KELI: Becoming Fashionable

Keli Stewart is one of our most popular models, and she has the unique ability to look different every time she appears in GENT. When she first began her nude modeling career, she posed under various names. She figured it might be best, but now she's become very successful in straight as well as nude modeling. Her personality is just as exciting as her career, and she's still 40-27-38.

She's a gorgeous mulatto who's just as sexy fully clothed as she is nude.

Keli's original appearance was in the centerfold of the July '79 issue, and she started modeling under the pseudonym of Doris Watson. But now, she uses her own name in both her modeling and film career, and we predict she's going to be even more popular in the future. Keli says that modeling is an exciting career and she's happy she can do both nude and fashion jobs.

Ask Uschi

Got a problem? Uschi can help!

DEAR USCHI:

For years, I've heard that Joan Crawford, that great-great Academy Award winner, had early in her career starred in some of the raunchiest porno films ever made.

BY USCHI DIGARD

Did you ever see any of them?

—Curious Charlies, St. Paul, Minn.

Dear Curious:

I've heard the rumors, too. But, no, I never did see any such films.

If you ever run across them, though, by all means call me. I'd love to attend a screening. I'm always willing to learn more, you know.

DEAR JUMBO JUGS:

I keep reading that you live out in the land of the Fruits and Nuts, sometimes referred to as The World's Largest Insane Asylum. Squares call it California.

All the weirdest shit seems to start out there. What's the latest extremes in Freak City?

—Pete B., Wilmington, Delaware.

Dear Pete:

Wanna sneak a peek on the freaks, huh?

Okay, you li'l devil, here's the scam: For openers, how about the latest in public fun and games. It's Hot Tub Spas, open to anybody who wants to pay $7.50 to $10 an hour, and the tub is in a private room. You can bring your wife. A girlfriend. Or your pet Pekinese. They don't care.

The only problem, of course, is that these steamy oases for the hot and horny are so busy, if you're second in line, it's like having sloppy seconds. In short, the ring you find around the tub may be from some stranger's cum. And imagine the grit and grime if you're ninth in line.

Although they say the ultra-torrid water will kill all germs, don't be surprised if folks soon are coming home with the excuse that they caught their cute rash, not from a toilet seat, but a pool of passion.

Another local, interesting tidbit that was made public is the story about two prominent Los Angeles doctors. One is a former trustee of a national hospital association, and the other was named Man of the Year by the City of Hope in the late 1960s.

And why are people now talking about them? Simple.

Cops recently arrested them on suspicion of attempting to set up a prostitution ring for M.D.s.

The purpose? So other doctors would steer lots of patients to the four hospitals in the Southern California area that the dynamic duo owns.

The suspects allegedly offered two policewomen plants a $2,000 a month retainer to cop joints, turn tricks, or skip rope for that matter—whatever a kinky doc might prescribe for himself. That such a scheme would be necessary does shatter at least one myth: All those wild rumors about nurses.

Oh yes—want the name of the arresting gendarme? Detective Fred Clapp of the LAPD's Administrative Vice Division.

And what's new in your town?

DEAR MISS USCHI:

I really hope you can help me with my problem. I am 23-years-old and have never screwed a young lady (nor an old one for that matter).

My friend, Rico, is going to set me up with his sister (38-26-40). He tells me she has a beautiful pair of boobs, and a nice big rear end.

I'm going to take her to the movies, and then back to my apartment. I'm hoping to spread her legs before the evening is over. I have seen many pictures of pussy, but I have never met one face to face.

"I am 23-years-old and have never screwed a young lady (nor an old one for that matter)."

I'm not sure what to do. My friend tells me the hardest part is getting the panties off, and spreading her legs. He says the rest is easy.

By the way, he wants to watch. His sister says okay. What do you say?

—Dumb Dick, Cleveland, Ohio.

Dear Dumb:

I say duck when he cums!

Because you know what he's going to be doing when you're doing what you're doing.

HEY, USCHI

Was Marilyn Monroe a whore? A pal of mine, Tony F., who reads a lot, says he saw something recently in the papers that Monroe was a big fucking whore.

