SWEET, BUT NOT INNOCENT

SHOULD A MODERN LADY CLING TO OLD VALUES?

Oh yes, I was raised to believe a nice girl devoted her entire life being kind, loving, sweet and innocent. I'm able to accept the first three virtues but maintaining one's innocence may be counter-productive. From what I see, every young and healthy female has a great need for sexual relations much sooner than the urge for marriage. To ease my guilty feelings, frequently, I dress in a virginal white short nightie and pretend I'm a virgin headed to her wedding bed. I play coy and reluctant as any bone fide virgin is conditioned to do and enter the bed and surrender myself to the new husband waiting to deflower me.

Of course, it's all fantasy but I feel the need to act it out. Somewhere, somehow, I must experience the sensations a virgin bride samples on her wedding night. Hell, all the guys I know would laugh at the idea of both... a virgin and a wedding night.

"My big breasts get me all sexy, too!"

That is why I cannot invite any man I know to play this game with me. I must do it alone and pretend I was fortunate in finding a kind man who loved me so much that he'd wait until we married. Unfortunately, it has been so long since I have lost my virginity that I don't really know if I'm able to imagine the feeling of the first time.

My vivid imagination seldom fails me. I proceed to the love seat first as I assume a reluctant bride would do. A bit of teasing for the benefit of the man holding a giant erection may be of good use besides putting off the inevitable defloweration. I imagine myself exposing my big tits and squeezing them just like my lover did when dating me. Then I finger my wet pussy just as he always did when begging for a blow job. I learned from older ladies that sucking guys off and being fucked in the ass was permissible while protecting one's virginity.

Very shyly, I parted the pussy lips and revealed the juicy pink inner flesh. I know this sight excites every man to the point that they come in their pants. (At least that's what happened in grandma's days.) It is a funny thing, but parting my pussy lips makes me get off, too. Old traditions did not prohibit orgasms as long as not induced by a hard cock anywhere inside a lady. In my case, pulling the nipples sends strong charges of sexual feelings throughout my body and makes me hungry for the taste of spurting cocks. I suppose even the most devoted virgin had a strong yearning for hot cock juices.

"Virginity can be a big waste."

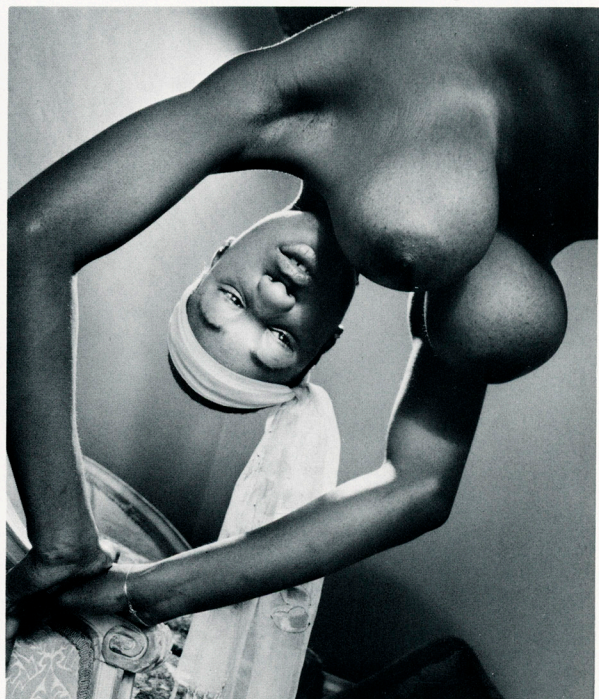

"At times, I get more satisfaction through imagination than the real thing."

