrations and/or photographs must be accompanied by stamped, self-addressed return envelopes. The publisher cannot assume responsibility for the safe return of unsolicited materials. Any similarity to persons living or dead, or to persons named in fiction or semi-fiction, is entirely coincidental. All photographs used for any purpose in this magazine are posed by professional models, and neither the photographs nor the words accompanying them describe, nor are meant to be understood as the actual personality or conduct of the model.

MAKING IT B!G

A lot of people think that fame and success is everything in the world. Debby has had all the success in the world and it really doesn't mean a thing to her. She knows what it means to make it big!

At one time she was just in the chorus in a New York musical. It was hard work as she was hoping that one day she would be discovered. Of course that was just a dream since her chances were one in a million.

Then one day the star broke her ankle. It was like one of those old Hollywood stories where the chorus girl is asked to replace the lead. Only this time it actually happened.

Of course Debby didn't think she was ready at all. It was true that she knew the routine backwards and forwards. Secretly she had been watching the lead rehearse every night of the week. The director had noticed her and kept this information in the back of his head. When the moment of decision arrived he knew exactly in what direction to go.

That night Debby became a star! Yes, there was no doubt about it. She tapped her way up to the top. Everyone gave her a standing ovation. Debby was so thrilled she almost fainted during the many curtain calls. It was too much for a little girl from the country.

It wasn't long before she was receiving all kinds of offers. Once you make it a lot of people want a piece of the action. Debby was pulled this way and that. She was constantly on a plane going somewhere for an important interview. Her poor head was in a whirl. All she wanted was a little rest, only there was none in sight.

All of a sudden she had many friends offering sympathy and advice. She didn't realize that they surrounded her only because she was enjoying a great deal of fame.

Debby started to pop some pills to get some of that old energy back. It was the worse thing she could have done because now her head was truly in a terrible spin. Too much was happening all at the same time.

Finally the day had to arrive when Debby was too confused to keep going. All her friends who had surrounded her disappeared. They didn't want to be associated with a failure. Debby was on her way down and they were more than willing to give her that extra kick to send her on her way.

Only if you've experienced success can you know the abject despair of absolute failure. Suddenly there doesn't seem to be any reason to live. Everyone and everything has faded away—or so you think. There's still something left but you haven't been able to see it as yet.

Debby was truly going around in circles for many weeks. There was no sense in trying to pick up the pieces because they were all scattered too far apart. At this point in her life she had no idea what was going to happen next.

After a long period of meditation Debby decided to start all over again. Yes, she was going back into the chorus and just be one of the girls all over again. At first it seemed like one big step backwards, then when she got involved with all that backstage activity she became too busy to worry about anything at all!

"Making it big is a state of mind," exclaims Debby. "I never want to be a big star again. There's too much worry and too many people who want to take up your time. Who needs all that when you can have lots of fun just being yourself."

Debby has been at both ends of the pole and she knows what she's talking about. Anyway, she'll always be a star as far as we're concerned.

BUNNY

No one was so full of tricks as Bunny. She always loved to play practical jokes on all her friends. After awhile it got to be a bore and they told her so. Naturally Bunny was very surprised.

"I thought everyone like my little games. The time I turned the hose on at the wedding reception was a million laughs.

And then I tied a horse to the front of a fire engine I thought I would almost die laughing. Why can't other people have my kind of humor?"

Finally they had to take Bunny in a corner and explain the facts of life to her. She had to have consideration for other people. You just can't go around and disrupt other people's lives and not expect some flack in return. It took her a little while to understand this.

Meanwhile her tricks went right on schedule. She decided to attempt some streaking at a local nudist camp. No one had ever done something like that before. It would be the talk of the town.

As soon as Bunny discovered that a lot of her jokes were falling flat on their face, she started to take a second look at herself. Maybe she should change her attitude. Or perhaps she should start looking for new friends. Those were two choices which were uppermost in her mind.

She decided to make one more try with her tricks. This time they would take place at a class reunion. Her old classmates were certainly going to be in for a big surprise!

For two days she went to all the joke shops and bought as much equipment as she could carry and pay for. Everything from a water gun to an exploding pillow was packed in the back of her car. Now she was ready for her big entrance. This was going to be one class reunion which wouldn't be forgotten. Or at least they would all remember Bunny!

Finally the moment arrived. Bunny threw open the door and got a blast of ice cold water right in the face. All her classmates were waiting for her and were determined to play a joke on her first.

At first she was very angry that all her new beautiful clothes were soaking wet. Then when she realized that she had an excuse to tear them all off she was suddenly ecstatic about the whole affair.

No one believed that she would go this far! Then when they saw her standing there before them in the nude they all started to applaud. No one could top that! There wasn't any use even trying.

Once more Bunny had proven that she was the jokester of all times. It encouraged her to continue on with her career as a practical joker. She wasn't going to allow other people to influence her life in such a manner.

People said they wanted her to behave; actually they wanted her to act like everyone else. That wasn't her personality at all. She was going to be herself first. That was the only way to go!