I said, "Okay, asshole, if that's true, show me the fucking clip." He couldn't do it. So I think he's shitting me. What do you know?

—Nick the Dago, Queens, N.Y.

Dearest Nick:

I know I'm delighted you have a friend who can read. And I presume without his lips moving.

Now, about MM. Yes, he probably did see that charge in print. There's a new book out about Lee Strasberg, founder and head honcho of the renowned Actor's Studio (Brando, Shelley Winters, Robert DiNero, etc.), and author Cindy Adams, a respected journalist, quotes Strasberg making the allegation.

As to the accuracy of his comment? Who cares?

Unless the thought turns you on.

DEAR MISS DIGARD:

I was put in a strange position last night, and I need your wise counsel. A very luscious girl I've been trying to get into bed—we've had three dates, and she's still saying "Not yet"—well, last night we went for drinks at a very dimly lit cocktail lounge in a very posh hotel here in Lincoln.

And, as usual, we got to talking about sex. You know the kind of talk. Preferences each of us has, what we like to do, what we like to have done to us, what's the most exciting thing that's ever happened, and our most far out fantasies.

I guess you can imagine I got pretty revved up. It sure wasn't magic lifting the table, I can tell you!

Well, the next thing I know she did something no woman has ever done with me before, at least in a public place, and I shot my wad right there.

I mean my pecker really popped. Christ, I came so hard and so full that the wet sticky stuff seeped right through my trousers onto my coat.

I practically ruined my new Johnny Carson suit!

"Next she did something no woman has ever done with me before...at least in a public place."

Well, what she did was to start playing with herself right there. No kidding. We were sitting in a dimly lit place, in a secluded back booth—but only about 10 feet from the bar—and she raised her dress to show me she wasn't even wearing panties, and then she spread her legs to reveal her cunt, and she stuck her finger in.

And then she began to pump it. I saw about five glorious seconds of that, then she pulled her dress down over her bare part—but kept her hand underneath—and kept pumping-pumping-pumping.

It was driving me crazy. My cock rose like a fucking rocket at Cape Kennedy.

She kept at it, her eyes getting more and more glazed, and as she did this, going deeper and deeper, she soon started to moan softly.

I could tell she was getting off. And when she did, can you imagine what happened next?

She took her hand out from underneath and ran it slowly under her nose, all the while sniffing and smiling like she was snorting the best coke in the world.

Then, without a word of warning, she reached over and put that beautiful busy finger right under my nose! It smelled sweeter than honeysuckle in springtime.

"Open your mouth," she said.

Without thinking, I did. And she slipped that tasty finger-fucking digit right in. Quickly, I wrapped my lips around it.

"Suck!" she cooed.

And I did. Oh, Jesus, did I. DELICIOUS!

I was ready to jack off right there. Only problem was I had just orgasmed and I think I would have been beating my meat for nothing. Now here's my question.

My question is. Damn, for a minute I almost forgot my question, which goes like this:

Would you do a thing like that to a guy? Would you?

—Nervous Hubie,
Lincoln, Nebraska.

Dear Nervous:

Not unless I'd want one of my favorite fingers bitten off.

are footballing, reading magazines, novels and interesting books. Others are traveling, radio listening (mass media of communication), and sub-ject discussions.

I have planned purposely to write you this mail for a purpose which is very essential to my future life. The purpose of my writing you is that, I want you to be my "friend-mother."

I have taken such a move at the time when I came across you in GENT magazine. I did read a portion with the topic "Ask Uschi," which was really interested and enjoyable. I did admire your answers to the various questions.

Your answers were brief, but very meaningful.

Howbeit, notwithstanding the logic in your answers, I am forced to ask you two questions: Are you a psychologist? Sociologist? Or just a model?

Until then, I am awaiting your kind and lovely reply. Do it for loving-kindness.

—Kanneh, E., Liberia, West Africa.

Dear K.:

Thank you for your warm letter. Yes, I generally do do it for loving-kindness.