In due time, I'm totally nude as I continue showing myself to my anxious lover. I give him a nice peek at my ass hole as I kneel with my butt cheeks parted. I wiggle the rear end and let out mild moans of anticipation while thinking of the good times we've had fucking there. Next, I treat my man with what he enjoys most . . . seeing my big tits hanging and slowly swaying from left to right. My big jugs are very heavy and they move very gracefully. I have yet to find a man who doesn't get hard as a rock when watching my tits move. Of course, I get equally excited looking at the bag of balls bouncing and the stiff cock whipping about as a man moves quickly. Just thinking about this makes my fingers drift back to my cherry-red clit. A few squeezes, long pulls and rapid rubs gets me off sky high as I come. It is such a nice sensation getting off by simply thinking about erotic happenings which often are better than the real thing. Getting fucked is OK but I feel the whole act is much too mechanical. The friction feels good but does not come close to the sensations our mind creates.

"Most men enjoy watching big jugs hang and jiggle."

After the imaginary loss of one's cherry and the ensuing depression, I put on another sexy outfit and sit back feeling sorry for myself. As I sit there mourning the big loss, I go back to pleasing myself the way I know best. Once again, I pull the hard nipples and sense juices flowing from my damaged pussy. Now, that I no longer must protect my innocence, I finger fuck myself with wild frenzy. It feels better than what I experienced on the wedding bed. And that should prove that there's no need to save one's virtue. □

NEEDS LOVE,
SHE'LL DO
WHAT IS REQUIRED

MY BODY CRAVES FOR IT

Some of my friends think I'm oversexed because I need attention from men more often than anyone I know. That is one big reason why I'll never marry. One man, regardless how good he is in bed, will never satisfy me. I need it in the morning, afternoon, evening and night. Actually, I want to make love all the time. Even when asleep, I enjoy a man's penis inside me. I've conditioned my pussy muscles to grasp it automatically the whole night long. Men enjoy this very much because they maintain an erection the whole time and should they awake during the night, they are ready to fuck away while I sleep and smile. I believe any woman can train herself to become a sexual person once they abandon social restraints and go for it. Nature created women with a limitless potential for love making. Their body can take a constant stream of hard penises, produce endless orgasms and become healthier and stronger.

"When a man is not available, I still keep going."

I am very practical about satisfying my needs. I know it is impossible to have the services of a man's cock at all hours of the day. I usually manage making it with every guy I meet or see but there are long spells of famine, as they say. During those times, I take matters under my direct control and keep my pussy on fire. It would be a big tragedy if I allowed myself to cool down one bit.

To keep my motor running, I use all sorts of vibrators and dildos in my mouth, pussy and ass hole. As one hole becomes tired, I move on to the next one. I make these circuits over and over until it is time to go out and hunt for fresh meat. Men are so easily to entice into a fuck. There isn't a man that will say no to a sexy lady as myself. I simply say, as I approach them, that I want to swallow their cock and their come. I know most men don't get enough of this treatment no matter how accommodating his lover may be. Hell, guys prowler the streets at night looking for a good blow job. With my free offer, they gladly fuck me all I want afterward. And when I direct them to my butt hole, some men cry with joy. I had one guy stay with me a full month. He almost fucked himself to death while his wife had a missing person report out on him. I sent him home by taxi and quickly changed apartments and phone number. I did not want him to find me again because he was too nice to die so young. And die he would if he stayed with me one more week. I must admit that he was great in bed. I'll really miss him!

“There is nothing wrong about being horny.”

I wish more women had my attitude regarding sex. If it was so, I would not feel the freak at times. While what I do seems normal to me, I get upset when referred to a being a sex fiend. I don't understand why loving a lot of sex can be considered wrong. In my mind, it is the ladies who hold back are weird. I glow with health and vigor from sex and feel depressed and tired when abstaining. Having sex . . . any sex . . . is the very essence of life to me. I have no intentions wasting energies on dumb activities like bridge clubs, shopping just to kill time, being fussed over by beauticians or manicurists. If women were honest, they would seek the real attention . . . a man's love, understanding and his tongue and cock. I'd rather have my clit licked than having a manicure. I, too, want attention but it must be the real stuff, not phoney substitutions! □

IN NEED OF MORE

ALTHOUGH FULLY AWARE OF HER GOOD FORTUNE, THIS LADY WOULD LOVE ONE MORE PERFECT JEWEL.