You'll still get a lot of tricks if you happen to visit Bunny. But you'll also have a visit you'll never forget. A pie in the face is one way to get your thoughts all together. And there's nothing like sinking down into a bottomless chair to give you that feeling of togetherness with the universe.

SAY IT IN french

Hopefully you are able to say a few words in French. It's the only way you are going to make any contact with Babette. Unfortunately she doesn't know her way around English too well at the moment. All she can say at the present time is "Yes, please." This has certainly made her a lot of friends in a hurry. But also it has caused a great deal of confusion in her young life.

More than anything she would like to meet a compatible interpreter. It would be so nice to stay in bed in the early hours and learn a new language. Perhaps the teacher could even give some visual demonstrations of the various words. "Play, kiss, roll over," might be a few words to start off the first lesson. Babette would be very cooperative since she earnestly wants to learn the language. Time is short but she does have a king-size bed to make up for that.

Splits

You thought you met everyone, didn't you? Well a whole new busload arrived while you were looking the other way. They are all eager to make some new friends. This group is a lot more interesting. Some have been around the world. Others have bounced on some royal mattresses and love to talk about it. As you can see, this is a most friendly group.

Before you meet anyone, you have to say hello to Gisele. At the present time she is the hottest thing on four wheels. It's hard to believe that something so innocent can be the top racer at the track, but that's the way it is. When she shifts into second, look out!

Unless you make it with Gisele right away, you're never going to get another chance. She's here today and off and running tomorrow! Truly this is the fastest pussy in town!

Maybe you're looking for someone more sedate. I can't promise that Wilma isn't wild at certain times, but she does like to curl up with a book before a roaring fireplace when it starts getting cold outside. And once she gets through the first chapter she likes a pair of warm arms around her to really make her feel completely at home.

There are times when Wilma can become very strange. She might start acting out some of the characters in the book she is reading. It's amazing how her personality will suddenly split without warning. Some guys like this about her. Others feel she's not exactly dependable. But that's her nature and there's little she can do to change it.

Come outside for a moment and meet Nina. Maybe you'll never want to go inside again. Without a doubt she has the most magnetic personality of the group. There's something about her creamy smooth skin that can immediately disrupt your equilibrium. You'll feel like you're in a spin and you're never going to come out. There's no explaining this reaction. Nina can even set asbestos on fire! Don't touch, you might get your fingers burned!

There is no greater sun-worshiper than Nina. She absolutely refuses to wear any clothes if there is the slightest hint of sunlight. Sometimes you can even observe Nina's bare boobs during the height of an eclipse. Sooner or later the sun just has to appear and she wants to be completely ready for it.

There is one peculiar thing about Nina which you should know about from the very beginning. Once she does it nine times with a guy she never wants to see him again. Maybe you might call this fickle but there's no way she can change her habit. You might say that this is Nina's nine nice nose-dives!

TOUCH of GENIUS

It took a long time for people to be aware that Abby was an absolute genius. It was easy enough to see that she had a fantastic body but you had to look closer to see her other talents.

For years Abby was thought to be one of those dumb broads who didn't even know how to boil water. She had that big innocent smile which wiped you out when you first glanced her way. How could anything so foxy have any brains at all? That was the usual question asked.

But then one day she surprised everyone by writing a book. It was called "All About Abby" and was an instant success. She had a unique kind of style and also she wasn't afraid to reveal anything about her life. This was very refreshing since most people try to glorify their dull lives.

No one thought she had the ability to sit down at a typewriter and pound out a best-seller. Actually Abby didn't think she could do it either. She just had the urge and there was no stopping her once she got started.

At first she was going to play down all her wild sex life. People might get the wrong idea. She isn't an anything-goes-girl at all. But she does enjoy going to a lot of parties and meeting new people. "That's a marvelous way to experience life," she explains.

The last eight chapters of the book go into her personal life with all the men she has met. Some names will surprise you. One reason she was able to meet such famous people was her involvement with the international jet set. This was a fabulous way to get invited to many parties.

Traveling all over the world doesn't interest Abby any more. She wants to settle down and write another book. The next one will be titled: "What I Didn't Tell You In The First One." It promises to be just as big a success as the first one. There will be many special surprises included which will amaze many of her close friends.

Writing can be a terrible bore, however, and every once in awhile Abby likes to break loose and just let go for a change.

Once she gets involved in a party she doesn't think about writing at all. "It's a terrific way to relax," she admits. "My mind can go absolutely blank and I just let everything hang out."

Because Abby is so popular she never has any trouble finding places to go when she's in the mood for some excitement. Once she even hopped a jet and headed for Tokyo. A millionaire hotel owner wanted to give her a special tour of his new condominium. It has a high-speed elevator which is guaranteed to take your breath away. Although he has to admit that Abby does that to him while they're standing in the lobby.

It's wonderful to be successful in life but Abby would also like to meet that special someone who would make everything perfect for her. Of course that individual doesn't exist because that's the way it is in life. Still she likes to dream about such a meeting and sometimes even believes it could really happen to her.

No matter what the future might present to her, Abby will always be thankful that she's met so many wonderful friends. That's even more important than having a best-selling book.