But, judging from the tone of your last question, I'm surprised that you seem to look down on a person if they are, as you say, just a model.

"Who would you rather get advice from: someone who has lived and loved; or a person who has just read about life?"

No, I am not a sociologist, or a psychologist. But who would you rather get advice from? Someone who has lived and loved among many people in many lands?

Or a person who has just read about life? When you get out of school, I'm sure you'll discover what I mean.

DEAR MS. DIGARD:

Is it true that lesbian art is not only being displayed prominently now in major cities, but also reviewed by serious critics?

—J.T.B., Tulsa, Oklahoma.

Dear J.T.:

The answer to both questions is Yes. But, according to one prominent critic, the Los Angeles Times highly respected Suzanne Muchnic, maybe some of it should be put back in the closet. For example, to quote Muchnic: "Kate Millett's nude bottoms with poetry and Tee Corinne's kaleidoscope photographs of embracing women both look like sophomore design-projects."

"Harmony Hammond's cloth-wrapped orifices are insipid sculpture, despite massive proportions. Debbie Jones' self-portrait as a carved wood vagina lined with shells and feathers resembles overcrafted boutique sculpture from the '60s."

"Nancy Fried, who used to make cute bread dough plaques of lesbian fantasies, now makes cute ceramic plaques of lesbian fantasies. Also boutique material."

DEAR USCHI:

Hi, my name is Steve. I am a guy who thinks he has a problem. I am 26, married, and have one child.

I love sex with my wife, but I have to jack off a lot. What should I do about this, can you help.

I love the picture of you in the last issue of GENT. Just looking at you made me horny. I have a big hard cock right now. I am rubbing my fingers all over your body and I am ready to get off.

Hope you can help me real soon.

—Mr. S.T.P., Pittsburgh, Pa.

Dear S.:

Sounds like you're helping yourself.

DEAR USCHI:

You lovely Greek Goddess with the body of love. I would like to know that when a man is making love to you by playing with your pussy and playing with your lovely big tits, how big do your nipples get?

Do they really stick out a lot? Don't duck this question! Do they?

—W.B., Ontario, Canada.

Dear W.B.:

Oh, you Tiger, you! Can Sinatra sing? Can Astaire dance? Does Dracula suck?

DEAR USCHI:

Ever since I was a young boy I've been fascinated by huge-busted women. In my early teens I began having strange fantasies about these women. Very sadistic, too, I'm afraid.

These fantasies always involve eating women's tits, the bigger the better. Lest there be any doubt about what I'm talking about, when I say eating women's tits, I'm talking about cannibalism!

Why this bizarre idea should appeal to me so, I'm at a loss to explain, for I'm a kind and gentle person, other than in these fantasies.

In my fantasies, however, I become a sadist who knows no bounds, tying my busty victims down, biting off their nipples and swallowing them, slicing off their breasts and roasting them for supper, and even roasting them alive.

GENT, needless to say, provides lovely fuel for my fantasies. I couldn't tell you how many times I've devoured your sumptuous orbs Uschi; in my fantasies, of course.

What do you think it all means?

—Tit Lover, Newark, N.J.

Dear T.L.:

Simple. You're sick! But hungry.

DEAR USCHI:

My girlfriend hates my blubbery foreskin, and wants to circumsize me herself. Will it hurt?

—Moby Cock, Mexico City, Mexico.

Dear Moby:

Not if she sharpens her teeth!

KITTEN: Through The Eyes of Love

Here's the spectacular star of movies, magazines and stage, Kitten Natividad as seen through the expert eye of Russ Meyer, movie-maker of great talent and photographer extraordinaire. Great artists have always done their greatest works when the subjects were also objects of love, and we imagine that the attraction was intense as he focused his camera on Kitten. We've featured her many times before but we think you'll agree that these photos are some of the best of this Mexican beauty that you've ever seen. There were so many great photos that we didn't have room, so for even more of Kitten, see the November issue of Cavalier magazine.