When given the opportunity, I like wild sessions in bed with a stud who is well-hung and knows how to use his dick and, of course, his tongue.

Unlike most girls with big tits, I love the attention I receive whenever a guy's eyes concentrate on my chest. When I first spotted my treasure chest, I did not attempt to hide myself in loose fitting clothes or walk slouched over. Instead, I stood up proudly with chest expanded, wore tight-fitting clothes and went bra-less at every opportunity. I drove the teachers crazy as they tried to enforce the school's dress code. I argued that gals with tiny tits got by without bras. Needless to say, I was the most popular female and voted queen of every event.

Eventually, the time arrived when I had to go to work. The same problems followed me. Supervisors insisted I hide my tits after they learned I would not suck or fuck them. One sore loser went as far as to fire me because I refused his offer to fuck between my boobs. It is amazing to know how many guys think a black gal is an easy lay, more so if she's carrying a set of nice and big tits. In spite of the problems I've encountered, the advantage far outweighed any disadvantages. My boobs opened more doors for me, led me to many nice and generous gentlemen and made my life most enjoyable.

It is too bad that girls who have other nice parts cannot show them off as easily as a set of tits or legs. My dear friend, Irma, has the most attractive pussy. Believe me, it looks as if it was created by one of the finest Roman sculptors. Naturally, she keeps it hairless. She went through the pain of having each hair removed through electrolysis. It would have cost her a small fortune, but lucky for her she had it done for next to nothing because the lady was a lesbian and would lick Irma's pussy before each session. Irma is not gay, but getting licked feels so good that she let this lady enjoy it with her. Now, Irma would love to have the world see what she has. She dances in nude clubs but she wishes more people saw what she possesses. I must admit, when I worked with her in same clubs, she'd end up with more cash tips than I, in spite of my great boobs. Evidently, pussy lovers tend to be more generous than tit lovers.

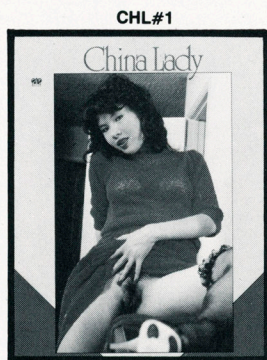

When Irma dances with her pussy mere inches away from viewer's faces, I can see their tongues reaching out for the forbidden lick. I'll bet more guys go home frustrated after watching her act than when seeing any of the other gals. The city we work in has a strong law regarding physical contact. If it was different, Irma would have every guy in the place licking her off.

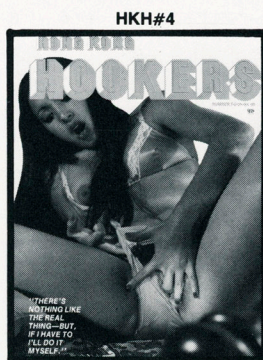

Talking with experts, I learned that perfectly formed cunts are rarer than great tits. Sometimes I wish I had both. My life would be much more exciting and rewarding! □

HOW TO GET A HEAD

*SHE'S A HARD WORKER AND MAKES EVERY

I just came home, all excited and horny from a job interview. Three good looking guys who own a big computer design company took me to lunch and after asking me all sorts of personal questions, agreed to hire me as their personal secretary. They admitted being new in the business and would share me until the company grew to the point when each guy would have his own private secretary. In the meanwhile, it would be I who was the Girl Friday. All three guys are single and from what I concluded, in need of fucking.

I could tell by the way each guy looked at my body. I was dressed nicely with heels, sheer black stockings and a satin dress. I wore no bra or panties and my hard nipples were highly evident as they poked against the fine fabric. I never gave much thought to balling white guys but with the opportunity of doing it with three different men and getting a salary on top of it all, makes my pussy so juicy that I cannot contain myself. I simply must get myself off before starting work tomorrow.

"Her round tits and hot clit needed attention . . . desperately."

“Her mirror image was a big turn-on and most gratifying.”