Born "Francesca" in Juarez, Mexico, Kitten was raised in El Paso, Texas where she grew up to be a 5'3" beauty of incredible—43E—proportions, weighing in at a hundred and twenty-two pounds. At her high school in El Paso, she was an ROTC major and became a cadet/captain. She probably resigned because she couldn't keep her military blouse buttoned. In the early 70's, Kitten staged a number of "Bikini Walks" around the country including Florida's Bayfront Park and soon she was being billed as "premier striptease" in some the choicest supper clubs in the country. It was at LA's famous "Classic Cat" that she was spotted by Russ Meyer and began her spectacular film career.

DEE DEE: Her Name Says It All

We've been getting a few letters to The Mail Slot over the past several months wondering why we don't run more photos of black girls. Unfortunately, we don't receive as many photos of black women as we'd like. But, this time we think we've found a real winner. Her name is Dee Dee Daily, and she's well qualified for nude modeling. Dee Dee works as an exotic dancer, or stripper as some guys call it, in California at a well known nightclub. Her routine is always great.

Dee Dee considers herself a true professional, and her act is just about guaranteed to please any man.

Dee Dee has been stripping for about three years, and she thinks it's a wonderful profession for a woman. According to her, it's the only way to make a living. "I used to be a secretary, but that got pretty boring. Stripping never is, because you always know that you're making people happy."

Being a stripper, Dee Dee knows the best ways to make herself pleasing to men.

As you may have noticed, Dee Dee has a small lump on one of her breasts. At one time, she thought it might be cancerous but it turned out to be merely a cyst. She says that it was one of the scariest and most traumatic things that ever happened to her. Thankfully, her breasts are still big.

Another Side of Patricia

Patricia has been a GENT girl only once before, in our May '79 issue. We wanted to see more of her, because she's got all the qualities we look for in a model. First of all that great set of 43-inch jugs, but there are a few more subtle qualities too. Like a winning smile and a warm personality; a combination that really works in nude modeling, and real life too.

Although Patricia didn't mention it during her last appearance, she was a track star in college, in addition to being a pretty good student. Working out during her athlete days is probably what makes her look so shapely today, and she says it's helped her in a lot of other ways too. "Being an athlete makes you appreciate your body more, and you have a better understanding of what you're body is capable of. I still try to exercise every day, and it has definitely improved my outlook on life, and my body too." We can't imagine her body being any better.

"When two people who are in good physical shape get together, there's a certain chemistry they have... It makes sex great."

Patricia says that all the running she did has paid off in other ways too; men appreciate a girl who's in good shape. And she likes her men to be the same way. "The more I worked out, the better my boyfriends in college liked it. Most of them were athletes too, and we had a good time working out, and doing other things besides." Well, that certainly sounds interesting. And, according to Patricia, "Sex is like anything else—if you're healthy, you perform well." We're giving Patricia the opportunity to show everyone how well she can perform in her upcoming GENT film, which we'll be advertising soon. Be sure not to miss it.

LAURA:

Up From Down Under

Laura is an Australian from Sydney we featured in the October '79 issue of GENT, and we couldn't resist bringing her back for an encore performance. As you might remember, she works on her own as a tour guide, and does a little modeling on the side. We can think of a lot of guys who'd like a private tour of her, especially in bed. Laura says that she likes men in general, but she has a preference for American men. Which is a good thing, because those great 42-inchers make her appealing to any red-blooded American male. Laura says that American men tend to be more polite and fun to be with than Aussies, and they've got one other thing she goes for. She likes her men to have an attractive ass, and for some reason American guys have better looking behinds, according to her anyway.

• f course, Laura has higher standards in a man than just a shapely behind. A lot of other things are important too. She likes a man who appreciates her with respect, and a little intelligence. She's too smart to be taken in by the stuff men usually say, and she doesn't go in for an overabundance of compliments. But if a guy has the right approach, the sky is the limit. "American men must be used to feeding their woman a lot of nonsense," she says. "They're always being flattering, and they expect to get a woman in bed just by compliments. That's nice, but I like guys who are direct and honest. If I like a man, and he simply tells me that he wants to sleep with me, that's more exciting than anything else he can say." Well, we can probably all use a little advice, especially with Laura as the prize. She could make a guy's efforts seem worthwhile, and after all, she doesn't ask for that much. All she wants is to be treated like a lady.