Heavens! Just thinking of getting laid all day long, first on one couch then the other and finally the last one, makes my head spin with passion. I'm sure the guys are strong enough to go several rounds a day. I know I am more than willing. Lucky for all of us, I type fast and do all the other office chores speedily which give us all the time in the world for sex. My pussy is excited and my nipples tingle as I try to visualize what will happen starting tomorrow. My pussy lips are parted wide open just begging for all three white cocks. My mother has always told me only black guys have great penises, but I'm sure that three white ones should be more than equal to a black one. Besides, my mother really does not know because she never cheats on my father. I'll bet she's never seen a white guy naked.

I presume my three bosses expect me to wear sexy dresses and be naked under them as I was during the interview at the restaurant during lunch time. I'll be more than happy to make my black hairy bush and firm nipples available for easy reach. I can imagine being fondled while sitting in a lap when taking dictations.

When at home, I love to stand almost naked in front of the mirror wall fondling my great body until it is overcome with a shuddering orgasm. I hope there is a mirrored wall at the office for I would love to make sex as I watch the hot scene. I would especially enjoy seeing a man squirting his come on the mirror as I sucked him off. Hell, why think small, I will try getting all three bosses off at the same time. It should be a wild scene as each one splashes on their own reflection. I have thousands and thousands erotic ideas and I have a strong feeling my new employers will go along with me most willingly. Who wants to only work all day with no fun to break up the monotony. I'd hate to see the guys becoming dull considering what I have to offer to them starting tomorrow . . . early in the morning.

I only hope that these guys are willing pussy eaters because next to sucking peckers, I love getting licked and sucked. Wouldn't it be a great party if all three guys decided to lick and suck me at the same time. just imagine three moist tongues searching all my tingling secret places. And I can visualize most vividly, one tongue working my clit, the second prying open the butt hole while the third one playing in my mouth with my tongue. It should guarantee the biggest orgasm of my life.

While this erotic image is going through my mind, I feel my pussy juices trickling down my thighs. And when I feel so wet, I can get myself off just by sucking my nipples. I try not to be too noisy as I have orgasms because my apartment comes with thin walls and the two old guys living there may suffer heart attacks while listening to my wild passion. I hope my younger bosses have strong hearts. They'll need 'em!

"Her fingers were magical performers."

"She spread the moist pussy wide open in an invitational manner."

I love sex. I adore cocks and coming is life's biggest reward. That's why I quit my last job. No one fooled around. Their only interest was making money. I tried to liven up the place but all I got was reprimands for my conduct. I was told to dress conservatively, be quiet and pray. Yes, they manufactured and distributed religious things like emblems, pins, bumper stickers, pennants and gift items. I had no quarrel with what they did for a living but I resented praying for my sins I had not committed. Perhaps they thought I was sinful because I wanted sexual fun on the job.

Maybe they were right but I'm too young to be so serious about life. My hormones dictate that I put my body to good use and to stimulate my system with wild, sensuous and mind-blowing orgasms every time I need it.

"Just dreaming with anticipation made tomorrow seem such a long wait."

There are those who are opposed to sex on the job. Some say a female should file charges against her boss when he proposes a bit of fun time on the job. I agree that a gal should not have to suck in order to keep a job, but what about gals, as myself, who really like to have sex on the job. If the laws become too strict, it will frighten off every sexy and loving man and deprive sexy and willing females of much desired job benefits like stiff cocks for coffee break times. We live in a rapidly changing social values. I suppose we should protect those who need it but overkill with too many laws could deprive others of what they seek and need. I have no shame about my needs. I look forward to being desired by three partners and I intend to serve them well. If their physical needs are satisfied, their minds and bodies will be more relaxed. And everyone knows relaxed people are the most creative. I have every intention to see my bosses become highly successful and to take me along to reap all the benefits of a money-making enterprise. Who knows, if I prove myself over and over again, I may end up sitting as a member in corporate board meetings. I'm sure my contributions will be welcome there since most corporate meetings are stressful and I intend to be the best stress reliever that has ever entered big business. We'll see, starting tomorrow. ! □