Rosemary's Return

One of our readers requested another set with the beautiful and sexy Rosemary, and we promised more photos of her. When a woman is as gorgeous as Rosemary, we're always glad to feature her again. Her last appearance was in the April '80 issue of GENT, and she told us that she had always thought her breasts were too big for nude modeling. Rosemary is a 39D, just an inch short of our usual requirement, so she's definitely not too big for GENT. We're happy that she has decided to continue her nude modeling career, and she can always count on a warm welcome at GENT. She may not be a 40D, but she is an incredibly sexy looking woman.

Rosemary says appearing in GENT has been one of the best things that has ever happened to her, and she is very happy to have had the opportunity. Her social life has improved since her last appearance, which she doesn't mind at all. Apparently, a lot of her men friends got pretty excited when they saw those great photos of her, and she's had more dates than she can handle. "I'm surprised men are so curious about what I look like nude after being in your magazine," she says. "But, I'm amazed how popular I've become after the last modeling session. I guess it's because many of the guys just aren't satisfied only seeing pictures of me. They all want to see the real thing." Well, that's understandable. We can't blame a guy for trying. Rosemary says she's being selective, and she doesn't really go for men who only want to see her nude. She's got more to offer a man, and she likes someone who appreciates that. "I'm flattered if a man likes my body," she says. "But, there's more to making love than that. It's a much better experience if the guy likes you as a person. That really turns me on."

CANDY GOES PUBLIC

This is it—the spectacular new set of the great D-Copper, Candy Samples. Candy hasn't been in GENT for four months, but it's well worth the wait when we get photos like these. The idea of doing the shooting in a parking lot was entirely Candy's idea. According to her, several people walked over to see what was happening, and it's certain that they weren't just seeing another modeling session. Candy says that revealing her stunning body in public has always been a big turn on, for both her and her fans. And what could be more public than a parking lot? You can be sure that when those big tits are being displayed, no man could ever resist watching her.

Candy is just as uninhibited as she is beautiful. Why conceal those great 50 inches?

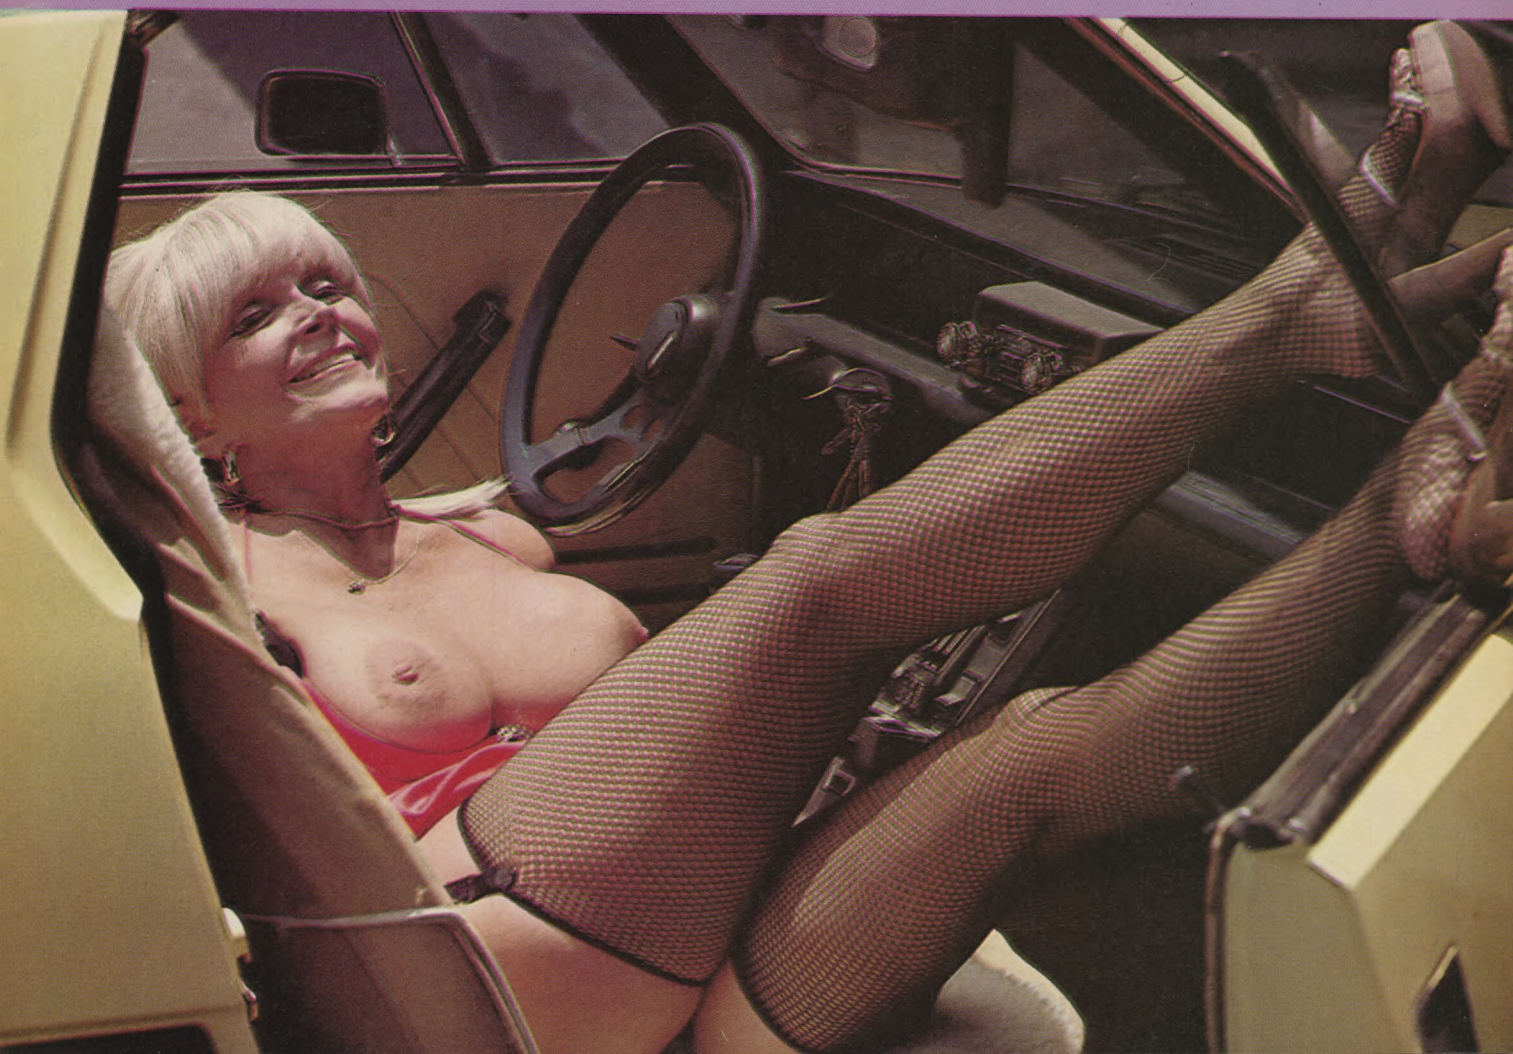

Candy is still staying busy with her films and nightclub act, and she doesn't plan to slow down. One thing is very certain—no one can ever get enough of Candy, and she aims to please her many fans. Her first love is still performing live, and she says that as long as people keep coming to her shows, she'll keep doing them. "Working live is even more exciting than being in my films," she says. "There's an immediate response from the audience, and the more they're turned on, the better I work."

Candy appears mostly in clubs around California, and she has an act that should not be missed. Also, if you ever happen to see a large crowd forming around a voluptuous woman, be sure to take a closer look. Candy is unmistakable, and to watch her do a modeling session would be any man's dream come true. No matter where she is, Candy is always great!
